Lesson III. - Second Quarter. April 16, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts x, 1-16-Memory Verses, 13-15-Golden Text, Rom x, 12-Commentary Prepared by Rev D. M. Stearns.

Leaving Peter in the house of Simon the tanner at Joppa (chapter ix, 43), we turn for a little while to the home of Cornelius, the centurion, at Caesarea, where we find a man who, with all his house, feared God, prayed to God alway and gave much alms to the people (verses 1, 2). If religiousness and sincerity were all that is necessary we would think that this man was truly a saved man, but when we read that the angel said to Cornelius that Peter would tell him words whereby he and all his house would be saved (chapter xi, 13, 14) we know that they were not saved until after Peter came and preached the gospel to them. Like the treasurer of the queen of Ethiopia, he was an earnest seeker living up to the light he had, and to such God always sends more light, but there is no salvation revealed in Scripture as a result of our good works (Rom. iv, 5; Eph. ii, 8, 9; Tit. iii, 4, 5). It is the blood vised me strongly to try 'Golden Medical that maketh an atonement for the soul, Discovery.' I did so and took eight bottles and without shedding of blood is no remission (Lev. xvii, 11; Heb. ix, 22). Here, as in the case of the Ethopian.

the principal agencies used by God are an angel, the Holy Spirit, and a man (verses 3, 19). The eyes of the Lord are looking over the whole earth for whole hearts toward Himself, and it is also written "Ye shall seek Me and find Me when ye search for Me with all your heart" (II Chron. xvi, 9; Jer. xxix, 13). Cornelius was whole hearted, according to the light he had, and was certainly a sincere seeker after God. The same Lord in heaven who saw the desire for light in the heart of the man in the chariot, saw it also in Cornelius, for he searches all hearts. So He sent an angel from heaven to the home $35.00 sent an angel from heaven to the home of Cornelius, while he was in prayer (verse 30) to assure him that God had heard his prayers and recognized his alms (verses 3, 4). The ministry of the angels is always a most fascinating study. There are millions upon millions of them; they excel in strength, hear His voice, do His pleasure, go and come like lightning, minister to the saints (Rev. v, 11; Ps. ciii, 20, 21; Ezek. i, 14; Hab. i, 14). They seem easily to find any house and any person and need no doors opened for them. shall be like them in many respects by and by, but higher than they in the glory, for we shall be like Him.

The rest of the angel's message was that Cornelius was to send to Joppa for Simon Peter and learn from him what to do. The last we heard of Philip he was on his way to Caesarea, where he evidently lived (Acts viii. 40; xxi, 8, 9), but perhaps had not reached home at this time. How easy to read that when the angel had delivered his message he departed (verse 7), but do we stop to consider that it meant returned to heaven, from whence he came a few moments before?

Cornelius was not slow to call two of his household servants and a devout soldier who waited on him continually, tell them all that had happened and start them off to Joppa. Now we return to Peter, whom God had to prepare to go with these men to the home of Cornelius, a gentile. As the three men were approaching Joppa, Peter went on the housetop to pray. He was hungry and would have eaten, but while something was being prepared for him he fell into a trance. He saw heaven opened and something like a great sheet let down to the earth, full of all manner of creatures, and he was told to "Rise, kill and eat." When he objected on the ground that he had never eaten anything unclean, the voice said, "What God hath cleansed that call not thou common." This was repeated three times, and while Peter was wondering what it could mean the three men stood before the The school is thoroughly equipped in gate inquiring for him. So, when the men had made they had come, he called them in and THOS. ALLAN, Principal and Pro lodged them, and on the morrow went away with them, taking also some of the brethren from Joppa. The next day they reached the home of Cornelius and found that he had gathered > many to hear the message. In reply to Peter's inquiry as to why he had been sent for Cornelius rehearsed the story and then said, "Therefore are we all here present before God to hear all things that are commanded Lord. Peter proclaimed unto them Jesus of Nazareth, in His life and death and resurrection, as the one foretold by all the prophets, and that whosoever believeth in Him shall receive remission of sins (verses 34-43). While Peter was speaking the Holy Spirit came upon them all, and they spake with tongues and magnified God and were baptized in the name of the Lord (verses 44-48). Thus the circumcision learned that God had also granted to ancircumcised gentiles repentance unto Me (xi, 2, 18). We have combined next as follows: The Harnessmaker week's regular lesson with this one. as we purpose taking the Easter lesson hext week. SCHOOL, For Hang-on Coughs, Colds

