TRAVERSTON.

'Tis most happy news to the many friends in town and surrounding country, that a bright baby girl was born to Dr. J. Malcolm McCulloch, and his estimable wife, in Peterborough, on June 7th. Hearty congratulations, "Mac."

To be made happy for the rest of the summer, attend Zion Sunday school's big picnic on Friday, June 28th.

This should prove a profitable year for the rearing of frogs. There is no lack of water and tadpoles abound by thousands in every ditch and stagnant pond.

The latter half of June is a farmer's paradise. There are barn-raising, picnics garden parties, Farmers' Institute excursions and road work. Of course there is nothing to do on the farm during these delightful diversions.

News has reached us of the death of a former old resident of this part, who for many years lived on the farm on which No. 5 school is situated, namely, Mrs. Thomas Henry, who passed away at her son's home near St. Helen's, on May 27th, at the age of 77. She was born in Belfast, Ireland, came to Canada in childhood, was wedded to Thomas Henry in 1854. He died six years ago. The surviving members of the family number four sons, and four daughters, as follows: George, of West Wawanosh; Thomas and Robert, of Ashfield; William, on the homestead; Mrs. Joseph Hackett, Mrs. John Barkley and Mrs. William Irwin, of Ashfield, and Mrs. T. Agard, of London.

A wide circle of friends will recall many kindnesses received from this most hospitable pioneer of bygone days.

Mrs. T. E. Blair has more energy and business stability than a dozen ordinary, modern young matrons. During parts of the last two weeks she has had Mr. T. H. Lever, of Flesherton, with his cement mixer, and a big gang of men, employed putting in cement floors in the mammoth barn and its annexes. Mr. Lever has a thorough knowledge of such work, and has made a neat, commendable job.

Will Laughlin has been driving a nicely-mated pair of 2-year-old colts since last winter. Lately he disposed of them to Mrs. John McArthur, of the 11th con., for $325. Possessing fine musical talents, both vocal and instrumental, Mrs. Wm. Beaton was treated to a handsome Doherty organ last week by her appreciative hubby.

Miss Muriel Goodwill, a bright student of Markdale High school, is home for the summer holidays.

The popular teacher of No. 4 school, brightened the home of his aunt, Mrs. John Greenwood, one night lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Currier returned to their home this week, after a pleasant two weeks' outing.

The Hooper Bros., Miss Bertha and Mr. Gordon Geddes, were guests of the Greenwood families the first of the week.

Over a score of our young folk and a private picnic to Wilder's Lake on Thursday afternoon of last week, and were highly entertained and most hospitably treated by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McFadden, Mr. D. Hamilton was generous to them by granting them the use of one of his boats.

McCabe entered for cement right of way. The Court adjourned to call of chairman.

After adjournment the council met, all members present, the reeve in the chair. Minutes of former meeting read and approved. Payments made as follows: W. G. Watson, burial of late Wm. Seaton, $28; Geo. Newell, repair of bridge, lot 1, con. 2, N.D.R., $2; James McGillivray, repair bridge, lot 3, con. 3, N.D.R., $1; Archie Calder, work by order of pathmaster, $5; Robt. Nelson. $100 was granted to improve Murray's hill. A committee of the council, consisting of the reeve, Lindsay and McMillan was appointed to rebuild the McGillivray bridge. The council adjourned to July 6th, at 10 a. m. J. S. BLACK, Clerk.

FORCE OF THE SEA

Terrific Power Is Generated When a Cyclone Rages.

THEN THE WATERS RUN WILD

All Regularity of Wave Motion Ceases as the Sea Bursts Its Bounds—Granite Blocks Weighing a Thousand Tons Tossed About Like Pebbles.

A pond troubled by a pebble gives a comprehensive idea of the mechanism of the perpetual motion of the ocean, now slow, regular and majestic, running from horizon to horizon, now rushing in ungovernable fury against the land. When a pebble falls in a pond it produces a fine circular line, which widens, multiplying until stopped by its boundaries. Just so is produced the surging of the sea.

