PRICEVILLE

Cool weather during the past week, which suits the grain crop well, for it gives it time to fill up properly. Haying is done in general, but some are not quite finished, on account of the late rains. More hay in the country than people expected a month ago. Late roots are backward, but the rains of last week will give them a good start, and before the middle of October they may be a fine crop.

A number took advantage of the cheap fares by going to see friends at a distance.

Miss Bertha McIntyre, of Toronto, arrived home on the 3rd, to her uncle's, Norman McIntyre's, south line, where she intends to stay for a couple of months before returning to the city.

Mr. D. McDonald, teacher, spent a few days visiting friends at Toronto, and called to see friends at Woodbridge and Vellore, township of Vaughan, when returning.

Miss Ada McLean, of Toronto, is spending a month with her uncle, John McLean, and other friends at Top Cliff.

Mr. Wm. McLeod, sr., returned home to his son's, Wm. jr's, last week, after spending a couple of months with his daughter-in-law and family, and brother, at Stayner.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Humphries, a pastor years ago in Priceville Methodist church, paid a short visit, to see old parishioners, and others. Mr. Humphries would see a change on the people. Lots older, and lots died, since he was here.

The Rev. Mr. Milligan, late of Flesherton, preached a couple of sermons in the Presbyterian church here, as the pastor, Rev. Mr. Matheson and family are away, taking short holidays for five or six weeks. The Rev. Mr. Lane, of Bond Head, our doctor's brother, will preach two Sundays, and then the Rev. Mr. Leese, of the Methodist church, will preach Union services the last two Sundays, and Rev. Mr. Matheson will return the compliment by preaching for Mr. Leese, when the latter is away on his holidays.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Samuel McDermid, of Top Cliff, took a relapse, and is laid up again, after a long siege of sickness. She is on the mend again. Mrs. Donald Graham, who is suffering yet, after a severe attack of sciatica, and other ailments, is able to be up now, although unable to do much of her household duties. Mr. Graham thanks kind neighbors, for attendance during Mrs. Graham's severe illness.

A big time is expected to be in our town on Monday, Civic Holiday. We suppose there will be enough for the press this week, without giving an account of the proceedings of the day this week. We will be mailing this before the affair comes off, so we cannot give an account at this time, unless some of the promoters will undertake to send on Tuesday, the 6th, and if not, we will promise to give as well as possible, an account next week.

Mr. Jas. Watson, of Cheboygen, Mich., rented D. G. McLean's blacksmith shop in this town, and is carrying on the business there now. Mr. Watson intends, in the near future, to move his family to Priceville. In olden times, he was a regular correspondent to The Chronicle, and we hope he will resume the work again, when he gets settled down as a citizen.

Our popular hotel man, Mr. McGrath, is busy taking off his hay crop on his farm at Glenelg Centre, for the last couple of weeks, where he has a bumper crop. Travellers who are necessitated to patronize Mr. McGrath, will find abundance of hay to feed their hungry horses, and lots of good things for themselves to appease their appetites.

"Were all medicines as meritorious as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly decreased," writes Lindsay Scott, of Temple, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

FOURTH LINE, A. & G

Wedding bells are faintly tolling. Mr. Herb Robinson, who has been on the sick list, is, we are pleased to see, able to be around again.

The unwelcome auto is seen in our burg quite frequently of late. Miss Jean Hunt, missionary, was a guest at Mr. D Harrow's, a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Loates, of Toronto, are spending a few weeks the guest of the latter's mother, Mrs. H. Stone.

The well drillers were engaged at Mr. Geo. Campbell's last week. Miss Kate Fletcher is the guest of Miss Elsie McLeod, Priceville. The trustees have engaged Miss Maud Taylor, of Chantry, to wield the birch for the coming term.

We were pleased to hear from the esteemed Bunessan cor. again. Keep the good work going, C. We congratulate Mr. Will McArthur on his success at the recent High school exams. We understand Will intends to go to Stratford Normal school.

We are sorry to report Mrs. T. Irwin on the sick list, but hope to soon hear of her recovery.

WOMEN DISPLACING MEN.

Considerations of economy have induced the German postal authorities to approve a plan by which 8,663 girls and women will gradually supplant men on the staffs of the different branches of the administration.

Despite a numerical addition to the staffs, the women's salaries are so much lower than those of men that it is figured a saving of over $1,500,000 annually will be effected.

HIS SECOND CENTURY.

From The Markdale Standard.

On Lot 17, of the Ninth Line of Euphrasia, there resides a venerable patriarch who, if he lives until next January, will attain his one hundred and first year. Mr. John Henning is his name, and when we interviewed him the other day he said he was in good health, and suffering from no physical ills. His mind and memory are as bright and active as ever, and his conversation is marked by neither the childish reminiscence nor the idle repetition which usually mark the old man. A well-chiselled face, devoid of the deep wrinkles which many have at sixty, is set off with a flowing beard, and though his sight is not as good as formerly, his general appearance is far from being that of the worn-out veteran who has survived all his contemporaries.

He was born in 1812. His birthplace was near Newry, in County Down, Ireland, where his father, Samuel Henning, was a farmer. His mother's maiden name was Mary Newell, and he was the eldest of her six children.

The first things he can remember were circumstances connected with the war with Napoleon. He recalls the sensation occasioned in his home by the enforced absence of his father, who in order to release other men for the field at Waterloo, was obliged to join the Yeomanry. When his father returned he brought home a musket, which his son John, the subject of our sketch, shortly afterwards ruined in trying some original experiments, which he laughingly described. When 16 or 17 years of age, he joined the Orange Order; so that will leave him an Orangeman of more than eighty years' standing. At the age of 19 he left home to seek his fortune, and worked for several years in England and Scotland. In the latter country he aided in building the great Caledonian railway from Edinburgh to Carlisle. Subsequently, he took to the sea, and worked not only with the fishing fleets around the coasts of the British Isles, but also upon the freighters which ran from Belfast to Dundee, and to many other ports in England and Scotland. He speaks like an experienced seaman, who know something of tide and tempest, and he was the witness of the wreck of some noble vessels.

On coming to Canada Mr. Henning settled first in Simcoe county, near the site of the present town of Alliston. Later he came to Euphrasia, which then was a forest wilderness. His wife, who died some thirteen years ago, shared all his pioneer experiences in this new land. Her maiden name was Fitzsimmons, and they were married in County Down, by the Rev. Mr. Burnside, a minister of the Presbyterian church, to which Mr. Henning belongs. Nine children survive of the union. They are Mrs. Nixon, of Thornbury; Mrs. R. Ferris, Collingwood; Mrs. G. Leppard, Etoon; Mrs. W. Irwin, and Mrs. A. Ormsby, Euphrasia; Samuel, Etoon; Alex., Artemesia; and John and James, of Euphrasia.

Many a fellow wears his Sunday clothes seven days in the week.
