

THE DURHAM CHRONICLE

H. IRWIN Editor and Proprietor.

DURHAM, OCTOBER 2, 1913.

IS IT COMMON SENSE ?

Law doesn't always seem to be justice

Any man with the spirit of a flea in him will try to take his own part if imposed upon.

Laws are supposed to be the crystallized wisdom of the wise men who made them.

The foregoing we are free to admit, has a local significance. It refers to a fistic encounter that took place here not very long ago.

The foregoings we are free to admit, has a local significance. It refers to a fistic encounter that took place here not very long ago.

Let us not be misunderstood; we are opposed to quarreling, and were never in sympathy with fighting.

THE PUNISHMENT OF CRIME

The time is evidently coming when crimes deserving severe punishment will continue to be treated as lightly as they have been in some cases in the past.

Only last week, a young imbecile who set fire to the Hartley House barns in Walkerton, was sent for three years to the penitentiary.

Another man at Simcoe, guilty of improper assault on a young girl, was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary and had twenty lashes imposed upon him during his imprisonment.

Talk about moral suasion, and an appeal to the better and nobler feelings of humanity!

and persons with contagious diseases, are kept apart from the great bulk of society.

NOTES ON THE FAIR

The gate receipts ran up to about $40, and we understand was the best in the history of the association.

The cattle, horses, sheep, poultry and live stock in general were good, in fact the outside show as a whole was good, and better than many of its predecessors.

Mr. R. J. Ball, M.P., was in attendance, and no doubt spent a profitable day in getting more in touch with the electors in this part of his constituency.

The horse races were keenly contested, and results on the track were highly satisfactory to those who came.

The best time to begin for next year's fair is now, and by making a start at once and keeping up the agitation, the results of the 1914 exhibition will surpass anything yet held in quantity and quality of exhibits, and barring extremely unfavorable weather, the receipts will be all right.

Outside, considerable interest was taken in the gasoline engines in operation, and a cream separator or two, explained by the agents. It is always interesting for farmers to examine the different kinds of implements and labor-saving devices, and especially if these devices are in active operation.

Mr. John Arbogast, of Stratford, a celebrated breeder of Clydesdale horses, was the government appointed judge of horses at the fair here.

Much could be done to give appearance to the show inside the hall if business men would go to a little more trouble in displaying their wares and commodities.

A concert was held on both nights, but the attendance was not large enough to be profitable to the society.

Hon. J. S. Duff delivered a brief, pointed address, standing in a wagon in front of the great natural grandstand.

Another man at Simcoe, guilty of improper assault on a young girl, was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary and had twenty lashes imposed upon him during his imprisonment.

Concrete is the cheapest building material

WHETHER for a silo, a milk-house, or a million bushel grain elevator, concrete is the most economical building material in use today.

Concrete never requires repairs, and the saving in repair-expense alone makes the greater economy of using concrete more apparent every day.

Canada Cement

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only ingredient you have to buy.

An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have warranted it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement.

When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada" Cement; by so doing you will assure the complete success of all your concrete work.

Send a post card for our book "What the Farmer Can do With Concrete." It is free.

HOUSEWIFE.

The really practical house dress must be in one-piece, must open in front or at the side, should have three-quarter length and the neck a trifle low, should also clear the shoulders more than one's dressmaker gowns. Avoid self-bands, stitching, or cotton braids are all features to be avoided.

As economy of time is so important as money, choose one pattern that will come and simple and such dresses from it. If slender, the one-piece is easily made, but is apt to be "wrappy." For most better choice is a simple waist and four-gored piece skirt attached at the waist by a stitched belt or high effect.

Do not have belts, cuffs detachable if you lose valuable time in dressing, is easy to give variety of color or trimming, and button-holes are fastened than hooks, and decorative.

Two housework dresses, but three are a low for mishaps. It is wear one dress a week neat. The three may be less than $4.
