Lesson XIII.—Third Quarter, For Sept. 29, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Comprehensive Quarterly Review—Golden Text, John vi, 63—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

LESSON I.—Malignant unbelief, Mark III, 20-35. Golden Text, John III, 19. "This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil."

LESSON II.—The seed in the four kinds of soil, Mark IV, 1-20. Golden Text, Jas. I, 21. "Receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls."

LESSON III.—The growth of the kingdom, Mark IV, 26-32; Matt. XIII, 33. Golden Text, Matt. VI, 10. "Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

LESSON IV.—The wheat and the tares, Matt. XIII, 24-30, 36-43. Golden Text, Matt. XIII, 30. "Gather ye together first the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn."

LESSON V.—The worth of the kingdom, Matt. XIII, 44-53. Golden Text, Matt. VI, 33. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

LESSON VI.—A troubled sea and a troubled soul, Mark IV, 35 to v. 20. Golden Text, Ps. xli, 1, 2 (R. V.). "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble."

LESSON VII.—The Ruler's daughter, Mark V, 21-43. Golden Text, Mark V, 41. "And He took the damsel by the hand and said unto her, Talitha, cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee arise."

LESSON VIII.—The visit to Nazareth, Luke IV, 16-30. Golden Text, John I, 11 (R. V.). "He came unto His own, and they that were His own received Him not."

LESSON IX.—The death of John the Baptist, Mark VI, 14-29. Golden Text, Rev. II, 10 (R. V.). "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life."

LESSON X.—The mission of the twelve, Matt. IX, 35; x, 15. Golden Text, Matt. X, 40. "He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth Him that sent me."

LESSON XI.—Judgment and mercy, Matt. XI, 29-30. Golden Text, Matt. XI, 28. "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

LESSON XII.—The feeding of the 5,000, Mark VI, 30-44. Golden Text, John VI, 35. "Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life."

Points Out Necessity for the Death of Christ.

Vast Audience In Princess Theatre In Montreal Held Spellbound For Two Hours by Pastor Russell of London and Brooklyn Tabernacles.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Montreal, Sept. 22.—Pastor Russell delivered two discourses here to-day, one in the Princess Theatre before a very large assemblage, America's ubiquitous Preacher comes quite frequently to the provinces, and the immense audience that everywhere greet him is proof that the True Gospel which he preaches has to some extent found a responsive chord in hundreds of thousands of Canadian hearts.

One of his addresses while here was from the words of St. Paul, which in brief was as follows: "Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the Gospel which I preached unto you: How that Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures; and that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day."

"Christ Died For Our Sins." "For Christ to die for our sins implies that our sins had a death penalty attached to them. This also implies that death penalty was a just one, because a just God would not punish unjustly. The justice of a death penalty implies a high degree of intelligence on the part of the sinner, and that he was in a condition in which he would not have needed to die if he had not sinned."

Like St. Paul of old, Pastor Russell constantly proclaims, with the evident courage of his convictions, "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ!" The message of the hour, according to the Pastor, is that the opportunity for the redemption of mankind is to be co-extensive with the fall. He implicitly believes the Bible teaching of the Original Sin of Adam precipitating all mankind into the dying and death state.

"Thus far we have merely seen the root of the Gospel as it centres in the promise made to Abraham, and in the Redemptive work accomplished by our Saviour," exclaimed America's Spurgeon.

"In his Epistle to the Romans (11: 16-24), St. Paul uses the illustration of an olive tree, and declares the branches to be the members of the 'Body of Christ, which is the Church.' The Israelites were the natural branches, and therefore had the first opportunity of becoming members of the Body of Christ. In fact, all privilege was excluded from the Gentiles until Israel's time of favor was complete—three and a half years after the cross.

"During those three and a half years the Lord's providence so blessed the Jews that they were all brought in contact with the Truth under most favorable conditions. We remember that thousands were converted and blessed at Pentecost and other thousands a little later. Every worthy branch in that 'tree' was accepted of the Lord—every Israelite, indeed, in whom was no guile."

"St. Paul proceeds to tell us that then the unbelieving Jews, the remaining 'natural branches,' were all broken off and separated from Divine favor; and that then began the work of engrafting 'wild olive branches,' representing worthy Gentiles."

JUDGES ON VACATION.

How Quebec Legal Dignitaries Spend Holidays.