To judge from appearances, the swells transport the water toward the circumference of the pond. In point of fact they do nothing of the kind, as is easily proved by a match or splinter of wood being cast upon the water. The match is hardly raised or lowered by the passage of the swell. The action in evidence is simply the transmission of motion, not the transmission of matter.

The fine waves of the sea are generated by the wind as fine waves are generated by the wind when it ripples a field of grain ready for the harvest. The waves that run over the field of grain are real waves, often waves in fierce action. The spears of grain are immovably fixed to the ground by their roots, but every blade transmits its oscillatory movement to the next blade. Just so liquid molecules are formed.

In the middle of a vast ocean, such as the equatorial Atlantic, for instance, great regular undulations are seen multiplying in parallel like the furrows in a vast plowed field. On the broad ocean the liquid mounds of the sea rise with every swing with more or less even regularity.

The mariner's imagination has given the great waves of the high sea the reputation of fabulous height. Reliable authors have talked of waves mountain high and of waves 120 feet in height. Exact measurement has given a closer estimate.

The waves of the high sea, of the major oceans, attain the height of fifty feet under the exceptional conditions of a tempest in the vicinity of Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope. The surges here estimated are those in free circulation on the high seas.

When a wave, whatever its strength or its weakness, meets a solid obstacle, whether that obstacle be a rocky cliff or a ship, the swell rebounds to extraordinary heights. Lighthouses are often swept by the sea from base to summit.

The length of waves is between twenty and thirty times their height, and the slope of the sea's hills is very gentle. A wave sixty feet high is somewhere between 1,000 and 1,200 feet long.

At the axis of the revolving tempest called a cyclone there are many wave systems, moving in all directions, meeting and combining. When the cyclone is in action the sea is said to "burst its bounds."

At such a time all regularity of wave succession ceases, and the sea runs wild, with force beyond human power to estimate. Blocks of granite weighing from 1,000 to 1,200 tons are caught by the sea and rolled like pebbles to distances of 300 feet and more, and sea walls are splintered as by hatchets. The "live power" of a furious sea is estimated by multiplying the mass of the surge by the square of its speed.

When the surf, impelled by the drive of the broad sea, meets a solid obstacle its pressure is thirty tons per square meter of water. This estimate, which is close, explains how water, when continually sapping the foot of a cliff, breaks down the land, forces back the shore line and little by little, constantly and surely, increases the sea's domain.

A wave from 33 to 35 feet high and 625 feet long—such a wave as the sea produces every eighteen seconds—represents power of about 1,350 horsepower, steam, per square yard.—Harper's Weekly.

Orators and Stimulants.

It is believed that no modern legislators keep themselves up to the mark in the same dangerous way as some of their predecessors in the British parliament. "Huskisson told me," writes Lord Broughton, "that Lord Castlereagh and Lord Liverpool both took ether to keep them going when speaking. He also told me that he once asked Mr. Wilberforce what made his fingers so black, and Wilberforce told him that he was in the habit of taking opium before a long speech, and to that," said he, "I owe all my success as a public speaker."

A Suggestive Song. "Miss Soulsby has not a particle of tact."

"What has she done now?" "The other evening when Mr. Jaggles, who is notorious for not paying his debts, asked her to sing she went to the piano and sang "Trust Him Not!"—London Telegraph.

Not Affinities. Mistress—And why did you leave your last place? Maid—Me and the missis was not congenial.—Harper's Bazar. It is a wise man who knows when he does not know.

A MARTYR TO HAY FEVER

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured After 15 Years' Suffering

CORNWALL CENTRE, ONT.

NOVEMBER 27th 1911. "I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and took their treatment, and I tried every remedy I heard of as being good for Hay Fever but nothing helped me.

Then I heard of "Fruit-a-tives" and decided to try them, and I am thankful to say that this remedy cured me completely. To every sufferer from Hay Fever, I wish to say—"Try Fruit-a-tives". This medicine cured me when every other treatment failed, and I believe it is a perfect cure for this dreadful disease—Hay Fever!

Mrs. HENRY KEMP. The real cause of Hay Fever is poisoned blood, due to the faulty action of the bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-tives" cleans the blood by regulating bowels, kidneys and skin—and thus relieves the excessive strain on the nervous system. Try "Fruit-a-tives". 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c.
