IMPORTANT MEDICAL APPOINTMENTS

Leading Canadian Physicians Become Consultants to the Muskoka Sanatoriums

The trustees of the National Sanitarium Association have announced to the Medical Profession in Canada that they have appointed Dr. W. P. Caven, Dr. J. T. Fotheringham, Dr. H. B. Anderson and Dr. Harold Parsons consultants to the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium and the Muskoka Free Hospital. These well-known physicians will spend a day regularly once a month at the Muskoka Homes. The visits of Dr. Parsons, who has charge of the tuberculosis clinic at the Toronto General Hospital, will be made every two months.

FLESHERTON.

At last writing we reported the very serious illness of Mr. Fred Strain at Great Falls, Mont., but before many of our readers learned of it the sad news came that he had passed away. Referring to the deceased the Great Falls Daily Tribune said: "Mr. Strain was a native of Flesherton, Ont., but following his graduation from the University of Michigan law school he had located in Goldfield, Nevada, for the practice of his profession and a bright career seemed to be opening to him when he was stricken down while on a visit to San Francisco. He was brought to this city by his brothers that he might have the closest attention from the members of his family and the best of medical care, but his fight against disease was futile. The funeral took place from the home of his brother, Herbert, and the casket was almost completely decorated with a wealth of floral tributes, which manifest the high esteem in which the young man was held by his former classmates and others. The service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Martin, pastor of the First Methodist church, who made a short address closing with a very pretty tribute to the character of the deceased. He was a member of the Elks Order and the lodge quartette sang "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "The Vacant Chair." The numerous friends here of the bereft family deeply sympathise with them in their sorrow".

Artemesia council met on Friday last as per statute to wind up the business for the year, Deputy Reeve McKenzie presiding. The chair of the Reeve, the late Alex. Muir, who passed away since last meeting, was appropriately draped and a resolution of condolence to the bereft widow and family, was adopted by the council.

Division Court was held in the town hall on Saturday. Judge Widdifield presiding. The sitting was short, during which the following cases were heard:

Rev. Richards, formerly of Eugenia, vs. Williams. Action on promissory note of $13.00. A contra account was allowed and judgment was given to plaintiff for $2.00.

Becker vs. Ferguson. — Action on piano purchased. Judgment for plaintiff $101.25.

Wurts vs. Durham Furniture Co.—Action on contract for $62.00. Adjourned till next court.

Cook vs. McKinnon.—Action for $50.00 damages sustained by animal getting into well. Judgment reserved.

Born — At Lucknow, on Friday, December 15th, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tate, a daughter.

Rev. Peter Campbell, of Eugenia, exchanged with Rev. Wellwood and preached in the Methodist church on Sunday morning. It was Mr. Campbell's first appearance in the Flesherton pulpit, and his edifying and deeply impressive discourse was much enjoyed by the congregation who hope to hear him again.

Mrs. Habert has gone to the city to visit her daughter over the holidays.

Mrs. Vandusen has gone to Chicago to spend a few weeks with her son who is in poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Thompson moved last week to their former home on the farm, and Mr. Hartley is now catering to the public in the Park Hoouse.

Miss Irene Gaudin, niece of Mrs. W. H. Thurston, who is a high school student here, was seized last week with a nervous breakdown, and upon advice of her physician she has been taken to Toronto for treatment, which her friends hope may soon prove helpful. Miss Florence Thurston accompanied her and is spending a week with friends in the city.

The sad news was received here last week of the death at Port Huron, Mich., on the 21st ult., of Mr. Lawrence James Johnston, eldest son of the late Mr. W. H. Johnston, whose death we reported two weeks ago. Only four days intervened between the death of the son and the father, the former succumbing to ptomaine poisoning. He was but 23 years of age and a highly respected young man. Much sympathy is felt for the bereft family. The widow and mother was formerly Miss McDonald, who lived near Priceville.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid bazaar last week was very successful, the proceeds being about $95.

The Methodist W.M.S. had a quilting bee in the school room of the church on Monday afternoon, completing a missionary quilt for donation to the Society. After the sewing came refreshments and a pleasant social time.

A quiet marriage was solemnized in the Methodist parsonage on Wednesday, Dec. 7th, when Rev. H. E. Wellwood, B. D., joined in wedlock Mr. Wm. Harrison, of Dromore, to Miss M. Myers, of Glenelg township.

Municipal matters are warming up in Artemesia and Nomination Day will doubtless put a good grist of candidates in the field.

Word was received here on Monday of the sudden death on the 12th inst. of Mr. Wesley Kells, at Calgary. The deceased, who was a son of the late Thomas Kells, leaves a widow, formerly Miss M Canham, Meaford Road, and several of a family. Mrs. J. L. McMinn is a sister.