For the coughs that run into consumption, a remedy is needed that will work on the blood, make it pure, rich and wholesome, build up the wasting tissues and put the body into condition for a fight against this dread disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery fights in the right way. Its first action is to put the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys in good working order; that makes digestion good and assimilation quick and thoro; it makes sound, healthy flesh. That's half the battle.

TAKE THIS CASE FOR INSTANCE. St. Catharines, Ont .- "I owe forever a while doing service in India. I have been engaged in nearly every country in the world and from having to sleep out in all kinds of weather the bronchitis became chronic and I was afraid of consumption at times. The doctors gave me no hope but that it would eventually mean consumption, I was so bad. I had tried every known remedy and physicians in foreign countries but got no relief. After returning home a friend adin all and to-day am entirely free from bronchitis. I honestly believe I would not be in the land of the living to-day were it not for this wonderful medicine."-CAPT. W. STRACHAN, R. E.

The following letter from Corporal Stedman, who enlisted from this office last October, will be of interest to his many friends. He is evidently in good spirits, and the feeling he shows is only an index, we presume, to the general spirit of the whole battalion. Stedman is an Englishman, and as he is going 'ome before going further, the next few months will be full of pleasant experiences. what he says:

"It is a most lovely day, on the 30th of March, and we are speeding away towards Halitax, and thence to somewhere in England. We received orders from headquarters on Wednesday to leave Galt at 8 o'clock, so promptly at 6.45 the "fall in" sounded, and everything was carried out to a nicety. After the mayor and a few of the fathers of Galt had wished us good-by and godspeed, were escorted to the station the 111th Battalion, the street being lined to their utmost capacity. We waded through the mud carrying our full active service kit We left Galt promptly at 8 o' clock, arriving at Guelph about 8.15, where we picked up two other companies of the battalion, Leaving there about 10.30 for Toronto, where we met the rest of the battalion from Woodstock, our trains were then split up and we started about 1.30. Speeding away all night, we reached Kingston for breakfast, which consisted of sandwiches, coffee, bread, butter and jam. As I write these where I intend to mail this letter. Up to the present nothing exciting has happened except, perhaps, the reception we received in Guelph. where I think every girl in town kissed us all good-by. All the boys are in the best of spirits. I do not know what boat we sail on. Well, I must cut his off short, as we are getting on our way and it is not convenient to write while the train is in motion. All the Durham boys wish to be remembered to their former friends and to thank them for the generous way they 10 a.m. were used since their enlistment.

CANADA from her abundance can help supply the Empire's needs, and this must be a comforting thought for those upon whom the heavy burden of directing the Empire's affairs has been laid. Gain or no gain the course before the farmers of Canada is as clear as it was last year—they must produce abundantly in order to meet the demands that may be made and I believe this to be especially true in regard to live stock, the world's supply of which must be particularly affected in this vast struggle. Stress and strain may yet be in store for us all before this tragic conflict is over, but not one of us doubts the issue, and Canadians will do their duty in the highest sense of that great word."-HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

> MODERN war is made by resources, by money, by foodstuffs, as well as by men and by munitions. While war is our first business, it is the imperative duty of every man in Canada to produce all that he can, to work doubly hard while our soldiers are in the trenches, in order that the resources of the country may not only be conserved, but increased, for the great struggle that lies before us. 'Work and Save' is a good motto for War-time."-SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister
