A RAEMAEKERS POSTER.

Louis Raemaekers, the famous Dutch cartoonist has generously drawn for the National Committee for Relief in Belgium one of the most remarkable and certainly the most heartrending of all the "War Posters."

The misery of the millions now in Belgium whom the Germans refuse to feed has inspired this notable artist to his finest effort. A Belgian woman, with a ragged red cloak over her shoulders, is holding tightly to her breast an infant in a shawl. Around the child is clasped the mother's hand—a hand which spells starvation. In the woman's face there is the infinite sorrow of motherhood, driven to despair by German inhumanity, and the pitiful, helpless yearning to relieve the child's suffering.

But it is in the face of the child that Raemaekers has told the full horror of the tragedy of Belgium. The starting terror in the eyes that look up at the mother makes one shudder and turn away to think what might have been in England. With remorseless realism Raemaekers, in this infant of pain, has visualized to the world the infamy of Germany.

The poster, which is artistically reproduced, has this laconic heading: "In Belgium." Underneath appears the one word "Help." Any reader of this paper can secure a copy of the poster free of cost by sending a postcard to the Hon. Secretary, National Committee for Relief in Belgium, Trafalgar Buildings, Trafalgar Square, London, England.

THE HOUSE FLY DANGER

House flies are now recognized as most dangerous carriers of the germs of such diseases as typhoid fever, infantile diarrhoea, tuberculosis, etc. From filth and decaying materials, they carry infection to the home and to the food which we eat.

The best method to exterminate flies is to prevent their breeding. House-flies breed in decaying or decomposing vegetable and animal matter and in excrement. Stable refuse is especially attractive to them. In cities this should be stored in dark fly-proof receptacles and should be regularly removed within six days in summer. Farm manure should also be removed within the same time and either spread on the fields or stored at a distance of not less than a quarter mile from a house of dwelling. Manure piles may be treated with borax, using three-fifths of a pound to every ten cubic feet of manure. Scatter the dry borax principally around the sides and edges of the pile and wash in with water.

Kitchen refuse is a favorite breeding place for flies, and great care should be taken to keep garbage cans tightly covered. The contents should be buried or burnt at once, if possible. No refuse should be left exposed if it cannot be disposed of at once it should be sprinkled with borax, as described above, or with chloride of lime.

Windows and doors should be screened to keep flies out of the house. Milk and other foods should be covered with muslin or other netting. It is especially important to keep flies out of sick rooms and to prevent the spread of disease by this means.

HER HUSBAND JOHN.

At Wisdom's font she loves to drink; She knows each line old Browning wrote. She speaks of Darwin's Missing Link As though it were her last year's coat. She knows Walt Whitman through and through, And Shelly's lines she dwells upon. She's very fond of Hamlet, too. And reads it to her husband John. Her husband John can talk all day About the ten-round fight he "seen."

He loves to watch the Giants play And takes a baseball magazine. He calls Hans Wagner "Good old Dutch." Has known McGraw and all his men, And he can tell you just how much Mike Donlin hit in nineteen-ten. She's read about old Milton's life. Why Burns was fond of getting tight And just why Byron left his wife— She says it served the lady right. Her husband John just hangs around, And blissfully the days are spent, Because they have no common ground On which to base an argument. —William F. Kirk, in Louisville Herald.

DO IT NOW.

If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing, If you like him, or you love him, tell him now. Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration As he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow. For no matter how you shout it, He won't really care about it, He won't know how many tears-drops you have shed; If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead! More than fame and more than money, is the comment kind and sunny, And the hearty, warm approval of a friend, For it gives to life a savor, and it makes you stronger, braver, And gives you heart and spirit to the end. If he earns your praise—bestow it; if you like him, let him know it! Let the words of true encouragement be said; Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

Sunlight Soap

The inducements offered with common soaps cannot make up for the purity of Sunlight Soap. It costs US more to make pure soap. But it costs YOU less to use it, for Sunlight pays for itself in the clothes it saves. It does not wear and rub the fabrics as common soaps do.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

