Had Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

Dear Mr. Editor—I want to write you about "Anuric." I was very sick, could hardly be up; I was in bed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to scream sometimes when I was sitting down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets so I thought I would try them. I took only one box of the Tablets, and my back is now free from pain and I can work and take care of my family. I feel I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, MRS. WM. KELLER.

NOTE: This "Anuric" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Great Institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been with one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases absolutely curing the diseased kidneys. Patients having once used "Anuric" at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, have repeatedly sent back for more. Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce has decided to put "Anuric" in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood cleanser and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to make rich, red blood, which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. You feel clean, strong and strenuous.

HOW LUXEMBURG LADIES TREATED GERMAN SCHEME.

The story of the Germans' attempt to induce the women of Luxembourg to form Red Cross societies, an attempt which failed by reason of the Luxemburgers' dislike of the Prussians is told by Mr. Francis Gribble in "The Edinburgh Review" as follows:

In my own neighborhood at all events, the plan was launched under favorable auspices. The Catholic clergy, secret adherents, a good many of them, of the Blue Blacks—supported it; the doctor having a German wife—a boisterous lady, firmly convinced that the German Emperor would soon be Emperor of Europe—was willing to give up a portion of his time to the work. A resident German lady—the widow of a high German functionary—went around the village canvassing, talking of Barmseigkeit, and pointing out that there were sure to be lots of French, British and Belgian prisoners who no less than the Germans would need attention. A building was selected as a hospital; classes of instruction for the volunteer helpers were organized; a public meeting was called; appropriate humanitarian speeches were made. And then, while we were all looking out for our first consignment of wounded, the scheme collapsed.

We wondered why, and presently we found out. It appeared that, when the appeal for recruits was addressed to the meeting, a lady had risen and offered her services for the nursing of French, British and Belgian wounded only. It further appeared that this lady's proposal had expressed the general sense of the meeting; that several other ladies had mustered sufficient courage to hedge their offers of service with the same invidious restriction; and that absolutely no lady present, with the exception of those of German birth, was willing to work for the Red Cross unless she were allowed to pick and choose the nationality of her patients. The Prussians had made the mess, and the Prussians might clear it up—that was the general sentiment; and as the Prussians could only get the ladies of the neighborhood to conduct a hospital for them on those lines, they naturally preferred to dispense altogether with their assistance.

In the capital, I believe, some of the ladies did help in the hospitals, but not by any means without friction. An attempt was made to assign them to German wards, leaving the French and Belgians to the care of German nurses who could not speak their language; but that refinement of cruelty was not accepted. The Luxemburg ladies got their way by threatening their resignation; and after that they found, of course, many opportunities of manifesting their sympathies, with the result that many interesting hospital anecdotes filtered through to us. One of them related to the visit paid to the hospital by the Kaiserin, who left a flower on the bed of every sufferer—to the intense disgust of the French wounded, who knew how the German soldiers had ravaged their homes in flagrant violation of the laws of war. They tossed the flowers indignantly on to the floor and the Luxemburg nurse consoled them. "Never mind," she said, "I'll get a dust-pan and brush, and we'll soon have that rubbish out of the way."

Perhaps adversity may prepare a man for the life beyond the grave, but it curtails his credit while on earth.

When a mother begins to tell her children how smart their father is, they look at her as reproachfully as if they thought she was losing her mind.

Instead of speaking his own mind many a man echoes his wife's.

LOYD-GEORGE MEDIATES

Irish Settlement Entrusted to Him—Discussion is Avoided

The British House of Commons has rarely seen a demonstration of greater unity than was displayed Thursday afternoon, when the leaders of all factions flocked to the standard of the Prime Minister in an effort to achieve a lasting settlement of the Irish question. Mr. Asquith made an earnest plea for the settlement of the Irish question by agreement among the contending parties in Ireland, and announced that David Lloyd-George had undertaken the delicate task of bringing the hostile factions together. The Premier concluded with an appeal that, for a time, all debate on the question, both in the House of Commons and outside, be suspended, in view of the adverse effect such argument might have on the difficult undertaking facing the Government. John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, acquiesced in the request, adding his own desire for a solution of the difficulties of his country. Mr. Redmond was followed by his political arch-enemy, Sir Edward Carson, who tendered his support to the proposition, and by the Independent Irish leader, William O'Brien, who did likewise. These speeches effectively obliterated party lines for the moment, and those members who had come prepared to attack the Government fell in with the leaders, and the question was dropped.

