Lesson III.—Second Quarter, For April 20, 1913.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Gen. xxxiii, 1-15. Memory Verses, 10, 11—Golden Text, Eph. iv, 32—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

When Laban learned that Jacob had fled he pursued him in anger, but God came to him in a dream by night and said unto him, "Take heed that thou speak not to Jacob either good or bad" (xxxiii, 24, 25), so they had only some sharp words and parted, having erected a heap of stones as a witness that neither would pass that place to do the other harm.

NEW AMENDMENTS WILL HELP ENFORCE LOCAL OPTION.

In an amendment to the Liquor License Act, Hon. W. J. Hanna laid before the Legislature last week the following proposals:

The bottle trade to be eliminated from hotels. Hours of sale to be shortened by prohibiting the opening of bars before eight o'clock.

Shop license fees to be raised to the same level as tavern licenses. Restrictions to prevent storing of liquor in stables.

Mr. Hanna, in introducing the measure, said: "The first clause deals with the section of the Liquor License Act that defines a tavern license. Tavern licenses, under our amendment, shall mean a license for selling liquor for consumption only on the premises in which the liquor is sold. That," he added, "applies to what is familiarly known as the bottle trade. We have arrived at this decision after careful consideration. A situation has developed in the province that makes doubly important the proposition embodied in this amendment. In the first place, a number of municipalities that are adopting local option are surrounded, it may be, by municipalities that have not adopted local option and in which there may be a tavern license or two, or more. The complaint is that the bottle trade extends out over the territory covered by local option by laws, and that complaint is traceable largely to the right of the proprietor of a tavern license to take part in the bottle trade. There is another condition in another part that makes against the bottle trade, apart entirely from local option. That is, the miner and lumberman and contractor in the newer districts, and employees generally complain that the bottle trade coming from the tavern license is responsible for a good deal of the evils of which they complain."

"My little son had a very severe cold. I was recommended to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and before a small bottle was finished, he was as well as ever," writes Mrs. H. Silks, 29 Dowling St., Sydney, Australia. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

FOR THE SICK. Fever drink.—The juice of one lemon, one teaspoon cream of tartar, one pint of water. Sweeten with loaf sugar. Let patient drink freely when thirsty.

Mustard plaster.—When making a mustard plaster use no water whatever, but mix the mustard with the white of egg and spread on linen cloths. Using water blisters the skin.

Sage tea.—Sweetened with honey it is good for sore throat. Use as a gargle with a small bit of alum dissolved in it.

Flaxseed lemonade.—Four tablespoons whole flaxseed, one quart boiling water poured over the flaxseed, juice of two lemons, leaving out the peel. Sweeten to taste. Steep three hours in a covered pitcher.

These suggestions are the "little things" that are not trifles, since they add to the comfort of the poor sufferer confined to his sickroom. To know just how to make the refreshing drink that will quiet a persistent cough is essential to the mother who would nurse her dear ones successfully.

IS YOUR SKIN ROUGH AND "PATCHY"? Zam-Buk Will Make it "Peachey."

Every girl likes a good complexion. Use of Zam-Buk assures one!

If you have pimples or rough and scaly patches on any part of your skin just try it.

Think what your skin has had to go through during the winter just past. You have been out in rain and sleet and snow.

Every moment of perspiration, from skating, or some other exertion, then you have stood to "cool off." You have spent hours indoors at a temperature equal to summer heat. Then you have covered up your skin—except your face—and gone out into a temperature away below zero.

No wonder that with all these changes the spots, the eruptions, the scaly patches, at night, and note how quickly your appearance improves. As the rich, refined, herbal essences sink deeply into the tissue, the hard, scurfy-like patches are removed. The cuticle is softened. The cells beneath are stimulated to healthy operation.

The pores resume their work properly. Better color results. The cells of the skin are purified by Zam-Buk, become transparent, the blood beneath is able to impart its proper coloring to the tissue, and the delicate "peach bloom" of health replaces the sallowness and pallor of disease. A few days' use of Zam-Buk will be found to give this result. Use also Zam-Buk Soap.

Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap are obtainable from all druggists and stores, or by mail from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Is the Universe Double?

In 1904 Professor J. C. Kapteyn of Groningen announced his belief that the visible universe is not single, but double—that what we behold is not a system of stars, but two systems.

Since this announcement A. S. Edington of Greenwich, A. W. Bickerton and H. C. Plummer of Oxford and T. J. J. See of the Lick observatory have given their concurrence to it. Mr. Edington, for example, has analyzed the motion of six different groups of stars, and he has shown the existence in every case of two sets of curves indicating two paths along which rival star systems are streaming. One stream travels at the rate of seventeen miles a second and the other at the rate of five miles.

