SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson II.—Second Quarter, For April 13, 1913.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Gen. xxviii, 10-22. Memory Verses, 20-22—Golden Text, Gen. xxviii, 15—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Isaac, having indorsed the going away of Jacob, blessed him again, and this time truly, and sent him away to his mother's people that he might find a wife among the daughters of Laban, his mother's brother. So Jacob went out from Beersheba, where Isaac seems to have continued to live since the record in chapter xxvi, 32, 33, and went toward Haran.

Haran was the name of Lot's father, and he died in Ur before Abram was called out. It was also the name of the place where Abram tarried until Terah, his father, died (chapter xi, 27-32). It was from thence Rebekah came to be the wife of Isaac. It would have been a long journey for Jacob from Beersheba to Bethel in one day (between forty and fifty miles, so it was perhaps his second night out on which he had this remarkable experience. That matters not, however. It was the dream or vision that counted rather than the time when.

That one who had acted as Jacob had should have such a revelation from the Lord is the wonderful part of the transaction. There are, however, two very prominent facts in all the Scriptures which continually attract our attention. One is the exceeding sinfulness of man, with his deceitful and desperately wicked heart, and the other is the exceeding riches of the grace and love of God.
It does not matter as to the kind of ladder, whether steps of stone or some other kind. But the great fact is that Jacob saw a way of access from earth to heaven, angels ascending and descending, and he heard Jehovah from the top of the ladder talking to him most graciously and in such words as no mortal could expect or by any means deserve.
Because of Jacob's unworthiness and the wondrous grace of God notwithstanding even I have ventured to appropriate and have proved in world-wide journeyings the comfort of verse 15.

The Lord, who stood above the ladder and spoke the words of love and grace, no doubt referred to that night and that event when he said to Nathanael, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man" (John 1, 51). Some day when the New Jerusalem shall have taken its place over the earth and the elect church glorified and the elect Israel all be in perfect accord with the Lord in administering the affairs of the kingdom we may think of and understand this vision more fully. Meantime let us think of Him who is "the way, the truth, the life," who became man for us. The ladder was set up on the earth. It starts from just where you are. You may step on it if you will, but it must be with both feet clean off the earth, actually in Christ.
It reaches heaven; it is not too short. To mount day by day we must look up steadfastly and see Him who is in heaven for us. Run with patience, looking unto Jesus. The angels will be always ministering (Heb. xii, 1; i, 14). Notice the four "beholds" of verses 12, 13, 15. Between the time of Jacob's leaving home and this night's experience it looks as if the Spirit had been working some true penitence in Jacob's heart, and this special revelation and message was the result of it. When we turn homeward the Father always runs to meet us, according to Luke xv, 20.

Such overwhelming grace made Jacob feel somewhat as Simon Peter did when the Lord filled the ships with fishes and Peter said, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord!" (Luke v, 8). We do well to remember that the Lord is ever with us and that every place with Him may be to us the house of God and the gate of heaven.
The pillow becoming an anointed pillar and the fact that believers are called stones (1 Pet. ii, 5) suggest that instead of being prone upon the earth we may become upright, anointed living stones to the glory of God.
Jacob's vow in verses 20 to 22 may be good or not so good. If he is bargaining with God after all the gracious assurances, as our authorized version would seem to indicate, then his language and his spirit were poor indeed. But if he said, "Since, on seeing that, God will be with me" (verse 20), that, God is better. He has been considered by some a very mean man, but if any who read these words do not give the Lord at least a tenth of their income are they not meaner than Jacob?
No further incident of his journey is mentioned, but he certainly had enough to think about and to comfort and sustain him for years to come in that vision. He reached his destination, met his cousin, Rachel, at the well, helped her to water her father's sheep, for she kept them, and was heartily welcomed to Laban's home. He loved Rachel, agreed to serve seven years for her that she might become his wife, and they seemed unto him but a few days for the love he had to her (xix, 9, 20).

