

THE DURHAM CHRONICLE

W. IRWIN Editor and Proprietor.

DURHAM, SEPTEMBER 19, 1912

CORNER CONCERNS

We are sorry to report that Miss Nellie Allan is home from Toronto, suffering from an attack of appendicitis, and may have to undergo an operation. She came home on Saturday.

Mr. James Allan left to spend a few months in the western States since we last wrote.

Mr. Jas. Hopkins left a week ago for a trip to Vancouver to visit relatives, and see that glorious country, of which we hear so much.

Threshing is the order of the day, and grain is turning out fairly well, with the exception of peas, which are poor, as they have been for the past two or three years.

The downpour of rain on Sunday interfered with the attendance at the harvest thanksgiving service in the church, yet a number managed to get there and enjoyed a good address by Rev. Hartley.

Rev. Langford, of Listowel, will preach in St. Paul's church on Sunday. It is his first visit. Give him a good impression.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Tucker attended the Hanover fair on Friday and spent the night with relatives.

Steam threshers passing over our roads are making holes in some of the old bridges and culverts. The township council brought cement tile to the place over a year ago, to fix some of them, and even went so far in one case as to let the job of putting them in, but seem to have cancelled it for further deliberation. They seem to be about as slow as the Durham council is with their bridge.

There will be general satisfaction with both Egremont and Normanby people in the appointment of Mr. Wm. Allan as License Inspector, and all who are personally acquainted with him know he will do his duty faithfully to the best of his ability.

The Review last week devotes a column to advocating the corner of George street as a site for the new post-office. It would be a dreadfully bad corner for farmers, that steam pumping station of the C. P. R. on the east side of the road, the electric bell on the north side, and the engines coming from the west make it hard for farmers to drive their horses around it, much less think of leaving them to go in for their mail. But it must seem an ideal spot to the Review, who has such a liking to see all public buildings put at least one storey below ground.

Mr. Wm. Marshall had a rather unpleasant experience one day last week, while hauling a load of kiln wood. While climbing a steep hill an automobile suddenly faced him, causing his horses to turn quickly around and upset him and load down the hill. The front wheels of the wagon passed over him, but he held to the horses till he stopped them. In fact, one young fellow in the auto proved quite an athlete and had the horses by the head very quickly, and to give the devil his due—as we suppose that is the name for those who run devil wagons—they were rather manly fellows, and offered to pay for the damage to the wagon, and were also heard to say as they removed the wood from the road, "We do hope we will have no more such unpleasant experiences before we reach town as this is the third smash-up we have had to-day." Mr. Marshall took no pay, and parted from them in a friendly way.

The McFadden family have the deep sympathy of the neighborhood in their sorrow, and St. Paul's loses a good member in the death of Mrs. McFadden. The favorable comments of Rev. Hartley at the funeral service regarding her Christian character, we had heard former parsons make while she was in good health.

Mrs. Herbert Wilkinson, who came down from Edmonton to be at the death-bed of her mother, may return on Monday.

Death this Monday morning relieved Mrs. Sarah Queen from her sufferings which have been intense for some months; also from the scene of her struggles and hardships, as she and her husband, predeceased her 18 months ago, cleared the farm on which she died and made of it one of the finest looking places on the line.

She was the mother of three children, two of whom live to know the loss of a loving mother. The third, Mrs. Allan, predeceased her eighteen months ago. The two survivors are Mrs. John Chapman, of Markdale, and John on the old homestead. One sister, Mrs. Rebecca Doyle, of Holstein, and two brothers, of a large family, survive her as follows: John Brown, of Holstein and William Brown, of Durham, both of whom are widely known. The deceased was a valued member of St. Paul's church, and a regular attendant up to the time of her illness. Interment, we learn will take place on Wednesday afternoon. We extend our sympathy to the sorrowing friends.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by all dealers.

Mr. J. E. Marcellus, formerly of the High school here, has returned to teaching, taking charge of the Continuation school at Milton, and Miss Philp is on the staff of Alma College, St. Thomas. We received a new letter from Mr. Marcellus last week by which we learned much of the busy and enterprising county town of Halton.

Mr. Cliff Blakely has had his tailor shop splendidly illuminated with the Rice-Knight lighting system. Dr. Murray installed the light.

Baseball was much to the fore among the locals last week. A match between the High school and town boys was won by the former; a match between the High school and Public school boys was won by the latter, and another between the boys of the High school and girls of the same, was won by the former.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid packed a valuable box of clothing and other articles last week for shipment to one of the outlying missions of the church in the North-west.

We notice Presbyterians in Ontario are now calling upon congregations paying less than one thousand dollars salary to adjust themselves to the new conditions and come up to the $1000 minimum set at the recent meeting at General Assembly at Edmonton. To the present high cost of living is attributed the need of this move.