A Merry, Merry Christmas to The Chronicle's readers.

Methodist Church of Canada Dissatisfied with Local Option

"LOCAL OPTION SEEMS QUITE IMPOSSIBLE"

(Extract from report of Committee of Methodist Church of Canada, on temperance, prohibition, and moral reform.)

Once again, such a statement, coming from such a source, will hurt the feelings of a good many of our Local Option friends, and they have our sincere sympathy, but truth is mighty, and must prevail, no matter how it stings. Local Option is one of the biggest farce ever imposed upon an intelligent community. This is the view expressed by many strong prohibitionists. They fully recognized that intoxicants will be with us intil the end of time, and that is forever, so why not regulate it according to law. Under Local Option, there is no regulation, according to our police court statistics. Under Local Option the wife or mother of a drunkard has no protection; under Local Option men are made drunk by vile and poisonous liquors; under Local Option, boys partake of the black bottle; under Local Option, the town is divided against itself; under Local Option, men have refrained from attending divine worship; under Local Option, perjury is prevalent, and a wholesome disrespect of law is fostered; under Local Option, that personal freedom, of which Britishers have [illegible] oasted, is impaired; under Local Option, whiskey is consumed in wholesale quantities; under Local Option, light wines and beers are unattainable. Nothing but whiskey! whiskey!!! whiskey!!!! and then some more whiskey!!!!! Away with this octopus on the 1st day of January.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The commencement -exercises were held in the town hall, on Thursday evening of last week, and much interest in the event was manifested -by a large attendance. A good program of choruses, drills, recitations, etc., was rendered by the -students, and brief addresses were delivered by Dr. Farquharson and others. A very pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of the High and Normal school Entrance Certificates, the medals and diplomas.

Mr. Jas. Farquharson was presented with the Entrance to Normal medal, awarded by Principal Allan.

The Entrance medal, to the candidate taking the highest standing in South Grey, -awarded by Dr. Jamieson, was presented to Miss Marguerite Hutton.

Miss Jennie Kelsey was the winner of the Durham School Board Scholarship, which entitles her to a year's tuition free.

John McIlraity - received the Scholarship from Form II to Form III. and Ray Farquharson won the Scholarship from Form I to Form II.

To show their -appreciation of Principal Allan, the Model school students presented him with a very handsome Morris chair.

In the program, the Merchant of Venice, in five acts, was well played, and three songs by six pupils were well rendered and well received. Florence Bryon and Mary McAlister gaveeach an excellent recitation. The proceeds were to be applied towards paying for the school piano.

On Sunday, Rev. Ben. Spence, Secretary of the Dominion Alliance put considerable enthusiasm into the temperance workers by his able sermon in the Methodist church in the morning, and his addresses in the town hall in the afternoon and evening. At 3.30, a mass meeting was held in the hall. The attendance was not large, but a most forceful address was delivered in favor of local option, which the speaker showed was working well in all parts of the province, judging by a large list of testimonials he read from Mayors and Reeves in different municipalities where the act is in force. In nearly every case, the towns were reported as prospering, hotel accommodation good, and local option had not injured business. In fact, of the 45 or 50 telegrams, only three places said that business was injured. Collingwood said the hotel business was injured; Kingsville said the division court business was injured; and Bruce Mines reported everything injured. Mr. Spence spoke with no uncertain sound as to the possibility of enforcing the act; it had been enforced elsewhere, and it could be enforced in Durham. A member of the audience asked for the report sent in by the Mayor of Durham, to which he replied that he hadn's even received the courtesy of an answer. This touched Mayor Black, who took the platform at the close of the meeting and gave as his reason that the telegram was not signed. Mr. Spence said it was sent out by "The Pioneer," and was signed in the name of the paper, just as the Globe or any other newspaper would do. He told Mr. Black he would take his answer from the platform, but Mr. Black did not feel disposed to give it in that way, and from the feeling of the meeting Mr. Black was largely in the minority, and he felt, as any of us should have felt under similar circumstances, that it isn't prudent to fight a man at his own game. At the night meeting the hall was packed with a very attentive and enthusiastic audience, and Mr. Spence delivered his address in a very forceful manner.

Don't forget that the famous Canadian Jubilee Singers will appear in the town hall, Christmas night, under Methodist auspices. Admission 25c. Reserved seats 35c.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that we had at St. Andrew's S.S., Chatham, Mr. Robt. Clarke, the Ventriloquist. His entertainment was of a high order throughout, and enjoyed by all. We have no -besitation in recommending him to any that are thinking of putting on such an entertainment as he provides.

..Yours sincerely,
J Roy Van Wyck,
Minister.

D.J. Patterson,
S.S. Superintendent.
