FELL THROUGH SKYLIGHT.

A two hundred and sixty-five pound woman fell through the skylight of the Indiana Harbor State Bank at Hammond, Ind., last week, and landed on top of a cluster of bank directors, who were holding their annual meeting. Mrs. Mary Bopa, living in an adjacent flat, uses the roof of the building as a place to dry her laundry. She tripped and fell over a basket and crashed through the skylight and fell thirty feet, escaping with a few bruises. Her projection into the directors' meeting caused a panic, and several of the bank officials were badly bruised from being knocked to the floor. Mrs. Bopa hit the table around which the bankers were assembled with such force that she completely demolished it. The men became panic-stricken and one of them drew a revolver. At first it was thought it was some kind of a bank robbery, but the sight of the woman soon put at rest this conclusion. Mrs. Bopat amid the wreckage and rubbed her bruised spots until she and the directors had to give way to laughter. Several of the bank officials were cut by flying glass.

BIRTHPLACE OF THE BAGPIPE

(Westminster Gazette.) The introduction of M. Sazonoff to the Highland bagpipe at Balmoral was, it is said, not the surprise the Highlanders expected it to be, the eminent statesman remarking that a similar instrument is used in the south of Russia. Of late musical antiquaries have been looking outside Scotland for the birthplace of the bagpipe, and Major F. W. von Herbert, a recognized authority on musical instruments, ancient and modern, has placed it somewhere in the vast territory once ruled by the Seljuks, the ancestors of the modern Turks. On the authority of Sir Alexander Mackenzie, the principal of the R. A. M., the fiddle is Scotland's national instrument, and as a Scotsman he recently declined any responsibility for the invention of the bagpipe.

JOSHING THE BARBER.

"Your head," remarked the garrulous barber to the Irishman in his chair, "is twice as large as mine."

"But Oj suppose that head ever yours do be big enough for you?" said the genial son of Erin.

"Why, certainly," answered the tonsorial artist.

"Av coorse," continued the Irishman: "p'fat's the use av a man havin' a big thrunk whin he hasn't any clothes to put in it?"

WHY COLDS COME.

With the advent of cold weather will come the regular fall crop of "colds." Why?

Because of the drop in temperature? Not at all. Because of some peculiar poisonous property in the fall air? No.

Because as soon as cold weather comes about half of the city's population tries to live without any fresh air.

There are many people who still believe that one will drown in night air; and there are at least as many who hold that windows should never be left open unless the thermometer is higher outside the house than in.

The fear of drafts is the beginning of sneezes.

True, one can catch cold even in fresh air by getting sufficiently chilled. But this happens about once in fifty times-or less.

The usual formula for catching cold is to sit in a close, ill-ventilated room for several hours, and then go to bed in a room whose windows are tightly closed. This seldom fails.

The simplest formula for avoiding colds is to keep the house well ventilated and not too hot, take plenty of exercise, and sleep in a room with an open window.

REFUSES TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

A despatch from Paris says:-The doctor who attended the Emperor of Japan in his last illness is finding himself in difficulties because he will not satisfy the demands of that circle in Tokio which still clings to old ideas.

According to a special correspondent of the Journal these persons, who have been much impressed by Gen. Nogi's suicide, demand that the doctor also shall kill himself, but he declines to do so.

It has been explained to him that he will be held in dishonor if he does not follow the example of Nogi, but all the persuasion and indignation leave him unmoved. "It was not his fault," he says, "if the Emperor died."

He has declared in several journals that he was unable to attend the Mikado as he should have done owing to the Court etiquette and added that if the Emperor had followed his advice and abstained from alcoholic drinks he would still be alive.

The doctor, who is an uncommonly able man, is at the moment one of the most despised men in Japan.

TYPHOID OUTBREAK AT HAMILTON.

