EGYPTIANS DIVIDED DAY.

The early Egyptians divided day and night each into twelve hours, a custom adopted by the Jews and Greeks probably from the Babylonians. The day is said to have been divided into hours from 293 B.C., when L. Papirus Cursor erected sundial in the temple of Quincius at Rome. Before water clocks were invented in 158 B.C., time was called at Rome by public criers. In England the measurement of time was, in early days uncertain; one expedient was by wax candles, three inches burning an hour, and six wax candles burning twenty-four hours—ascribed to Alfred, 896.

MOST OF THE PLOWING IN THE WEST IS COMPLETED.

A despatch from Winnipeg, dated last Thursday, says: Awaiting reports from 76 points, Manitoba has a good average crop as to yield, and decidedly more than an average crop as to quality.

Threshing is complete, a very large amount of grain has been moved, the weather has been good throughout and there has been no car shortage and no delay.

The coarse grains are not so satisfactory as wheat. There are yields of from 25 to 30 bushels per acre, nearly all in the north, where the acreages of wheat are not so large as in the south and centre. In the south and centre are found 13, 14, 15 and 16-bushel averages.

So far as Manitoba is concerned her grain crop is safe, being all threshed, a large percentage shipped and the balance in store, either in home granaries or local elevators.

Not only is the crop of 1913 safely gathered, but preparations are well completed for early seeding of the crop of 1914. Fully so per cent. of the fall plowing is done. There was a large percentage in summer fallow and also an addition of about three per cent. of newly-broken land.

At about 15 points elevators have ceased to ship wheat and are filling up for winter storage. The spread between the street and the track price has averaged about 3c, which is not an unreasonable spread when there is any question of not getting the wheat to lake ports before the close of navigation.

Taken altogether, Manitoba has a good crop well saved and the only ground for complaint is the very low price for good wheat, and in this, with her shorter haul, Manitoba suffers much less than the provinces to the west of her.

HOW TO WEAR KILTS.

The following interesting rules have been drawn up by the Inverness Kilt Society, with the assistance of Lord Lovat, Lord Seafield, and other Scottish chiefs, in regard to the correct wearing of the Highland dress, according to tradition. The kilt is to touch the centre of the knee-cap in front, and great care must be taken that the kilt is not lower on one side than the other. The lower part of the belted plaid is exactly to reach to the bottom of the kilt. The hose are to be worn one inch higher than the centre of the calf of the leg (a good guide is to get the top of the hose just below the small bone on the outside of the leg below the knee-cap). There should be the breadth of the hand between the top of the hose and the bottom of the kilt.

AN ADVICE TO EMIGRANTS.

London, Eng., Oct. 23.—Amongst a number of useful hints to emigrants contained in a circular issued by the emigrant's information office, the official department for emigration here, there occurs the following:

"Remember that Canada is a great Dominion, with long settled laws, habits and customs, which are not to be changed at the bidding of every new arrival. When you have been a little while in Canada, you will value them also."

"Every country has its own methods of work, and in Canada you will often find the arrangement of the workshop or the farm and the tools you will use, different from those at home. You will soon accustom yourself to the change if you try."

"Do not, above all things, try to impress upon your Canadian employer how much better we do things in England, for it will only make him dislike you, and perhaps not care to keep you in his employ. Canadians, too, often resent criticism of their country or its methods, but you should remember that they have been working in Canada long before you were born, and that they are more likely than a stranger like yourself to know what suits that country best."

RESCUED FROM "WHIRLPOOL."

Fred Preston is to-day the newest hero of the whirlpool rapids, says a Niagara Falls despatch of the 24th inst. This distinction he obtained last night when he swam into the very vortex of the whirling water to save Peter W. Langgard, of Copenhagen, Denmark, who had negotiated the gorge in a motor boat for a "movie" company. Langgard's engine gave out when he was in the whirlpool and he was only pulled from death in the nick of time.

For nearly three hours Langgard endeavored to clear the propeller of the driftwood that clogged it by leaning over the stern of the boat, but the debris was so tightly jammed between the flanges and the hull that he could not remove it, and the careening of the boat when it was sucked into the very centre of the whirlpool made it necessary for him to devote nearly all his efforts to keep it from overturning.

Time after time the prow of the little craft was sucked down into the whirling waters and the stern was lifted high in the air. To the hundreds that lined both shores at dusk, it seemed that Langgard must lose in the end. When the boat upturned he would lean out over the stern, and, by balancing, would swing it out into a narrow circle outside the heaviest point of suction, only to be swung back to the danger point in a few minutes later.

Preston took a rope with him, and after many apparent failures got Langgard and his boat to safety. Preston was given an ovation when he emerged very wet but a life-saver.
