

THE DURHAM CHRONICLE

$1.00 PER YEAR

DURHAM, ONT., THURSDAY NOVEMBER 13, 1913.

46—NO. 2438

For All Kinds of Commercial Printing Try The Chronicle

NEWS AROUND TOWN

Potatoes, per bag, $1.
Butter, 20c.; eggs, 28c.

The furniture company has installed a $4,000 gluing machine.

The Presbyterian church has had new furnaces installed in the basement of the church.

A car load of potatoes just arrived. Leave your order at the mill.—F. J. Welsh.

Use Five Roses flour and you'll have good bread.—Mrs. A. Beggs & Son.

A credit auction sale of a car load of stock, consisting of 25 head of cattle, will be held at R. Brigham's, Allan Park, on Friday, November 21, at two o'clock.

Dr. Farquharson announces that he wishes to sell his driving horse, buggy and harness, both new, and cutter. A sale of furniture and household effects will be announced later. For particulars, apply at the Manse. Phone No. 16.

No books will be given out at the Library on Friday and Saturday of this week, or on Monday and Tuesday of next week, on account of arranging the Library for the big meeting of the Library Association of Orangeville District, to be held on the 17th and 18th of November.

License Inspectors Beckett, of Owen Sound, and Allan, of Durham, attempted a search of the Middaugh House on Saturday night. They had got as far as the bar, but as they were told the proprietor was not at home, and no one had the keys in their possession, they decided to wait till returned. After reeling all night in a couple of chairs in the sitting room, the inspectors departed in the morning without having accomplished their purpose.

At the court here Wednesday a case was tried between Jas. Snell of Egremont and Wm. Kreller of Normanby. At a recent horse fair Snell bought a horse from Kreller, but became dissatisfied and sold the horse at auction, and the price he paid. A number of witnesses testified, and decision was given in favor of the defendant. We are told that the judge stated that his decision was based wholly on the evidence of Mayor Black. Mr. Black certainly knows the necessary points in a good horse.

Some months ago we referred to Thos. F. Mighton abusing his wife and taking his three children away with him. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he made good his escape. The authorities were on the lookout for him, and when he was in Manitoba, Con- stable Cook, of Ceylon, went out recently to effect his capture. He failed to locate Mighton, however, but secured the three children, who were restored last week to the anxious mother. It was learned by Mr. Cook that the police was in Winnipeg, and the police were notified with the result that a telegram announcing his capture was received here before Mr. Cook's return with the children. We understand Mr. Cook has returned to Winnipeg to bring Mighton here for his preliminary trial.

The Owen Sound Times has entered the 51st year of its publication, and last issue contained an interesting history of the inception, growth and development of the paper since the faraway dawn of its existence in the fall of 1853. The article is contributed largely by Mr. David Creighton, now of Toronto, but a former proprietor of that Journal. It is written in a racy, readable style, and its perusal will bring back many reminiscences to the older inhabitants of Owen Sound and the county of Grey generally. That the Times may continue to grow and prosper is our sincere wish. It is always a welcome visitor to our sanctum.

We always found it a good newsy sheet, and under the present editorial management we believe a strenuous effort is made to give only reliable information.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

"The Devil" was the topic on which a very able address was delivered on Monday evening in the Presbyterian church. The speaker was Rev. Dr. Fraser, of Owen Sound, and notwithstanding the unfavorable condition of the weather, a good audience was in attendance.

It was the 14th anniversary of Dr. Farquharson's induction, and like all previous gatherings in commemoration of the event, it was marked on Sunday by special services, followed on Monday evening by a program and lecture. Unlike any of its predecessors, however, this anniversary was marked with sadness, owing to the recent illness of the pastor and his resignation of the charge. Last February he took ill from heart trouble and has not been able since to take charge of his regular work. The congregation has been extremely anxious for his recovery, and through all his period of illness have done what they could to relieve him of responsibility and allow him to rest to restore him to his former vigor. When he recently tendered his resignation the congregation were unanimous in wishing him to withdraw it, when they would extend his leave of absence for another six months to furnish him his regular salary, and pay him his regular supplies in the interval. This, Dr. Farquharson did not feel disposed to accept, and after a few days' consideration, felt it was better, under the circumstances, to allow his resignation to stand, and will leave here in a few days.