The cement sidewalk by-law voted on here on Friday last was well sustained—carried without an opposing vote. The splendid and economical work done by the reeve, who superintended the laying of the new walks, is highly appreciated by the ratepayers.

Inspector Campbell and wife, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. McDonald, of London, England, motored from Durham, and spent Thursday last with Rev. and Mrs. Wellwood. Dr. McDonald is an uncle of Mrs. Wellwood. The general Inspector and the Dr. gave us a very pleasant call.

Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Watts and daughter Dorcas, of Owen Sound, spent the first of the week with the latter's brother, Mr. Price Teeter.

Rev. Alex. Sifton, and young wife, of Maxwell, were in town on Monday and made us a friendly call.

For the fall fair here on Thursday and Friday of this week, the usual preparation is being made. Expectation is high for a successful show and splendid concert on Friday night.

Mr. Jas. Hamilton, of Stratford, was the guest of Mr. G. B. Welton at the Munshaw House, over Sunday.

Miss Rita Crane, of Owen Sound, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. Trimble.

Mrs. W. Karstedt and daughter Emma, of Indianapolis, visited at F. G. Karstedt's on Saturday.

Mr. W. J. Douglas, who recently moved to Medicine Hat, has already begun work on a fine new residence.

A PAYING SUBSCRIBER.

In the rotunda of the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, recently, a party of old-time newspaper men were assembled and the talk naturally veered to the political changes that had taken place in the Capital during the last few decades. The great chieftains of the past were being discussed, and the name of the late Hon. Edward Blake was mentioned. "He was the most valued subscriber I ever had," remarked a publisher from West Durham, which constituency the illustrious Liberal represented for some years. "Every January he sent me a cheque for $50 as a year's subscription for my paper. I wish that I had more of those pay-in-advance kind of subscribers to-day."—Canadian Echo.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to make a tour of Ontario, and will speak in Mount Forest on Monday evening, October 7th. Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Hon. Chas. Murphy, Hon. Mackenzie King, and other well-known speakers will assist.

HYMENEAL

McGRATH—McMILLAN.

At 10.30 a. m. on the 17th inst, at St. John's R. C. church, Glenelg, as the aisles echoed to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by the organist, Miss Leo O'Neill.

Miss Effie McMillan and Mr. Thomas J. McGrath took their respective places at the altar, to unite their heart and hand in the sacred bonds of matrimony.

The ceremony was performed by their parish priest, Rev. Father Ferguson, of Markdale, in the presence of a host of friends and relatives.

After the marriage ceremony was performed and congratulations extended to the young couple, intermingled with showers of confetti, the whole party resumed their way to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Malcolm McMillan, where all enjoyed a daintily prepared wedding breakfast. The inner man being fully satisfied, song and story were now the order, the principal being an instructive address by Rev. Father Ferguson, bringing out clearly the duties and responsibilities of husbands and wives.

The bride was charmingly attired in a travelling suit of cream serge, with Irish lace waist, and wore a hat of cream felt, with willow plumes, and carried a bouquet of white asters and maiden hair fern, while her bridesmaid, Miss Katie McMillan, was becomingly dressed in grey poplin with yoke of beaded garniture and beaded fringe trimming, with hat to match, with ostrich sprays. She carried a bouquet of pink asters and maiden hair fern.

The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. M. D. McGrath.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bar brooch set with sapphire and pearls, the former being her birth-stone. The gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bar brooch set with amethysts, and to the organist a crescent brooch set with brilliants, and to the groomsmen a pair of unlined kid gloves.

The young couple, who were the recipients of numerous and costly presents, have gone for a short honeymoon to Toronto and Niagara Falls, and on their return will settle in Durham, where the groom is prosperously engaged in the shoe business.

Guests from a distance were: Mr. A. J. McMillan and Miss Mae Hendrick, of Toronto, brother and cousin of the bride, and Mrs. J. Barrie, and son John, of Dornoch also Mr. J. Burns, of Hampden.

"YOU'LL SUFFER ALL YOUR LIFE"

That's what the Doctor told him

"Fruit-a-tives Cured Him"

CHESTERVILLE, ONT., Jan. 25th 1911 "For over twenty years, I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do me no good, and that I would be a sufferer for the rest of my life."

I doctored with different medical men and tried many advertised remedies, but none of them suited my case.

Nearly a year ago, I tried "Fruit-a-tives". I have been using this fruit medicine nearly all the time since, and am glad to say that I am cured.

I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible.

I am now seventy-six years old, and in first class health."

GEO. W. BARKLEY. In all the world, there is no other remedy that has cured so many cases of so-called "incurable" kidney disease, as "Fruit-a-tives".