In Hos. xii, 12 we find this statement: "Jacob fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep."
CORNER CONCERNS.
Intended for last week. Messrs. James and Alex. Allan left last Thursday to resume their duties of stock selling for the Morley Cordage Co., of Sioux City, Iowa.
Mr. Herbert McLean left a week ago to seek fortune and fame in the western province of Saskatchewan.
Mr. Thos. Pollock, and the Messrs. Chapman will start for their western homes on Monday. We were a silent partner of our ranch for a couple of days last week, while wife visited her parents in Toronto.
Mr. Wm. Davis was elected at the special school meeting to fill the vacancy on the Board caused by the removal of S. P. Chapman.
We had the pleasure a week ago of meeting for the first time your Priceville correspondent, and an affable, genial fellow he is. We wonder how we manage to get up a newspaper scrap with him at all. It must be through the evil influences of the devil that is connected with newspaper work of last week.
The winter weather of last week was well used by the wind, in getting out material for repairs.
John Hamilton spent the Easter holidays with relatives near Ferguson.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cook, of Zion, spent a day or two last week with their daughter, Mrs. Wm. McFadden.
Messrs. Wm. McFadden and David Hamilton have leased the 200-acre farm of D. McLean for pasturing this summer.
The death of Mrs. Samuel Lawrence on Wednesday, at two p.m., at the age of 76 years and 4 months, removes another of the pioneers. Although your Williamsville correspondent may wish to give a highly esteemed but yet as she was highly esteemed by all who knew her, and few of us but have received kindness at her hands, we wish to pay a tribute to her respect.
Representatives of the Agricultural Department have visited the schools in our township to try to encourage agriculture, and keep the young folks true to each pupil idea is to give a free to each pupil a sample of some of the best seed to grow a plot at home during their leisure hours, and have a children's fair in the fall to exhibit their products; also to have summer judging of the crops in their standing condition. There are also eggs for hatching, from improved rock hens. The scheme might work all right if the fairs were arranged with this easy distance of the scholars, but if we have to drive ten or twelve miles on a busy day in the fall to a children's show, just to encourage them to remain on the farm, we would not consent. We would see them go off to the city and become millionaires first.
The hurricane of a week ago did as much damage here as in the surrounding neighborhood. It leveled fences and unroofed barns. Several farms appear as if they had been vacated for the past ten years. Some believe they saved their barn roofs by chaining them to other methods, and some by opening the doors on the north or east sides. Mr. Wm. Marshall had a huge pile of lumber in the yard and it was turned off, layer after layer, like the leaves of a book.

APRIL FOOLS.

This is the day when foolish folks think they've a license for their jokes and multiply our woe; they fill abandoned hats with bricks, the which the way-worn pilgrim kicks, and busts a dozen toes. By exercise of brutal guile they have us journeying many a mile on errands wild and cool: they trap and trick us every way, and take the sunshine from our day, and call us "April Fool!" But when all things are said and done, the fool is not the stricken one who's badgered and beguiled; though he has suffered he has not conspired to make the neighbors hot and drive companions wild. The fool is he who plays the trick; he always makes his same people sick and weary of his game; though years may pass and he may pant to shake off his foolish fame, I'd rather be a shiner, I'd rather try to take a chair and find the blame thing isn't there and have my backbone bent than be the feeble-minded gent who takes the chair away.—Walt Mason.

A SHADY VALLEY.
In the valley of the Lyn, near Lynmouth, North Devon, England, there is a quiet little hamlet called Middleham, where, for three months in the year the sun is not seen.
The cluster of houses forming the hamlet is surrounded on all sides by hills so steep and high that from November till February the sun does not rise high enough to be seen over their tops.
The first appearance of the sun is eagerly looked for, and as it is first seen on February 14, the inhabitants call it their valentine.
If the day should be foggy or cloudy, so that it cannot be seen, there is great disappointment.
For the first few days after the 14th, the sun is seen only for a very short time, but as the sun rises higher in the heavens daily until its height is reached, when it gradually begins to fade from view until in November it entirely vanishes from sight for another three months.

USE OF TOBACCO IN WINTER.
A physician says that smoking has a worse effect on most people in winter than in summer, and he advises all smokers who find their health and mental faculties impaired in winter for no apparent reason, to accept tobacco as the explanation and to cut down their smoking during the colder months. Tobacco, he says, is a powerful drug, and he cannot be consumed in large quantities without producing a certain effect on the heart. It must be remembered that during the winter the heart has a great deal more work to do than in summer, for the cold causes the blood-vessels to become small and pinched. It is thus less able to bear the extra strain put upon it by smoking.

ONLY TO BE EXPECTED.
"Well, my boy," said the solemn visitor, "I suppose you expect some day to step into your father's shoes."
"Oh, yes. I suppose so," the boy gloomily answered, "I've been wearing out all his old clothes ever since mother learned how to cut 'em down."

GEORGE WENT "RATTING."

George Dale keeps a number of fowl which have been keeping him plentifully supplied all winter with good fresh eggs. In addition to the fowl he suspected he was feeding a number of rats from his grain bin. He set a cage trap the other night and was delighted in the morning to find the accommodation of the trap almost fully taken. He got no less than ten rats in one haul.—Dundalk Herald.

ONE OF HIS FAULTS.

"Peck—I must say, you have many faults than any other man I ever met."
"Peck—Well, you have plenty of faults yourself."
"Mrs. Peck—There you go again—always changing the subject when I try to talk to you."

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is assured against blood-poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill.
Then again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are so fond of Zam-Buk. They are not suffering from the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this. Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface is so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.
Only the other day, Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co., and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. For years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!
All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp to pay return postage. Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.
