LIBERALS STAND BY BORDEN.

The Anti-reciprocity League of Canada was revived at a meeting in Montreal last week. There was a fair attendance. Speeches were delivered by Messrs. W.K. George and G.T. Somers, of Toronto. Mr. George said he did not believe any of any political sagacity could believe in the possibility of reviving reciprocity, although Sir Wilfrid Laurier had recently declared himself still a believer in it. He declared that if there was one thing which would drive the independent Liberals into permanent and firm allegiance with the Conservatives it would be this policy. He himself, after the last election, had assured Mr. Borden that as long as he continued to give Canada honest, fair and decent responsible government, he and those who thought with him would give that Government loyal support, and Mr. George declared that he thought Mr. Borden was making good, and standing in better repute with thinking people every day. He, however, thought it would be extremely difficult to ever again bring up reciprocity, because it would be long before any other American President would commit himself to any agreement similar to that which was so thoroughly kicked out last September by the Canadian people.

A similar speech was made by Mr. Somers, who declared that the last election campaign had driven many people out of the party ranks, and that they would in future oppose any party, Liberal or Conservative, which touched reciprocity. For this reason, he insisted that the League should not enter politics at all. A letter from Z. A. Lash, K.C., of Toronto, strongly endorsing the continued activity of the League, was read.

OWEN SOUND MAY BUILD THE RAILROAD TO MEAFORD

Mayor Lemon, of Owen Sound, has made it known that he is favorable to the town guaranteeing the bonds, or actually building, the Owen Sound-Meaford railway, and it is more than likely that the matter of submitting a by-law to the ratepayers will be taken up at the next council meeting.

This is the first indication that something material will be done in the matter, though it has been agitated continually during the past decade.

It is almost certain that a large majority of the citizens will be in favor of the scheme, as it provides the only outlet for eastern-bound traffic from Owen Sound without going to Toronto and doubling back, which makes it impossible for local manufacturers to compete with a full measure of success with those who are more advantageously situated.

GLASGOW SECOND IN EMPIRE.

Glasgow is proud of the fact that she is now really "the second city in the empire," with a population of over a million. But it has cost her eighteen days' hard fighting in the committee rooms of the House of Commons, and an expenditure of $250,000 on lawyers and witnesses.

It has been achieved by extending the boundaries so as to absorb Govan, Partick, Pollokshaws, and sixteen smaller suburbs within the city administration.

But even now the pinnacle gained is a precarious one. Birmingham, with its surroundings, comes close behind. Calcutta and Bombay have more inhabitants, though their skins are colored, so perhaps they count at a lower ratio, while if Manchester incorporates Salford and her other offshoots, she will beat all competitors outside London. But for the moment Glasgow is satisfied and so are the parliamentary lawyers who adjust these matters before the House of Commons select committee for handsome fees.

INCREDIBLE.

At least such a report as that which follows, to the Worcester, Mass., Telegram, seems impossible. We cannot imagine the ignorance of the value of the robin to the farmer which must exist where this is permitted. To us in the North to kill a robin would be like killing a canary in its cage. The letter is from South Carolina: "The robins were found after we had been in the cane-brake about thirty minutes, and then the slaughter began. They were blinded by the glare of the torches and also cold and numb after their long flight, and it was an easy thing to pick them off the brake. Those that roosted too high were knocked off with the paddle. We did not enjoy it very much. It seemed too much like murder. We killed 132 robins, 3 blackbirds, and 2 bluebirds." We are glad to say that the representative of our American Humane Education Society in South Carolina, who travels far and wide lecturing, has been asked to attack this outrage most vigorously.—Our Dumb Animals.

DO THOUGHTS PROTECT FEET?

Prof. Bell, inventor of the telephone, told me that, when driving in the provinces in extremely cold weather, when he was in great danger of having his feet frozen, he was able to send an extra supply of blood to them by concentrating his mind upon them, and thus saved himself from a very painful experience.—Nautillus.

HEN NURSES TINY KITTENS.

At a farm in the Dregghon district of Ayrshire can be seen the uncommon spectacle of a hen nursing kittens. At the head of a byre a hen made its nest in a bunch of straw. A cat subsequently made it the home for a number of kittens. When the hen found its nest occupied it attacked the cat and drove it out of the nest, afterwards being seen to enter the nest beside the kittens and brooding them by tucking them beneath its wings. When the hen departed the cat returned to the nest and did its turn of nursing, and this has been a daily occurrence, the hen returning for a time each day to the nest, when it would peck off the cat, although careful not to molest the kittens.

COOKED TO DEATH IN STATION CELL.