CANADIANS' BUSY WEEK

Canada's Heavy Artillery Worries Germans—Patrols Take Offensive

In contrast to the terrific battle on the French front at Verdun conditions on the British and Canadian fronts have remained almost normal, according to the weekly communique from the Canadian general representative at the front, which follows: Canadian General Headquarters in France, via London, May 25.—During the past week there was considerable artillery activity on the Canadian front. On various occasions sections of our line were heavily bombarded. Retaliation by our mortars and batteries proved effective in checking the enemy's fire and severely damaged his trenches. Sniping remained normal. Machine gun and rifle fire were brisk on both sides, particularly at night. Good progress was made in the construction and improvement of our own defensive works. Numerous hostile working parties were dispersed. Our patrols were consistently active, and gained much useful information. No enemy patrols were encountered. Bombs were dropped by German aviators in the vicinity of several of our camps and villages in our area. Their effect was insignificant.

Smuts Occupies Towns

British and Belgians Progress Far in East Africa

A British official communication on Saturday said: "Telegraphing May 25 Lieut. Gen. Smuts reports his troops have occupied the following localities without opposition: Ruwui Lager on the Panagani River 26 miles south of the Kahe railway station on the Usambara railway; Lembeni on the same railway 20 miles south of Kahe, and Ngulu, in the Ngulu Pass between the northern and central Pare mountain groups 8 miles southeast of Lembeni. In the Kondoa, Irangi area, where the enemy suffered a severe check May 9 and May 11, there are reports of renewed hostile activity. The German forces in Ruanda are in retreat before the converging Belgian columns, which hold Kigali, Nyanza, etc."

Bulgars Invade Greece

Venizelos Denounces Feeble Resistance of Greek Force

Saloniki reported on Sunday: A Bulgarian army of 25,000 led by German officers and supported by German cavalry, has crossed the Greek border, captured Fort Rupel and is in the Strumitza Valley. The invaders control the railroad from Saloniki to Kavala, which opens up an almost uninterrupted passage to their capital, Sofia. The Greek forces at Fort Rupel fired twenty-six shots at the advancing Bulgarians, and then retired. Athens is highly aroused over the invasion and Venizelos, newly re-elected to Parliament by Mitylene, denounces the nation's shrinking.

Townshend's Protests Vain

In a White Paper issued on Monday the fact that Gen. Chas. V. Townshend, who surrendered at Kut-el-Amara after being besieged by the Turks for 143 days, protested against the sending of a weak force up the Tigris toward Bagdad before the attempt was made was revealed. After warning his superior, Gen. Sir John Nixon, of his opinion of the grave risk of the endeavor Gen. Townshend made the attempt. The White Paper shows that on October 3 last he said that if the occupation of Bagdad was desirable two divisions (30,000 men), exclusive of communication troops, was necessary. He also protested to the Viceroy of India.

Ottawa announced on Sunday: The War Office has called for another Canadian Forestry Battalion of 1,500 men.

A Rome despatch on Sunday night Mr. Tacciporcelli, papal nuncio to Belgium, is regarded here as a decided diplomat, is regarded here as a decided diplomat, is regarded here as a decided diplomat.

Feeding the masses of the population in the larger cities by means of central kitchens under municipal auspices is the solution selected by the German Government to meet the problem of the food supply and distribution during the period of the war. Batocki will rush a bill allowing municipalities to borrow money to start these kitchens.