Hamilton, Oct. 17.-The typhoid outbreak at the Hamilton Asylum for the Insane has reached serious proportions. Five more patients were taken to the hospital yesterday, after the death of Dr. Jeffries, one of the medical staff. It is said that there are at least twenty-two typhoid cases in the institution now, and the epidemic is steadily growing. Dr. English, medical superintendent, said today he had reported the matter to Toronto, but Inspector Rogers, when called up on the long distance telephone, denied receiving any report.

BISHOP OF HURON OPENS SYNOD WITH PRAYER.

Montreal, Oct. 17.-The twenty-first session of the Synod of the Anglican Church in Canada opened this morning at Christ Church Cathedral, in the presence of delegates, lay and clerical, from all parts of the Dominion, and a number of missionaries and missionaries-elect.

The proceedings were opened by divine service, at which the Bishop of Huron preached the sermon. The main business will be the proposal to elevate Ontario into a separate province, and the memorial from the Diocese of Niagara dealing with a school syllabus for religious instruction. A resolution expressing sympathy with the work of the late General Booth will also be considered.

On Friday evening the bishop-designate of Japan, Dr. Hamilton, will be consecrated.

DYNAMITE BLEW UP SEVERAL FATALLY HURT.

An explosion of dynamite on the construction work of the Algoma Eastern Railway, near Sudbury last week, critically injured six Italian laborers. Some of them will die. One man had both arms blown off, another lost both eyes and suffered severe injuries to his head. Others had arms and legs broken.

The injured were removed to Sudbury Hospital, but no hope is entertained for several. The explosion resulted from the handling of a box of dynamite caps by a laborer.

NOVEL SALUTES OF THE NATIONS.

Every nation has its own peculiar mode of salutation. In the United States the characteristic salutation is "Hello!" The telephone is accused of having fastened this upon Americans but in truth the telephone adopted a word already familiar to everybody.

The Arabs say on meeting, "A fine morning to you!"

The Turk says, with dignified gravity, "God grant you his blessings!"

The Persian greeting is familiar to all the world by reason of its quaintness, "May your shadow never grow less!"

The Egyptian is a practical man. He has to earn his taxes by toil under a burning sun, and accordingly when he meets his fellow, he asks, "How do you perspire?" It is obvious that in low latitudes it is well with a laborer so long as he perspires freely.

The good Chinese loves his dinner. "How are you digesting?" he kindly inquires on meeting a friend.

The Greeks, who are keen men of business and close bargainers, ask one another, "How are you getting on?"

The national salutation of Naples was formerly, "Grow in grace!" At present in most parts of Italy a phrase equivalent to "How are you?" is used.

The Spaniards say, "How are you passing it?"

The French, "How do you carry yourself?"

The Germans, "How goes it?"

The Swedes, "How can you?" meaning, "Are you in good vigor?"

The Russians, "Be well!"

The English speaking nations, in addition to the telephonic "Hello!" say, "How are you?" and "How do you do?"

Caucasians take off the hat, shake hands, embrace, bow and kiss, as in other parts of the world people rub noses, touch foreheads and take off their shoes.

The American in France and in Italy is sometimes surprised to see men embrace and kiss one another. The Italians and the French in turn, look upon the Anglo-Saxon bow and handshake as cold.

The touching of the tips of gloved fingers, if more graceful than handshaking, must also seem to people of the East as cold as expressionless.

The bow as a mark of respect is a custom used by nearly all nations, and one that had its origin in ancient times.-New York Sun.

THE COMMUNITY AS A SILENT PARTNER.

Most successful men are apt to think that their fortunes have been built up wholly by their skill and management; but the fact is it is the people, the community, that make most fortunes possible.

If New York had remained a village, the Astors and many other millionaires could not have made their fortunes out of real estate. It was the growth of New York that made a great many vast fortunes possible, not the skill of individuals, the people are partners. It is the same with the railroads. The setting up of the country made the vast railroad fortunes possible. Indeed, the only way a man can make a fortune is by partnership of the community, the partnership of the people. If Chicago had remained a little straggling Indian village, as it was seventy-five years ago, many great fortunes of its residents could not have been possible.-McLean's Magazine.

