NEWS AROUND TOWN

For wedding presents, try Macfarlane's.

The Western Fair, London, will be held from September 5 to 13.

Hammocks at a great reduction at Macfarlane's.

Get your wedding invitations at The Chronicle office.

Wool is in big demand just now, and several anxious buyers are ready to pick up all they can get. They are paying top prices.

The Glenelg Centre Baptist church will hold its annual garden party at Mr. James McGillivray's, on Friday, July 4.

There is hardly a vacant house in Durham, and yet there are people who tell us the town is all going to the dogs.

Frank Lenahan has the cellar excavated for a new house he intends to build on the Campbell property.

Dr. Brown, eye, ear, nose and throat, will be at the Hahn House on Saturday, June 21, from 12 to 5 p. m. Eyes tested and glasses supplied.

The showers on Sunday and Sunday night were much needed in this locality and the crops are looking better. We are in need of more.

Friends of Rev. Mr. Ferguson will regret to learn that his health is not good. We met him and Mrs. Ferguson a couple of weeks ago on their way to Toronto to consult a specialist, and afterwards learned he had to undergo a very critical operation.

Miss Norma Wright has been re-engaged in Whitby College for next year at an advanced salary, and her sister, Miss Eleanor Wright, is a soloist in the Metropolitan church, Toronto. Rev. and Mrs. Wright, of Paisley, are leaving there and will move to Toronto in a week or so.

A couple of weeks ago we referred to the seizure of small quantities of intoxicants at the two downtown hotels. Both owners pleaded guilty and the case was finally disposed of on Saturday last by the imposition of a fine of $100 each. One bottle taken from the Hahn House, labelled plainly as "whiskey" turned out to be no stronger than water.

The rural mail service to Allan Park and Vickers, by way of Hanover, has not been an improvement to Durham. The Chronicle is put in the postoffice, here every Wednesday evening and goes to Hanover next day at noon. This it seems is too late for the rural mail referred to, and the papers are forced to remain in Hanover till Friday. If mail were carried on the night C. P. R. trains it would relieve the situation very materially. It may come to that yet. As it is now no matter post-poned here after 3.30 will not reach Vickers, 3 miles away, until the evening of the second day following. The rural mail routes are all made to serve the interests of the big cities.

The Canadian Order of Foresters attended service in a body last Sunday evening at the Methodist church. Shortly before seven o'clock about seventy-five of their members lined up before their lodge room and led by the Citizen's band made their way to the church where they had reserved the aisles which had been reserved for their accommodation. Before entering on his sermon, proper based on Acts, IV: 12, Mr. Prudham congratulated the society and expressed his pleasure in believing this and all similar organizations designed for the benefit of humanity and the general uplifting of society, were based on the teaching of the Bible, and to all such he could offer his warmest congratulations. It was not so, however, with bodies who banded together for purposes of evil. Such societies as the one before him should be co-workers with the church, each depending on the other for its greatest measure of success. The sermon was listened to with marked attention.

Wanted.—A car of potatoes—Mrs. A. Beggs & Son.

The next horse fair will be held on Thursday, June 19.

Some correspondence, and other matter has been held over till next week.

The I. O. F. will attend divine service in Trinity church next Sunday evening, June 22. The band will be in attendance.

The Entrance examinations are on. Nearly 60 candidates are writing here, and over that number at Dundalk.

The re-opening of McKechnie's mill and the hum of machinery in the McKechnie factory, have added additional life to Queen street.

Auction Sale.—Farms, farm stock implements, etc., at the farm of the proprietor, Wm. Wall, on Saturday, July 5, 1913. Ten months' credit. See bills for fuller particulars. R. Brigham, Auctioneer.

There was a joint meeting of the town council and School board on Monday night last to discuss school matters and take into consideration the advisability of providing increased school accommodation. There was no definite action taken.

At twelve o'clock, noon, this Wednesday, Mr. Howard McDonald and Miss Edith Diegel were married at the home of the groom's parents. We wish them a long and happy married life.

Mrs. Brown, widow of the late John H. Brown, died at her home here, this Wednesday morning, after a lingering illness of several months from paralysis. She was eighty-one years of age. Interment will take place on Friday afternoon at 2.30, to Durham cemetery.

The annual excursion to the here and all intermediate stations to Minto, inclusive, on Saturday, next. The tickets permit holders to remain over Sunday and return by any regular train up to Monday night, June 23. The return fare from Durham is $1.50 for adults, and 75c. for children. The train leaves at 7 a.m.

We regret to learn of the death in Sault Ste Marie on Saturday, of Mr. Angus Cameron, a former resident of this place. We have no particulars, other than that he underwent an operation from which he never recovered. Mr. Cameron was employed for some time at the cement works here, and had the misfortune to lose one of his arms by having it caught in a belt.

The second match of the Saugeen Baseball League to be played here takes place on the agricultural grounds on Friday evening, when Hanover and Durham come together for the first time this season. The Durhams have put in a couple of weeks of good practice and should win. The admission fee is the same as the last game, 15c., with 10c. for ladies and children. The game starts at 6.30.

Mr. David McClocklin, familiarly known here as "Uncle Davy," an old gentleman over 80 years of age, is nursing a sore hand as the result of a very painful accident on Sunday night. Uncle Davy and his dog, "Curly," are inseparable friends; they are seldom apart, and it seems that one would hardly feel right without the presence of the other. On Sunday evening Mr. McClocklin and his dog were in front of the Hahn House, when Dr. Bradshaw Jamieson came along, accompanied by his bulldog. The bulldog, for some reason, has a grudge against "Curly," and as soon as he saw him started in for a fight. Mr. McClocklin had hold of "Curly" to avoid trouble, when the bulldog made a grab at him, catching Mr. McClocklin's finger, from which he tore off the skin right to the bone, and at the same time, we are told, bit off the first joint. There is much sympathy for Mr. McClocklin, but none for the bulldog, so far as we have been able to learn. Such brutes are never safe and should not be allowed to run at large.

