There will be no services in Trinity church, and St. Paul's, Egremont, next Sunday.

Dr. D. S. Craig sold out his household effects on Saturday and intends going west for a time. He will not leave, however, until after the Durham Fair. During his absence he intends to put a qualified veterinary in his place.

At the Baptist picnic held at the park on Tuesday of last week, Miss Maud Kress fell from a log into the river, and narrowly escaped drowning. Resuscitation took some time, and for some days the young girl felt the effects of her sudden dip.

Any person wishing to take boarders during the Model school term is requested to notify Principal Allan, or Mr. C. L. Grant, at once, so that modelites or students may be placed with as little trouble as possible when the school re-opens.

The Walkerton Telescope says: "In the Walkerton branch of the Merchants Bank, there is a total of $335.39 unclaimed, and at the Bank of Commerce there is $7.60 coming to one Chas. McCarter, of Durham." Who is Chas. McCarter? We fancy it is the late Chas. McCarter, merchant, who died here about three years ago.

The Public Library Board purchased the lot immediately to the north of the new building, and will do some excavating to improve the grounds. Immediate action is necessary to prevent the water running in and injuring the foundation. The books were recently removed to the new building, which has a very pleasing internal appearance.

We regret to learn of the destruction by lightning on Saturday last, of the barn and contents of Mr. Wm. Andrews, about three miles from town. The storm, which occurred about noon did not seem to be a very severe one, but it did its work of destruction in a very short time.

Two cases of whiskey addressed to Dave Kinnee, two cases to Ben. Warner, and two cases to a man named Pallister, arrived a few days ago at Flesherton Station. Kinnee and Warner got away with theirs, but Pallister's was seized. Inspector Halbert, of Markdale, went after Mr. Kinnee to Rock Mills, but soon learned he was after the wrong man. Ben. Warner has been dead for some years, and the man who used his name is also unknown to the authorities. "John King," to whom the whiskey was sent here, wasn't as smart as Dave and Ben., or constable Whelan wouldn't have to stand guard over it every night, since the seizure was made here some weeks ago.

The general impression is that there will be a redistribution bill at the next session of the Dominion Parliament. The Toronto News claims to have received information to the effect that the representation for Ontario will be only four fewer than at present, instead of six, as formerly thought. The whole membership of the Dominion will be 235, instead of 221. Quebec is, as at Confederation, to be the basis of representation, and have 65 members. The other Provinces will be represented as follows: Ontario, 82 (4 less); New Brunswick, 12 (1 less); Nova Scotia, 16 (2 less); Prince Edward Island, 3 (1 less); Manitoba, 15, (10 more); Saskatchewan, 16 (6 more); Alberta, 12 (5 more); British Columbia, 13 (6 more); Yukon, 1, the same as at present.

Clubbing rates with city papers will be advanced after Sept. 1.

Rev. Hiram Justice, a Holiness elder of Fort Smith, Ark., drank carbolic acid at a Baptist prayer meeting which he had interrupted to demonstrate the superior power of his own sect in prayer and his belief in the Biblical passage that proper faith need fear no poison. He is dead.