The movement of our sun is thirteen miles a second toward the region in the heavens now marked by the great star Arcturus, though he is hastening to meet us. The two pointers of the Great Bear are going along with the earth, other stars of the Great Bear away from the earth. Sirius is in our stream; so are the brightest stars of the Northern Crown—one in the Lion, one in Eridanus and one in Auriga.—William Bayard Hale in World's Work.

Got Her a Seat. A young woman entered a subway train at Seventy-second street and, seeing that she would have to stand, she weekly grasped a strap near one on which a stout, well built man was hanging. Hardly had the train pulled out from the station when she heard a voice saying, "There's a seat, madam," and turning around she beheld her big neighbor pointing to a little space between two men. She stepped forward, but as neither of them seemed inclined to make room for her she smilingly declined to sit where she was so evidently not wanted. Whereupon the big man decided to occupy the space himself! He sat down and after a few seconds began to work himself backward and forward, to right and to left, until presently his neighbors, yielding to his bulk, moved up, and lo! he was in possession of a comfortable seat. Then he arose, politely doffed his hat, bowed to the woman and said: "Now, madam, I think you will find room! Won't you sit down?"—New York Tribune.

How Old is the Earth? Sir George Darwin's statement at Cambridge that the late Lord Kelvin's estimate of the earth's age has been seriously vitiated by the discovery of radium since the calculation was made will meet with the entire approval of geologists. For many years physicists and geologists have been disputing on this matter, and the latter have utterly failed to make the facts of geology fit in with what they termed Lord Kelvin's "miserable allowance" of time. Now, however, that it is established that the earth has a large store of heat producing radium and other radioactive substances, mathematics is able greatly to extend the "miserable allowance" a trifle of 20,000,000 years, and the 800,000,000 years necessary to account for the geologists' phenomena is no longer considered too big a draft on the bank of time. The Hon. Mr. Strutt has assigned a minimum age of 711,000,000 years for some archaic rocks from Canada he has examined.—Dundee Advertiser.

Broke Up the Game. Willie finally persuaded his aunt to play train with him. The chairs were arranged in line, and then he said: "Now, you be the engineer and I'll be the conductor. Lend me your watch and get up into your cab." He then hurried down the platform, timepiece in hand.

"Pull out there, you red headed, pie faced jay!" he shouted to the astonishment of the young woman. "Why, Willie!" she exclaimed in amazement.

"That's right; chew the rag," he retorted. "Pull out. We're five minutes late already."

They have had to forbid his playing down by the tracks.—Illinois Central Employees' Magazine.

The Paradise Fish. There flourishes in Chinese rivers and lakes a small fish remarkable for its brilliant coloring, of crimson and blue. It is called the paradise fish. In the sunlight it shows in rainbow hues. The most interesting thing about this little fish is the nest made by the male of glutinous bubbles below the surface of the water and measuring up to six inches across. Here it places the eggs, some 200 in number, and mounts guard over them during incubation.

Sly Management. "Haven't you a handsomer chasing dish than that?" asked the customer. "You want something even more ornamental than this?"

"Yes. I want one so beautiful and expensive that my wife wouldn't think of trying to cook anything in it."—Exchange.

Herself Alone. "Harold, do you love me for myself alone?"

"For yourself alone. And that's why I object to loaning your father money and standing for your little brother's pestiferousness."—Kansas City Journal.

Don't Mean It. Isn't it queer that when a man addresses you by saying "Say!" he wants you to keep still so that he can say something himself?—New Orleans Picayune.

So It Does. "Always hit the line hard, my boy." "Oh, I don't know, dad. Sometimes it pays to try to run around the end."—Detroit Free Press.

COST OF THE BALKAN WAR.

The cost in money of the Balkan war to all the European nations has been millions upon millions and the expenses are mounting every day. Bulgaria is spending at least $120,000 a day, on a very conservative estimate; Servia $100,000 a day; Greece, $60,000, and Montenegro, $10,000, making a total for the Balkan allies of practically $300,000 a day. Of a total force of 800,000 men actually engaged at the front, the allies lost 60,000 killed up to the signing of the armistice.

England, of the great European powers not actually engaged in the war, has escaped with the least expenditure. Until her recent agreement with Russia, Austria was spending $260,000 a day, principally mobilization expenses, and the Russian expenditure probably exceeded that amount.

To these direct expenditures must be added the enormous and incalculable losses sustained by industry and commerce over a large area of the world, and by non-combatants.

No matter how fanciful a man may be, he can't draw on his imagination for money.