HYMENEAL

HARGRAVE—TUCKER.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Tucker, Egremont, on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 11, when their youngest daughter, Mary Esther, became the bride of Mr. James Frederick Hargrave. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. H. Hartley, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Mrs. Joseph Brown, sister of the bride, played the wedding march, and Miss Ivy McKechnie, the little cousin of the bride, acted as ring bearer. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She was elegantly gowned in rich cream satin trimmed with a deep fringe of beads, and wore a bridal veil with wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a prayer book bound in white morocco, the gift of her two little nephews.

After the ceremony, which took place on the lawn, a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, which was festooned with red, white and blue ribbons.

The bride and groom are both well known throughout the community, having resided in Egremont all their lives. They will take up housekeeping at once on the groom's farm near Dromore.

The bride was the recipient of many presents, both ornamental and useful.

We extend hearty congratulations and good wishes to the happy young couple.

GLASS—SPARLING.

On Wednesday morning at half-past five a pretty wedding was duly solemnized at the home of Mrs. George Sparling, when her eldest daughter, Bertha, was married to Mr. W. A. Glass. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. W. W. Prudham, in the presence of only a few immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride looked charming in heavily embroidered net over cream liberty satin, and wore a beautiful necklace, the gift of the groom, and carried in her hand a handsome bouquet of white roses. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Rita Irwin, the bride entered the drawing room and took her place at the altar. After the ceremony and the tendering of congratulations, the company sat down to a dainty wedding breakfast. The table was handsomely decorated with pink and white carnations. The bride's travelling suit was navy blue serge with tan hat trimmed with tan plumes. The young couple took the early C.P.R. train for Toronto, and will go from there to Montreal by water by way of the Thousand Islands. On their return in the course of a week or so they will make their home in town. We congratulate the young couple and wish them both a full measure of joy.

JOBIN—MORAN.

The marriage of Miss Llowyin Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Moran, of 719 Rosser avenue, to Mr. Frank Jobin, of this city, took place at 6.15 yesterday morning in St. Mary's church. Rev. Father O'Dwyer officiating. Miss Browning presided at the organ, and during mass Mrs. McGuire sang "O Salutaris," to the musical setting of "The Rosary." The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a costume of tailored lines of silk in blue and gold tones, the coat opening on a blouse of white chiffon. Her hat of blue crepe de chene, had a collar of blue feathers, the end of which fell over the brim at the left back. She wore a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley. A sister of the bride, Miss Fannie Moran, attended her, and wore a white serge costume with a hat of tagel braid trimmed with bows of illusion with gold tones. She wore a corsage bouquet of valley lilies. Mr. Edward Jobin was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Jobin drove immediately after the ceremony to the Union depot, boarding the train for St. Paul, Chicago

New York. They will spend some time in Montreal, returning in about a month by way of the Lakes.—Winnipeg Free Press News Bulletin of June 10.

SIX MORE DEATHS TO-DAY; CONSUMPTION THE CAUSE

Six people die every day in Ontario from tuberculosis—at the rate of one person every four hours—a total of over 2,300 deaths every year—equivalent to the wiping out and loss to the community of a good sized town.

An appalling loss of life. The dreadful pity is that this continual sacrifice is quite unnecessary. These lives, or most of them, might be saved.

Pioneer work in the crusade against consumption has been done by the National Sanitarium Association. The hospitals at Muskoka and Weston are to-day standing evidence of the magnificent achievements of the Association.

One branch of the Association work—a free illustrated lecture with one hundred lantern views—is delivered by Mr. J. B. Watson, the Field Secretary of the Association. This lecture will be given on Sunday evening, June 22, at 8.15 o'clock, in the town hall. A collection will be taken at the close.

"The amount of information which Mr. Watson was able to convey to his hearers in a short time was marvellous. His style of delivery was excellent."

"Those who heard Mr. Watson's lecture were interested, informed, and pleased."

"The wonderful lecturer gave most valuable information in a manner most thoroughly entertaining."

"Admirably practical and instructive."

"A speaker of unusual ability."

"A most thrilling lecturer."

Such is the chorus of praise, without any note of dissent, which has greeted Mr. Watson's lecture during the past eighteen months.

The lecture explains in a simple interesting and complete way exactly what the disease is, how to avoid it and how to treat it.

Parents especially should know how to protect themselves and their children. Every private individual—man, woman and child—is in danger and should know how to combat it.

It is not too much to say that this lecture has been the means of saving many lives. It answers questions everybody is anxious to know. It is simplicity itself—a child can understand.

To attend such a lecture is a privilege. We heartily commend it to our readers.

DURHAM LOSES SCHOOL

We regret to announce for certain that Durham has lost the Model school, an educational institution that many took pride in since Model schools came into existence many years ago. It may not be removed permanently, but we fear it has. The session this fall will be in Hanover, which receives with open arms the conditions required by the government. There is no use in concealing the facts, and to say that Durham is short-sighted in not holding what she has, and reaching out and grasping for other institutions is an indisputable truism. Anything that will bring people to the town, let it be an educational institution or a manufacturing industry, it will be a benefit to have it under control, and to nurture it so as not to lose it. We cannot well say that we had no warning; if we lost it, it was our own fault.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burnett and children left Wednesday for British Columbia, where they intend to spend the summer. Mr. Burnett is evidently not tired of Durham as he just completed the purchase of the new brick house occupied by Mr. J. Robertson, from Mr. Zenus Clark, before leaving.