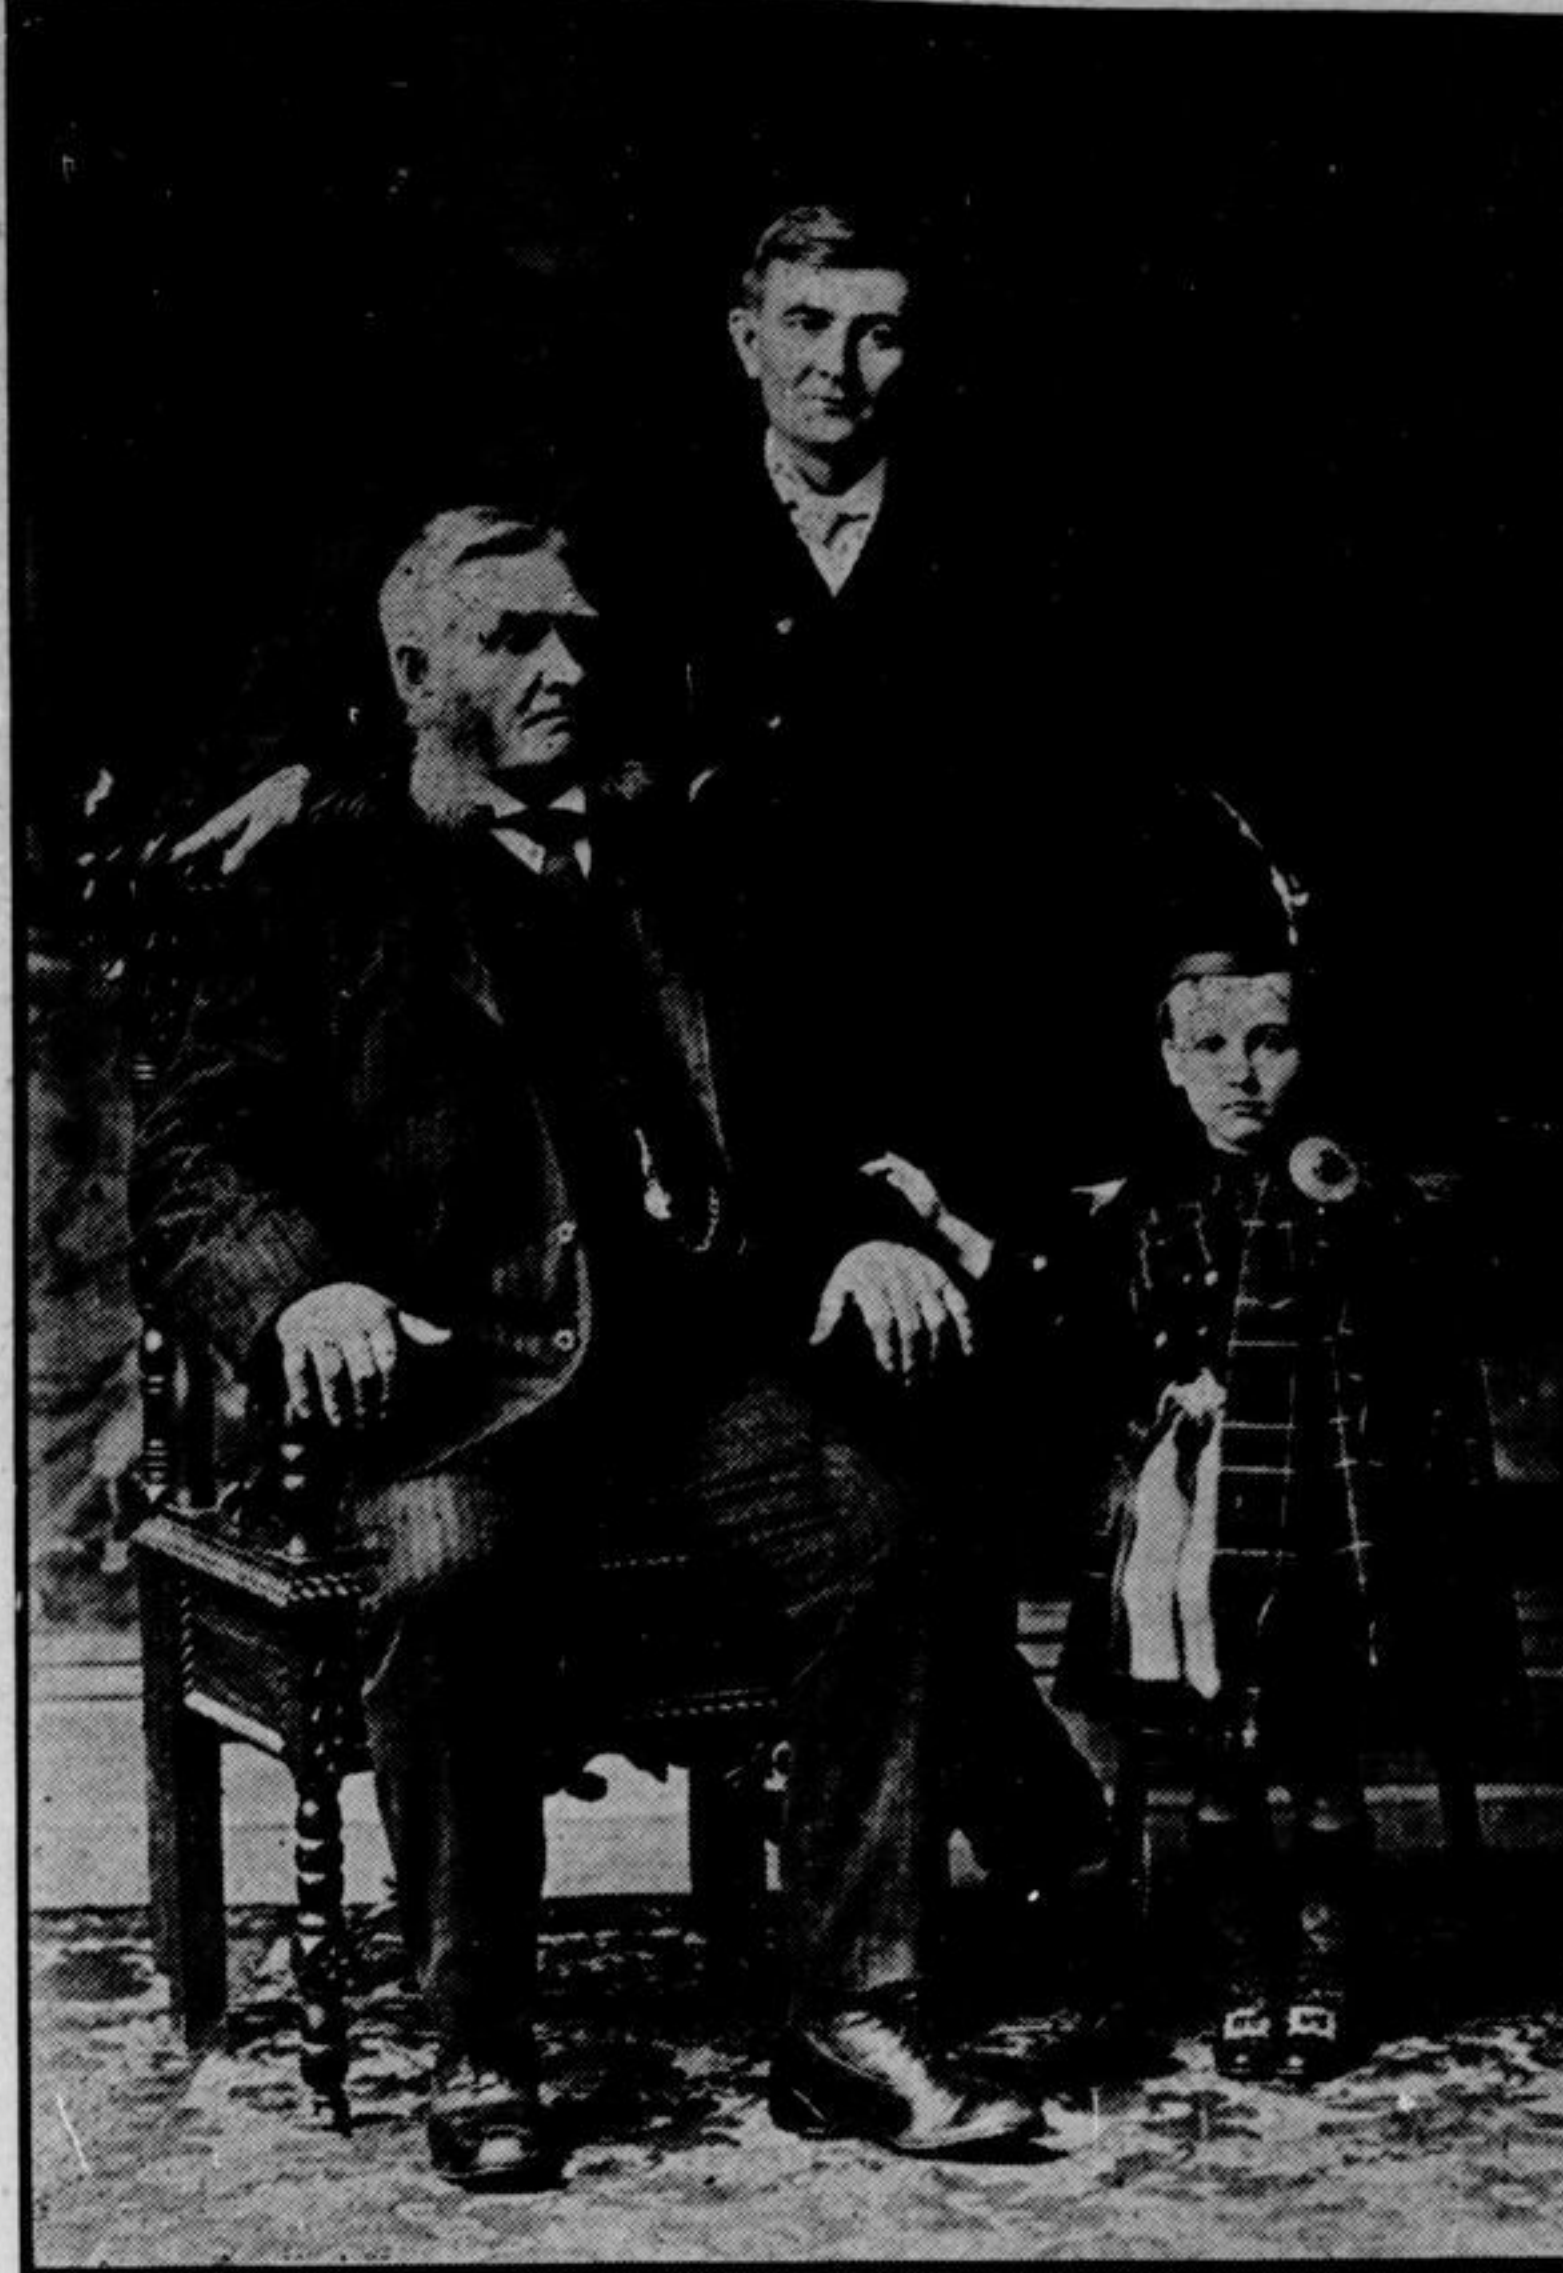

The following left here by C. P. R. on Friday last on the Harvester Excursion train. All were ticketed for Winnipeg, but will go from there to other places where labor is in demand: Max Allen, Mrs. Allen, Reuben Wells, Lorne Allan, Reggie Sharp, Wm. Williams, John Johnston, Hugh McLean, Wilfrid Nichol, Percy Daniel, Alex. McDonald, Wm. MacKay, Chas. Proctor, Jas. A. Alexander and family. Bert. McDonald, Mary Pust, Dan. McGillivray, Harry Gray, Ralph Harrison, Mike Burns, W. McCrie, T. Gray, Thos. Derby, Mrs. Grace Henderson, Miss Grace Henderson, John McNally, Lorne McNally, Mrs. Dennett.

Mr. Donald Graham died very suddenly at his home in Priceville. He was in his usual health, and had partaken of a hearty dinner. As he pushed his chair from the table his wife asked him if he would have another cup of tea, to which he replied in the negative, and expired without further warning. For some years the deceased had been troubled with weakness of the heart, and was careful not to exert himself only as little as possible. Though death from heart trouble was not unexpected by the family, the awful suddenness with which it came was a shock to the community. Interment took place in Priceville on Tuesday afternoon, and was largely attended, quite a number from Durham being present. A short obituary has been contributed by our Priceville correspondent, and appears elsewhere. The Chronicle joins in extending sympathy to the sorrowing family.

FIELD CROP COMPETITION

On Monday and Tuesday of last week Mr. D. Smith, of Nottawasaga, Simcoe County, judged the fields of oats entered for competition by members of South Grey Agricultural Society. There were twenty-two entries located in all the four townships, necessitating a good deal of travelling to reach them all. Mr. Smith, who has been four years at this work, has by experience and previous training on the farm and elsewhere, become very proficient along this line. He had a difficult task to perform as many of the fields were good, and of very even quality, but he scored the fields carefully and expeditiously, and no doubt the result is as nearly correct as it is possible to get it. The names of the prize-winners, with their total scores were left with the Secretary. Full scores of all the fields will be issued later in pamphlet form, and sent to all competitors.