Mr. Farquharson will be missed, not only as the pastor of his congregation here, but as a good and useful citizen of the town generally. He always showed a deep interest in all matters pertaining to the town, and moral welfare of the town, and bore the respect and good will of all citizens, irrespective of their denominational leanings.

At eight o'clock, Dr. Farquharson occupied the chair, and asked the congregation to join in the National Anthem. The program consisted of a number of finely rendered selections by the choir, solo by Mrs. Lauder, a duet by Mrs. Stonehouse and Miss Black, and a solo by Mr. Telford.

In introducing his subject on "The Devil," Dr. Fraser prefaced his remarks by a few humorous references, and then told the congregation he had not found "The Devil" a humorous subject. He briefly referred to his Satanic Majesty as the tempter in the Garden of Eden, the tempter of Christ in the wilderness, and then referred to the representation as "a great dragon," as pictured in the Revelations.

Amongst literary productions descriptive of the devil he quoted Milton in "Paradise Lost," Dante in his "Inferno," John Bunyan in his "Pilgrim's Progress," Robert Burns, and a number of others, one of whom represents the devil as "the well-dressed man of society."

The real devil in his truest representation is described in the chapter of Romans, from which the speaker read from verses 15 to the end of the chapter. From this he concludes that the Devil we have to fight with day after day is not an outward personality or spirit, but an evil within ourselves. "Some men," he said, "have created their own devils, and as instances of the different devils against which different people have to fight, he mentioned uncontrolled temper, miserliness, vanity and drink, and used a number of apt illustrations to strengthen his contentions.

WITHIN THE LAW

This is the title of the new serial story The Chronicle will publish. The first instalment of which appears in this issue. The story is written by Marvin Dana, from the play "Within The Law," by Bay-play Veiller. This play is the sensational success that made New York weep, laugh and gasp for over 450 nights, and won recognition for American playwrights in London, England.

Within The Law is being played this week at the Alexandra Theatre, Toronto, and as it is a special return engagement, must have considerable merit. It is described as "a play of modern conditions, with a punch in every line."

The Chronicle is confident that in presenting to its readers this latest story, it is giving them an opportunity of reading the greatest serial ever published, and while we have at all times endeavored to provide the best copyright stories available, we believe that never before have we served our readers with a continued story just quite so good.

If you are not a subscriber to The Chronicle, now is your chance. The story "Within The Law" is in itself worth the price of a year's subscription. Subscribe now, and get the benefit of our low offer of The Chronicle from now till January 1, 1915 for $1.00.

At the close of the meeting, inspector Campbell, in a very congratulatory strain, in which he eulogised the address, moved a hearty vote of thanks. This was ably seconded by Principal Allan. A selection by the choir followed. The benediction by Dr. Farquharson, brought the meeting to a close, and passed another milestone in the history of the Durham Presbyterian church.

NEW MANTLES JUST ARRIVED

There is great comfort in a long Coat with a Fur Collar. There is so large a portion of the winter which is severe and blustery that the possession of a long Mantle with a Fur Collar is practically a necessity in every women's complete wardrobe.

We have them and they are made specially for ourselves; they have superior quality of cloth also superior lining and are a little longer than the ordinary Fur Collar Coat. Any one intending to purchase a good warm coat should see this line before selecting elsewhere. We have also passed into stock within this last week 36 Ladies' New Coats ranging in price from $6.00 to $15.00.

Our showing of Men's and Boys Overcoats and Men's and Boy's Suits is an interesting feature of this store.

S. F. MORLOCK

Old Fashioned in Wear Only

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear

For Men, Women and Children.

Every garment is severely tested before leaving the factory and is positively guaranteed not to shrink.

Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Stanfield's pure wool sweater coats, the kind that wear.

J. & J. Hunter

Abraham Fair and Square

COATS

Hose

fresh water herring and trout by the keg.—Mrs. Eggs & Son.

are pleased to say that Willie Farquharson is reported to be moving.

