Lesson V.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 3, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark viii, 11-26
Memory Verses, 14, 15—Golden Text, John viii, 12 (R. V.)—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Having again crossed the sea after He had fed the 4,000, the Pharisees and Sadducees came to Him tempting Him and asking Him to show them a sign from heaven. He called them a wicked and adulterous generation and said that no sign would be given unto them, but the sign of the prophet Jonas (verses 11, 12; Matt. xvi. 1-4). This was his second reference to Jonah. On the former occasion He spoke of his experience in the belly of the fish and said that so He would be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth (Matt. xii, 12-40). The Pharisees believed in angels, spirits and the resurrection, but were self righteous formalists, hypocrites, covetous and did their works to be seen of men.

The Sadducees did not believe in the resurrection (Mark xii, 18). His spirit was grieved because of them, so He left them and again went across the sea with His disciples, having only one loaf in the boat with them, for the disciples forgot to take bread as He charged them to take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees and of Herod. They thought that He was referring to their forgetfulness in the matter of bread. What a suggestive lesson for us who are apt to think more of the health of the body than of the health of the soul, careful concerning what we eat and drink, but receiving the most poisonous things for our minds in the way of doctrine and from the daily papers and magazines. How they could think that lack of bread would be at all perplexing to Him whom they had seen feed 5,000 and 4,000 with a few loaves and fishes seems indeed strange, and we do not wonder that He reminded them of these events and said: "Having eyes, see ye not? And, having ears, hear ye not? And do ye not remember? How is it that ye do not understand?" (Verses 17-21; Matt. xvi, 8-12.) When He said plainly, "I spake not to you concerning bread," then they understood that He referred to the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

In addition to what we said above concerning these two classes of people, it might be added that the Pharisees denied any necessity for Christ's first coming, and the Sadducees denied His second coming, saying there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit, nor future rewards and punishments (Acts xxiii, 8). The leaven of Herod suggests worldliness in every form, with a bit of religion, for Herod feared John the Baptist and observed him, heard him gladly and did many things, but kept right on in sin and would rather please sinners than do what he knew to be right (Mark vi, 20, 26). Let me again emphasize what I firmly believe—that there is no place in the Bible where heaven ever means anything good, and therefore to speak of anything good as the heaven working is altogether unscriptural. It is easily so seen in our lesson; in the passover story of Ex. xii; in the sacrifices of Lev. ii, 11; in the thanksgiving offering of Lev. vii, 12, 13; Amos 4, 5, where they were told that to offer leaven was just like them, and in I Cor. v, 6-8.

Those who think that our Lord meant something good when He said, "The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal till the whole was leavened" (Matt. xiii, 33), should study carefully the four parables of which this is the last and note that our Lord was speaking not of the kingdom when it shall have come, but of this present age of the mysteries of the kingdom (Matt. xiii, 11), while He and it are both rejected and the church is being gathered. Not one of the four parables gives any encouragement to look for a converted world in this age, and the story of the leaven teaches that the woman, the professing church, will thoroughly corrupt her food. Let any one consider the Sunday topics of the majority of preachers of the present day and then say whether the people are getting pure water from the fountain of life or something from the preacher's own mind and not from God.

The conclusion of our lesson, found only in Mark, is the record of His healing a blind man at Bethsaida. Some one has said that all miracles are acted parables and that all physical infirmities are suggestive, if not actually typical, of spiritual troubles. All blind people suggest the blindness that holds all who have never seen Jesus Christ as God and as the great sacrifice for their sins, whom He calls blind, advising them to anoint their eyes with eye salve that they may see. Some blind people received their sight by a word from Him. One had clay put upon his eyes and was sent to Siloam to wash. Some had clear vision instantly, but this man received his sight gradually. We must not covet an experience similar to another, but be quite content to have the Lord deal with us as He pleases. This man we took by the hand and led him out of the town. What a picture—the Creator of all things taking a blind man by the hand and walking with him along the street, the author of life and light, Himself the life and light, touching human blindness.

President Entertains Employees.

In his remarks, he referred emphatically to the enthusiasm of Mr. Calder, who never lost faith in the cement company, and who, he said, was the most faithful, energetic, and hardest working man in the whole service.

We'll forget some of them, but amongst the entertainers were Mr. John Vollett, and Mr. Gordon, who gave good exhibitions of their ability and skill as step-dancers. Mr. Robert Watt, who delighted the guests with his violin selections; Mr. McCallum, Mr. Hay, Mr. Telford, Mr. Wm. Ramage, entertained by unaccompanied vocal solos; Mr. J. N. Robinson, Mr. Whitechurch, Mr. Hildebrandt, Mr. Charles Ramage, Mr. Robert Torry and a number of others, made short impromptu speeches.

The evening was pleasantly and profitably spent, and will, we are sure, be productive of good results. The gathering dispersed about midnight.

BAKED APPLES.

Wash sour apples, wipe them dry, and remove the cores; fill the holes with sugar, and add a little spice and piece of butter to each; put one-half cup of hot water in the pan and bake the apples until tender. Serve with sponge cake. If preferred, a little grated lemon peel can be mixed with the sugar instead of the spice and butter. Baste the apples with the syrup as they bake. Baked apples served with flavored cream or whipped cream are delicious.

HAPPY THOUGHT

Give Your Stove the "Frying Test"

PROBABLY you think frying such a simple form of cooking that all stoves should be equal in this respect. That is just where you are mistaken. The "frying test" proves conclusively a stove's real worth to you.

Frying with the "Happy Thought" shows you this. A small fire does more and better work than a big fire does in other stoves—gives you more heat, right at the lid opening. Besides, the moment you lift the lid and put the frying pan in place, you get the very maximum of heat that the fire can produce—just where you want it. When you replace the lid, the heat goes straight to the oven and concentrates there with all its intensity.

No other stove is designed to do this so effectually. That is one reason why the "Happy Thought" has a superior value for you.

A NEW RECORD.

From The Walkerton Times. A Walkerton autoist established a new 'dog-quieting' record with his car last month. When a dog disputes the right-of-way with an auto there is something sure to happen, and it invariably happens to the dog. No less than four canines mixed with the same car during September with the result that the first lost his tail, the second was slightly bruised, the third was badly maimed and the last was passed on to the happy hunting ground. This new 30-day record will take some beating.