The following is the list of prize winners with their score:
1st—Dan Edge, 86; 2nd—Wm. Smith and Sons, 85; 3rd—Archie Park, 83; 4th—R. T. Edwards, 82 1-2; 5th—W. Scarf, 81; 6th—W. A. Livingston, 80; 7th—W. L. Dixon, 79 1-2.
The first five are eligible to enter in the Sheaf Competition at Toronto and Ottawa.

THE LATE DONALD GRAHAM

We give above a photo showing three generations in the Graham family; Donald Graham, who died Saturday last, at the age of seventy-three years, from heart failure, his son, Donald Graham, and his grandson, Donald Graham, son of Mr. John A. Graham, Secretary of the National Portland Cement Company, of this place.

OBITUARY.

DONALD GRAHAM.

On Saturday noon, August 24th, Mr. Donald Graham, a long and widely known resident of the township of Glenelg, died at his residence in Priceville, at the age of seventy-three years.

Mr. Graham was one of the pioneers of Glenelg, coming with his father and family to the north line to lot 23, concession 3, in the year 1851, and to him, as to a great number of boys coming to the woods, the hardships of life were experienced.

About ten or twelve years ago, Mr. Graham retired from farming, and took up his residence in Priceville, where he and his estimable partner lived in comfort ever since.

Nineteen years ago, his first wife died, which was a severe blow to him, but a few years later, he married Miss Annie McInnes, who proved to him a kind and faithful life partner, and now that she is left lonely, she can truly reflect on the past, that she has fulfilled the vows she gave at the marriage altar, by being a true and faithful wife, and she can say the same, that in Mr. Graham she had a true and faithful companion.

In religion, Mr. Graham was a Baptist, being baptised by the late Rev. Robt. McIntyre when a young man of some eighteen or twenty years of age. The worship at the family altar was never forgotten by Mr. Graham. It is quite a common occurrence that many neglect this duty, but Mr. Graham was faithful to the end. He leaves a lonely widow, two sons, John A., of Durham, and Donald, in Port Arthur, and one sister, in Quebec. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon to Priceville cemetery, and he will be laid beside the remains of his first wife.

DONALD McRAE.

Mr. Donald McRae died at his home in Priceville on August 17th after a long illness of years duration, borne with Christian patience, at the age of about seventy-five years.

Mr. McRae was a long resident of this locality, coming to Glenelg some fifty-five years ago, and living near Pomona. He moved some years ago to Artemesia, and later to this village, where he ended his days. Mr. McRae was of a kind and obliging disposition, a good neighbor, and a dutiful husband and father. In religion, he was a Presbyterian, and when able to attend, his place was seldom vacant in the church.

In politics, he was a Reformer, but liberal in his views, by not being too much of a party man.

He was a native of Argyshire, Scotland, and was born in the highlands in the Isle of Uist. He leaves to mourn his loss, a lonely widow, five daughters and two sons. The daughters were able to be present at the funeral on Monday, the 20th inst., to McKinnon's cemetery, south line, Artemesia. The funeral obsequies were conducted by Rev. Mr. Leese, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lane. As Mr. Lane intended to leave on the evening train, he could not be present at the graveside.

GET IN LINE

There are many people in South Grey who do not make the use of their own Fall Fair that they should. It is not only the prize which is won that is the good received, but it is the incentive to do better for another year. The winner knows that if he has to keep his place in the front rank of prize winners he has to keep getting better crops and better stock, while the loser knows that he must do better than he did this year if he has to win next year. There are many who do not show that have better goods than are at the Fair, but they think they have little or no chance for the prize and leave their stuff at home. This has been a peculiar year for the farmers, and if a few of the latter fellows would come out and show their goods, some of the old exhibitors would go home with a little less money than they did in former years, but with a determination to do better and not allow a newcomer to beat them out again. Send to Secretary George Binnie at Bunnassan, for a copy of the prize list and get your articles into show shape as soon as possible.

It is said the London taxpayer is put to an extra expense of $600,000 annually by reason of the prevalence of fog. One gas company alone furnishes gas to the value of $15,000 over and above the normal figure on a single day of fog. The suspension of traffic is another serious item.