Good general servant to Burlington about the 15th of November. Apply to Mrs. Robertson.

horse fairs are again announced and bills are out announcing the next one to take place on Thursday, November 20.

have not yet learned of the decision in the big law suit between Alfred Rogers and the National Portland Cement Co. We understand the verdict is likely to be against the Company.

horse belonging to Mr. George Weir escaped from him in the Methodist church sheds on Monday and ran over town. It collided with a post in front of the office and was soon captured. We understand Mr. Caswell is injured, but not seriously.

before leaving Glenelg for their new home in Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Weir were, on Thursday of last week, presented with a half-dozen by their neighbors and friends in the township, as a memento of their long residence amongst them. After the presentation a very enjoyable program was enjoyed by all. Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Weir as citizens.

Street fights are all too common an occurrence lately. There are a couple to be ventilated before the magistrate some of these days. Our opinion has been and still is that the biggest fine that can be imposed will soak into law breakers, and give them a better conception of themselves than anything else in sight. Things are getting serious and something must be done to put a stop to rowdiness and lawlessness.

Mrs. Charles Wilkinson died on Tuesday night, November 11, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Saunders. She was born in Scotland 80 years ago, and has been a resident of this town and vicinity for over 40 years. She was predeceased by her husband, who died about seven years ago. Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Jas. Watson, both residing in town, are the only surviving members of her family. The funeral will leave tomorrow, Friday afternoon, for interment at Maplewood cemetery.

W. H. Day, of Guelph, D.D.G.M., Professor of the Agricultural College, Guelph, accompanied by Wor. Bro. Benson, of Waverly Lodge, paid his official visit to Durham Lodge, No. 306, A.F. & A.M., on Tuesday night. After the Durham brethren had exemplified the degree work, adjournment was made to the banquet hall, where all did ample justice in the "Fourth Degree" work. Speeches and songs and toasts concluded a very profitable and enjoyable program.

A meeting of the Library Association of Orangeville District will be held here on Monday and Tuesday of next week, the 17th and 18th inst. The first session will open Monday afternoon at 2.45, when Secretary Ramage will deliver an address of welcome, followed by the annual address of President Dr. Farquharson, and other business. An evening session will be held in the library auditorium, commencing at 8 o'clock, by an address of welcome by His Worship Mayor Black. This meeting will be open to the general public, who are cordially invited to be present, and listen to an interesting program, in which W. R. Nursey of Toronto, Inspector of Public Libraries, and others, will take a prominent part. A session will be held Tuesday from 9 a. m. to

At the close of the meeting, inspector Campbell, in a very congratulatory strain, in which he eulogised the address, moved a hearty vote of thanks. This was ably seconded by Principal Allan. A selection by the choir followed. The benediction by Dr. Farquharson, brought the meeting to a close, and passed another milestone in the history of the Durham Presbyterian church.

At the close of the meeting, inspector Campbell, in a very congratulatory strain, in which he eulogised the address, moved a hearty vote of thanks. This was ably seconded by Principal Allan. A selection by the choir followed. The benediction by Dr. Farquharson, brought the meeting to a close, and passed another milestone in the history of the Durham Presbyterian church.

At the close of the meeting, inspector Campbell, in a very congratulatory strain, in which he eulogised the address, moved a hearty vote of thanks. This was ably seconded by Principal Allan. A selection by the choir followed. The benediction by Dr. Farquharson, brought the meeting to a close, and passed another milestone in the history of the Durham Presbyterian church.

At the close of the meeting, inspector Campbell, in a very congratulatory strain, in which he eulogised the address, moved a hearty vote of thanks. This was ably seconded by Principal Allan. A selection by the choir followed. The benediction by Dr. Farquharson, brought the meeting to a close, and passed another milestone in the history of the Durham Presbyterian church.

At the close of the meeting, inspector Campbell, in a very congratulatory strain, in which he eulogised the address, moved a hearty vote of thanks. This was ably seconded by Principal Allan. A selection by the choir followed. The benediction by Dr. Farquharson, brought the meeting to a close, and passed another milestone in the history of the Durham Presbyterian church.