KING AND CONSCRIPTION

Message to Nation on Signing Bill—Canadians Are Exempt

The signature of King George was affixed on Thursday to the military service bill recently passed by Parliament. In giving the Royal sanction King George issued the following message to the nation: "To enable our country to organize more effectively its military resources in the present great struggle for the cause of civilization I have, acting on the advice of my Ministers, deemed it necessary to enroll every able-bodied man between the ages of eighteen and forty-one. I desire to take this opportunity of expressing to my people my recognition and appreciation of the splendid patriotism and self-sacrifice they displayed in raising by voluntary enlistment since the commencement of the war no less than 5,041,000 men—an effect far surpassing that of any other nation in similar circumstances recorded in history, and one which will be a lasting source of pride to future generations. I am confident the magnificent spirit which has hitherto sustained my people through the trials of this terrible war will inspire them to endure the additional sacrifice now imposed upon them, and that it will, with God's help, lead us and our allies to a victory which shall achieve the liberation of Europe. Regarding the position under the military service bill of Canadians residing in England the Secretary to the High Commissioner states that they secured the insertion of a proviso exempting Canadian subjects from the bill. Arrangements for putting this into operation have been completed, and where the High Commissioner is satisfied as to the bona fides of the applicant he will authorize the issue of a certificate enabling the military authorities to grant exemption.

ITALY HALTS AUSTRIANS

Invader's Losses Estimated at 69,000 in Twelve Days' Advance

London despatches on Sunday said: The tremendous pressure of the Austrian infantry and the bombardment of their huge guns continue unabated in the Lagarina Valley, but the Italians are stubbornly resisting further advances. For the first time in a week the Italian War Office report issued on Sunday has no record of any further retirement. All along the line the same resolute resistance is being offered by the defenders. The Austrians have driven a wedge for a certain distance into the Italian centre, but have been unable to advance the wings. A Swiss officer who has just returned to Milan from the Trentino estimates the Austrian losses for the twelve days of the present battle at the rate of nearly 6,000 men a day. Other reports from Berne set the Austrian losses at 69,000.

CANADIAN PRISONERS

Parcels Received in Germany, is Reassuring Message

Colonel Noel Marshall, President of the Canadian Red Cross, conferred with Colonel Hodgkiss and Mrs. Rivers Butely of the Prisoners' War Department at the Canadian Red Cross Thursday when it was decided, in view of questions raised in the House of Commons regarding the scant rations given to prisoners in German camps, to issue a statement of reassurance to the relatives and friends of interned Canadians and those interested in Red Cross work, that all parcels which the society sends out continue to be safely and promptly received. No complaints have reached the Canadian Red Cross. One writer speaks of the camp at Hanover as good, and adds: "What we greatly need is sporting gear, footballs, boxing gloves, etc., and if you can do anything for us we shall be grateful." In this camp there are 400 Britishers, most of whom are Canadians.

How Canada Helped

Services of Battalions Recognized by Gen. Haig

The official despatch of Sir Douglas Haig makes special reference to the work of the following Canadian units in carrying out and repelling local attacks and raids: First Canadian Divisional Artillery, Twenty-second Canadian Howitzer Brigade, Fifth, Seventh, Twenty-ninth and Forty-ninth Battalions. The Canadian Army Medical Corps is referred to as having displayed marked efficiency and devotion to duty. Gen. Haig mentions the arrival of the Anzacs and South Africans and additional Canadian forces in France, and says that this made possible the taking over of a greater extent of front.

Serbians Ready Again

Together with reports of incidents indicating an early offensive by the allies on the Balkan front the following despatch comes from Athens: The immediate objective of the Anglo-French in occupying Salonica, the defence of the position against the Austro-Germans and the Bulgarians, has been practically accomplished. The ultimate objective—a general offensive intended to drive the enemy out of Serbia and to invade Bulgaria—is nearing realization. The reorganized Serbian army has already been transferred to Salonica for this object.

Shelling Ypres Salient

London reported Sunday as follows: The Germans have been more active than usual against the British lines the past few days, and their expenditure of ammunition has been lavish, according to Sir Douglas Haig's report from headquarters in the field. The positions around Loos, St. Eloi and Ypres have been shelled with particular violence. Many mines have been exploded, the crater caused by those being occupied by the British in every instance.