Cooked to death in a cage in the west-end lockup in Sault Ste. Marie, in sight of fire-fighters, was the fate which overcame a Poleander, name unknown, shortly after 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning of last week. The man had been put there in an intoxicated condition, early in the evening, to await removal to the central police station.

Apparently he had dropped a lighted match, which ignited the bed. On the arrival of the department the place was in flames and the man could plainly be seen first running about the lockup, and then attempting to crawl under the bed as the flames got to him. The outside door was securely locked, also the inside, and the only person having a key was the night patrolman, who could not be found.

THE HARRISTON REVIEW DOESN'T LIKE CIRCUSES.

The Review has a generous offer from a Yankee circus that is going to give a show somewhere to let us and Mrs. U. in free in exchange for ten dollars' worth of advertising. Will the degenerate disciples of the great P.T. Barnum never get wise to the fact that the Canadian printers are not a lot of Reubens who carry hay to the elephant and water to the dromedary to get a pass into the show.

A HOT ROAST FOR SLEEPY ADVERTISERS.

It makes no difference whether your order for printing be a small one or a large one so long as the work is being done at home—meaning the town where the business is being conducted. The printers have awakened to the fact a large amount of printing which could be executed in any print shop is being purchased abroad and all that remains for the local paper to do is to hand out column upon column of free advertising to the business or family or something in which the man who takes our sap elsewhere is interested. Now this style of doing business is going to be buried in so far as the newspaper is concerned. If at any time you desire to know the home town take a look through the paper and if you cannot find the name of a certain business man or company you can rest assured that it's a dead one.—Harrison Review.

SOUTH BRUCE LICENSE INSPECTOR IS DEAD

Walkerton, June 5.—Benjamin Cannon, license inspector of South Bruce, died early this morning of pneumonia, at the age of 72 years. He was a prominent Conservative. He leaves two sons, Dr. Cannon of Stratford, one on the old homestead in Brant, and two daughters.

A SKILLED WORKMAN.

The foreman of a large iron-works was short of laborers one morning, and as a last resort, went to an old tramp, who was lying asleep beside one of the furnaces, and roused him with the question: "I say, my man, are you wanting work?" "What kind of work?" asked the tramp. "Can you do anything with a shovel?" "Yes," replied the tramp, rubbing his eyes. "I could fry a piece of ham on it."

HANDING OUT A HINT.

A woman and her house were busied up lately in Springfield, Mass., through ignorance of the two common facts that gasoline left open will quickly fill a closed room with a highly explosive gas, and that rubbing silk will produce a spark. The woman left a silk waist soaking in gasoline in a bowl in a bathroom to clean. After a time she went back to the room and began rubbing the silk between her hands, causing a spark which ignited the vapor gas and blew up the place.—Insurance Bulletin.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE HAAG CIRCUS TRAIN.

An attempt was made last Thursday morning at St. Catharines, to blow up the Haag show train just as the loading operations were about completed. At the Geneva street depot of the G.T.R. a quantity of nitro-glycerin or dynamite was exploded on the roof of a car containing elephants, three of which were injured, but only one seriously. The shock was heard over the entire houses in the locality were broken. The balance of the train suffered no damage to speak of. The elephants' car was so badly torn that it had to be unloaded. The train proceeded to Galt.

The management has offered a reward for the capture of the perpetrator. The police are looking for a former circus hand, discharged at Niagara Falls on Saturday.

CHESLEY INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION RE-ORGANIZED.

Chesley Industrial Association has been re-organized. At a meeting called by the President on Monday evening there was a fair turnout of business men. It is not generally known that an Industrial Association exists in this town. As a matter of fact, it is doubtful if, up to Monday night, such an organization was in existence. But it was not dead entirely—only dormant—and the president, M.A. Halliday, arose from a long sleep, shook his first lieutenant, the Secretary, and a meeting was called by Wilkins Bros. proposal to purchase the woolen mills. It was decided to place the membership fee at 25c.—Chesley Enterprise.

GENERAL BOOTH IS NOW NEARING TOTAL BLINDNESS

London, June 5.—In a message to the Salvation Army yesterday, General Booth, the commander-in-chief, who recently underwent an operation for a cataract on his left eye, says that in a few hours he may be compelled to announce to his comrades that he is hopelessly blind. The other eye has apparently been affected. The doctors still cherish the hope that he may be able to distinguish light from darkness, but beyond that there is not much hope that the eye recently operated on will ever prove of any practical utility. General Booth was born in 1829.

DEATH OF THOMAS BLACK.