During the long vacation which draws to a close with the advent of September, the judges of the Superior Court in common with a large proportion of the members of the Montreal Bar are rustivating in the country, taking a well-earned rest and fitting themselves for the arduous work of the fall and winter terms.

Many of the judges have summer homes in the country, and it is there that most prefer to stay for the long summer holiday. One judge, however, has to sit in chamber each week, and a vacation schedule is drawn up by the Chief Justice, which has to be rigorously observed. In the unavoidable absence of any judge during the week he is scheduled to forsake the attractions of the country he must provide a substitute.

With a few of the other judges, however, it is the old story of the busy man's holiday, and in at least a couple of cases the call of the Palais de Justice takes precedence over the call of the wilds. In this connection one of the elevator men in the court house is enjoying a holiday also. He had announced his intention of going away. Each morning, however, sees him either in the court house hall or just outside its portals, smoking a fat cigar and watching his confreres of the other elevator at work.

Mr. Justice Tellier is one of the oldest judges on the bench, and there are few days he does not appear in his chamber. His lordship owns a farm at Ste. Hyacinthe, where he lives all the year, coming into town daily. Early to bed and early to rise is his motto, and he, in spite of his daily journey, is one of the first to make his appearance. At present he is devoting his spare time to motoring in the Eastern Townships in the vicinity of his home.

Mr. Justice Greenshields, whose judgment in the famous Chiniquy slander action will be remembered, is an enthusiastic golfer, and is practicing his favorite game at Little Metis. His lordship tells a good story against himself as regards his golfing capabilities. Prior to the examination of a youthful witness in his court, he says, he put the usual question as to whether the witness understood the nature of an oath. The witness replied that he did very well, as he had been his lordship's caddie at the Little Metis links.

Mr. Justice Robidoux was one of the passengers on the Empress of Britain when she rammed and sunk the collier Helvetia. Mr. Justice Dunlop is in Scotland. These are the only two judges that the Old Country has attracted.

Mr. Justice Campbell Lane, the newly-appointed judge, who replaced Judge Davidson on his appointment as chief justice, is at Kennebunkport, Maine. Judge de Lorimer is at Ste. Hilaire. Judge Beaudin at Pointe Claire, and Judge Archer at Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

George Ham's Laundry.

A story is told of a party of eastern manufacturers who were making a trip through the Canadian northwest. The train was running about three hours late and it was essential that they reach a certain point A—on time to make train connections without delay. As they proceeded, however, the train lost more time and the easterners began to get nervous. They hunted up the conductor and had him interview the crew, but there was no gain in speed. At a stopping point they interviewed the crew personally and threatened to telegraph Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, but this had no effect.

Finally a happy thought struck one of the Montreal travelers. He knew that George Ham was traveling in the west with an English party. He also knew that George Ham always sent his laundry to Montreal and it was forwarded to him wherever he happened to be. He told his confreres, and had hunting up the conductor had him send a note to the engine driver that Mr. Ham's laundry was on board and that the train must reach him at A—on time to deliver it to him. The hint of George Ham's laundry being on board was sufficient. The train began to gain time and that afternoon they steamed into A—three minutes ahead of time.

An Able Lawyer.

Thomas Graves Meredith, K.C., who has been chosen corporation counsel of Toronto at a salary of $15,000 a year, is a son of the late Mr. W. C. Meredith, a member of the Irish Bar, who came to Canada from Dublin in 1832, and held a Dunn court position for a number of years.

Mr. Meredith was born in 1853 at London, Ont. He was educated at Helmut College. He entered Toronto University in 1872 and graduated in law in 1878. He was appointed city solicitor for London in 1894. He received the appointment of King's counsel from the Ontario Government in 1902.

He is a brother of Chief Justice Sir William Meredith; Hon. R. M. Martin of the chancery division and chancellor of the Western University.

In the Promised Land.

Having harvested their crops and finished the great bulk of their work for this year, American farmers from the western states are beginning to swarm up in the Canadian west again, to see this country with its wealth of wheat and grains standing and in the stook. They say they want to see for themselves the much-vaunted grain fields of the Canadian west, and see for themselves wherein lies the superiority of the Canadian wheat belt over that of the American states, from which they come.

Women Suffrage In the West.

Our Canadian women will get the franchise, at least in the West, in my opinion, in a very few years, and I firmly believe that female suffrage will elevate our politics and the administration of public affairs to a level never yet realized until the franchise is extended to women.—Vancouver Saturday Sunset.