To roll a jelly cake successfully the edges should be pared off. Muffins, biscuits and griddle cakes are appropriate supper dishes. Meringues should have long, slow cooking, if they are not to fall. Warm water and a good white soap can be used for cleaning almost any carpet. After an electric iron is overheated it will require more current to make it hot. Until tender and then put through the collander. It should be dressed with drawn butter. A table of weights and measures typewritten and framed under glass, should be hung in every kitchen. The systematic brushing of the hair every night will do much toward keeping the scalp and hair clean. Wash colored silks in cold water and a moderate amount of soap. Do not rub the soap directly on the fabric. A good dessert is made with bananas put through the potato ricer and sliced orange and pineapple added. When making tomato or asparagus soup a few grains of baking soda should be added to the cooked vegetables. Tooth powder is excellent for cleaning jewelry. Rub it on with a nail brush and then rinse off with scalding water. Almost all vegetables, except beans, should be cooked in as little water as possible; then this water thickened with butter, cream, and the tiniest amount of flour. The unused doorway makes an effective bookcase. The door should be locked and treated as the back of the case. Shelves can be set in the entire door space or the lower half. A fruit jelly—apples, bananas and pineapple chopped and put into a foundation of gelatine, strawberry juice and hot water—makes a delicious salad, served on lettuce leaves. An excellent cleaner for painted surfaces is made as follows: Two quarts of hot water, two tablespoonfuls of turpentine, a pint of skim milk, and enough soap to make a weak suds. Always take the draughts off the kitchen range when you have finished cooking a meal, thereby saving fuel. Olives and English walnuts ground together and moistened with mayonnaise make a good sandwich. Orange peels thoroughly dried, then put on a bed of coals, will shoot forth spikes of many-colored flames. Before putting a cork in a bottle, put a few drops of glycerine on it. The cork will then be easily removed. A nice way to serve cream cheese with salad is to roll it into a ball and place it on the side of the salad dish. Spinach is very good if cooked on the porch, adopt the comfortable trick of serving the entire meal on a huge platter. Sauces and salad dressings can always be made in the morning. Mincéd nasturtium leaves sprinkled over the omelet will give it a spicy flavor. Why not simplify the summer housekeeping as much as possible? Take down pictures and dust catchers, have no white curtains and use doilies instead of table cloths. These are only suggestions; there are so many ways of saving work when thought and care are taken.

WHY NOT?

If a female duke is a duchess, Would a female spook be a spuchess? And if a male goose is a gander, Then would a male moose be a mander? If water you freeze is frozen, Is the maiden you squeeze, then, squeezed? If a thing you break is broken, Would a thing that you take be token? If the plural of child be children, Would the plural of wild be wildren? If a number of cows are cattle, Would a number of bows be battie? If a man who makes plays is a playwright, Would a man who makes hay be a haywright? If a person who fails is a failure, Would a person who quails be a quailure? If the apple you bite is bitten, Would the battle you fight be fitten? And if a young cat is a kitten, Then would a young rat be a ritten? If a person who spends is a spendthrift, Would a person who lends be a lendthrift? If drinking too much makes a drunkard, Would thinking too much make a thunkard? But why pile on the confusion? Still, I'd like to ask in conclusion: If a chap from New York's a New Yorker, Would a fellow from Cork be a Corker? —Walter G. Doty, in Life

MY HEART'S IN THE HIGHLANDS.

My heart's in the Highlands, mv heart is not here; Mv heart's in the Highlands a-chasing the deer; Chasing the wild deer, and following the roe, My heart's in the Highlands wherever I go. Farewell to the Highlands, farewell to the North, The birth-place of valor, the country of worth; Wherever I wander, wherever I rove, The hills of the Highlands forever I love. Farewell to the mountains high covered with snow; Farewell to the straths and green valleys below; Farewell to the forests and wild-hanging woods; Farewell to the torrents and loud-pouring floods. Mv heart's in the Highlands, mv heart is not here; My heart's in the Highlands a-chasing the deer; Chasing the wild deer, and following the roe, Mv heart's in the Highlands wherever I go. —Robert Burns
