SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VI.—Second Quarter, For May 12, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke vi, 27-38; Rom. xiii, 8-10—Memory Verses, 27, 28—Golden Text, Rom. xiii, 9—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The topic of this lesson is "Love," and the pattern is "the love of God." At first sight the teaching is most extraordinary and the practice seemingly impossible and beyond all reason. Great grace might enable us to love our enemies, do good to those who hate us, bless those who curse us and pray for such as despitefully use us, but when it comes to lending, without hoping for a return, giving to every one that asks and letting the man that takes your cloak have your coat also it does look like a good time for tramps, impostors, thieves and robbers. We know that the righteous Lord loveth righteousness, and anything unrighteous He would not do nor ask us to do, so we must prayerfully wait upon Him for clearer light upon this teaching. According to verse 35 and Matt. v, 45, the object is that we may be manifestly "the children of the Highest," "the children of our Father which is in heaven." It is therefore not a matter of what is expedient or according to reason, but how can we as the children of God make people to know our Father, God. He was teaching His disciples (verse 20), those who had received Him as the Christ, the Son of God, and had left all to follow Him, those whom He was to leave in the world in His stead, that because of them the world might believe and know the only living and true God and Jesus Christ, whom He sent into the world to manifest Him (John xvii, 8, 11, 21, 23). It is truly a high, holy, heavenly calling to represent God and Christ in the power of the Holy Spirit and be so alive to their interests that we shall be wholly dead to our own.

The love of God and of Jesus Christ is the greatest thing we ever heard of, and there are no more wonderful statements concerning it than John iii, 16; 1 John iii, 16.

Put with these "God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us." "In this was manifested the love of God toward us because that God sent His only begotten Son into the world that we might live through Him." "He spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all." "Christ loved the church and gave Himself for it." "The church of God which He hath purchased with His own blood." "The Son of God loved me and gave Himself for me" (Rom. v, 8; viii, 32; 1 John iv, 9, 10; Eph. v, 25; Acts xx, 28; Gal. ii, 30). In the light of such tremendous statements consider the treatment that He received when here in humiliation and even as He taught our lesson of today. He was in the world which He had made, but it knew Him not; He came unto His own special people Israel, but they received Him not. Their rulers had no kind words or thoughts for Him. They said that He had a devil and was mad and that He deceived the people, and in their hatred they finally killed Him, accusing Him falsely and giving Him no semblance of a fair trial (John i, 10, 11; vii, 12, 20; viii, 52; x, 20). Yet He bore it all patiently and did not talk back or strike back, though He might have swept them off the earth with a look or a word, as He will do at His coming in glory to set up His kingdom and share it with His own redeemed ones (Isa. xl, 4; II Thess. ii, 8; Col. iii, 4; Rev. iii, 21).

Now, considering that by such love and by the sacrifice of Himself He has at such infinite cost and by such suffering, bearing our sins in His own body, made all who receive Him children of God and joint heirs with Himself, partakers of His kingdom and glory, does it not look a good bit easier to love, to bless, to help others for His sake, to give, to lend, to do good, hoping for nothing again, to serve those who cannot serve us in return? Do we not feel like saying as Mephibosheth said of Ziba, "Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my Lord the King is come again" (II Sam. ix, 30).

Our Lord never encouraged wrongdoing, and we may be sure that He would not have us do anything to encourage injustice and oppression, theft or robbery or idleness or anything of the spirit that would wrongfully take the property of another. But He would have us show in our daily life that we have such treasure in Himself and in His kingdom that we are ready to use all present things for the good of others if only we may win them to Him, bearing meekly any loss or cross for His sake. The love of Christ constraineth us to live no longer unto ourselves, but unto Him who died for us and rose again (I Cor. v, 14, 15). Since Paul could take pleasure in infirmities, in the bearing of insults, in distress, in persecutions, in grievous difficulties, for Christ's sake (II Cor. xii, 10, Waymouth), the same grace is at our disposal, to enable us to reckon all loss as mere refuse because of the priceless privilege of knowing Christ Jesus as our Lord. Does it not seem as if we could lend or give or go or bear any loss because of such love and because of His kingdom? Let our one question be "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" and our motto "Just to please Jesus" and we shall not be apt either to transgress or come short.

WILD OATS AND FALSE WILD OATS.

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, there is a type of more or less harmless wild oat that is frequently confused with the true wild oat, which is recognized as being one of the worst of weeds. This publication, prepared by Mr. Norman Criddle, describes field experiments with these two plants and explains by means of charts and descriptive matter, their distinguishing characteristics. According to this authority, it is a comparatively simple matter to distinguish the two sorts in the growing stage as the false variety shows the same manner of growth as the cultivated oat, while the true wild oat exhibits a different habit. In the seed form, the difficulty of telling them apart is greater more especially in so far as some of the smaller varieties of the false wild oat are concerned. With the larger sorts, the difficulty of distinguishing them is more easy as an experienced eye will at once detect the false wild oat by its larger size and its usual close resemblance to the cultivated variety in which it is found. Generally speaking too, the outer seed coat is more open in front with cultivated forms and false wild oats so that the inner coat is broadly visible, whereas, in wild oats, the edges of the outer coat almost meet. Readers interested in distinguishing wild oats from false wild oats would do well to write to the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa for a copy of Bulletin No. S.7.