GOLDWIN SMITH'S AUTOGRAPH ALBUM

The Master in Chambers has directed trial of an issue to determine the ownership of the late Goldwin Smith's autograph album now in possession of the Art Museum. Captain Fraser Homer Dixon, of Winnipeg, nephew of Mr. Smith, maintains that Goldwin Smith gave the album to his wife and that it passed to him under a general clause in Mrs. Smith's will.

The collection of autographs is one of the finest in the world, containing the signatures of royalty and of many famous men and women.

BUTTONHOLES.

Have you noticed that in nearly all the ready-to-wear shirtwaists lingerie blouses the buttonhole is cut parallel with the opening? If cut there is the slightest strain on them, when the blouse is worn, they will either come unfastened or will gape open in a most discouraging way.

The remedy is to match the goods and cut away the strip of material having the buttonholes in it, and stitch on a new piece, in which the buttonholes may be worked horizontally, as should always be done on every blouse to be worn buttoned in the back.

CLASSIC CITY CHRONICLES.

The old-fashioned tea-meetings are becoming quite popular in city churches now-a-days. These so-called "bun feeds" are proving to be a fine means of promoting social intercourse and good fellowship among the members. One of the greatest drawbacks to the success of church work in urban congregations is the fact that the members are not acquainted with each other. At the last tea-meeting I attended I was introduced to a member and in reply to my when she had come to the city she replied that she had lived here ten years and had been regularly attending the same church that I attended during that period. As a money-making institution the tea-meeting has been much maligned, many declaring that the "game is not worth the candle."

Nevertheless, many a church debt has been materially lessened by a carefully planned and well-managed tea-meeting. Of course our modern ladies' aid societies are wise enough to lay especial emphasis on the social side of these functions, but the fifty or sixty dollars they gather in at the door come in mighty handy all the same for fixing up the parsonage, or church parlors, etc. If tea-meetings are an evil they are a necessary evil.

Threshing is in full swing in this district. The grain is turning out very fairly, but the straw is a poor affair. Its color and texture reminds one of the "rakings" we used to draw in after the harvest was over before the advent of binders.

The fine weather of this week has been a great boon to the construction companies that are paving our streets. During the summer they made very slow progress due to the wet weather. Ten or fifteen dry days would set them on their feet.

Two of our respectable Greek residents left last week for the native land. In a short time they will be on the firing line fighting for the defence and liberties of their mother country. Quite a change from the hum of a busy city to the crack of rifles and the roar of cannons.

One of the best fertilizers for gardens is leaves and yet, strange to say, dozens of citizens gather them up in piles and burn them instead of scattering them over

We notice in this week's issue of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, that the publishers have secured, as a premium picture for subscribers, another beautiful subject, entitled "Mother's Treasures," a companion to the beautiful picture "Home Again," which they gave last year. Family Herald pictures are always good and it is said that "Mother's Treasures" is the best yet. It is truly wonderful what great value one receives for one dollar a year in The Family Herald and Weekly Star. It is a paper no home in Canada should be without. Every member of a family will find some part of it interesting, and alone well worth the year's subscription. The premium picture, "Mother's Treasures" is 23 by 29 inches, all ready for framing, and alone well worth in any art store at two dollars.

The Family Herald should do bigger business than ever this season.

THE CHARM OF LAURIER.

Politics is interesting. Dr. McCullough is a hot Grit and so was his brother from Markdale. Both were at the big Laurier meeting at Mount Forest and sat elbow to elbow for four hours and neither knew the other was beside him.-Harriston Review.

THE STANDARD BANK OF CANADA HEAD OFFICE TORONTO DURHAM BRANCH, John Kelly, Manager

KEEPING a bank account for "household expenses" and paying all bills by cheque has many advantages. It shows the balance on hand, the amount expended, provides receipts for every payment and does not require a large deposit to begin with.