The following account of the death of Mr. Thomas Black, brother of Mayor Black of Durham, is taken from Thursday's Free Press: The death occurred in this city Tuesday from paralysis of Thomas Black, of Durham, formerly of London, third son of the late Alexander Black, of Colborne street. He is survived by one brother, William Black, mayor of Durham, and three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Taylor, Detroit; Mrs. Thomas Wheatley, Detroit; and Mrs. Thomas Bland, Toronto. He was a member of the Wingham Masonic Lodge, No. 286.

The funeral was held this morning at 11 o'clock from Ferguson's undertaking parlors to St. Andrew's cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Ross, of St. Andrew's church.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XI.—Second Quarter, For June 16, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xi, 2-19. Memory Verses, 5, 6—Golden Text, Luke vii, 28, R. V.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

According to the harmony of the gospels, the Sermon on the Mount was followed by His using Simon Peter's boat as a pulpit and then filling their net with fishes after a night of fruitless toil. After that came the healing of the leper and the palsied man, the call of Matthew and the feast he prepared in his own house, the healing of the impotent man at Bethesda, the man in the synagogue with the withered hand, the night of prayer, the choosing of the twelve, the sermon on the plain, the healing of the centurion's servant, the raising to life of the widow's son and much teaching day by day. Whether this is quite correct as to the order of events or not is not all important if we can by faith see ourselves day by day with Him who, being anointed with the Holy Ghost and with power, went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the devil, God being with Him and doing through Him the miracles and signs and wonders (Acts x, 38; ii, 22).

There was one great and good man who did not see these wonders of His power from day to day, for he was shut up in a prison for the truth's sake, but he heard of them and evidently wondered why the one upon whom he had seen the Spirit descend like a dove and remain upon Him, who, he had been told by God, was the Messiah and whom he had pointed out as the Lamb of God (John i, 31-36), did not deliver him from prison, for it had been predicted concerning Him that He would proclaim liberty to the captives and the opening of the prison to them that are bound (Isa. lxi, 1). As far as we know Jesus never visited John in prison nor sent him any message up to this time, and the father of lies was no doubt very busy with John questioning the way of God and the love of God and insinuating that, after all, John must have been mistaken in pointing out Jesus as the Messiah. If John had not been in some way and in some measure offended with Jesus would He have sent him the message He did, "Blessed is he who ever shall not be offended in Me?" (Verse 6.) To the question of John through the two disciples whom he sent, "Art thou he that should, or do we look for another?" (Verse 3) Jesus in that same hour wrought many miracles and said, "Go your way and tell John what things ye have seen and heard," and then He added the word about not being offended (Luke vii, 20-23). At one time Jesus said to the Jews, "If I do not the works of my Father believe Me not, but if I do, though ye believe not Me, believe the works that ye may know and believe that the Father is in Me and I in Him" (John x, 37, 38). All this is in accord with last week's lesson on the necessity of works as an evidence, and doing always precedes teaching (Matt. v, 19; Mark vi, 30; Acts i, 1; iv, 20; Luke xxiv, 19). Notwithstanding all His mighty works on behalf of Israel when and after He had brought them out of Egypt, they were constantly being offended with Him and murmuring against Him. They spake against Him, they believed not in Him, they provoked him, they forgot Him, and many a time He, being full of compassion, turned His anger away from them, for He remembered that they were but flesh (Ps. lxxviii). What a picture of ourselves and how much we need that absolute confidence in Him and obedience to Him at all times which will keep us from ever being offended (John xvi, 1-4).

The disciples of John having departed, Jesus said to the multitudes that John was no reed shaken with the wind nor was he such as live in kings' houses, gorgeously appareled and living delicately, but he was indeed the messenger predicted by Isaiah, and no greater prophet was ever born of woman, and if they had received him he would have been to them Elijah. Compare Matt. xvii, 12, 13, but do not fail to notice in the preceding verses that the real Elijah is yet to come. The saying, "He that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he" (verse 11), has perplexed many because they have not noticed the meaning of "in the kingdom" and have not understood that the kingdom cannot come until the king comes back again. Then the least in his resurrection glory will be greater than John was, and John himself will be greater than he ever was before. The kingdom was at hand when Jesus was on earth. It was in their midst in His person, as He said in Luke xvii, 21, margin, but they did not recognize Him or it, but by force resisted it. It treating John and later Himself and doing to both as their rebellious, wicked hearts prompted them. He therefore told them plainly that the kingdom would not come at that time and not until His return (Luke xix, 11-13). I am continually perplexed by statements from men who ought to understand about the extension and the advancement of a kingdom that is not yet begun. Neither John nor Jesus Christ can please some people, and the number of those whom the Bible does not suit seems to be increasing, but the word of the Lord stands, and "wisdom is vindicated by her actions" (verse 19, Weymouth).
