In referring to the garden party at Dr. Jamieson's in our last issue, we omitted to mention the name of Miss Jemima Lawrence as a contributor of an instrumental on the piano.

Commencing August 1, the Banks in Durham have decided to adopt banking hours to conform with those of surrounding towns, as follows: 9.30 a.m. to 3.00 p.m., except Saturday, when the hours will be 9.30 a.m. to 1 p.m. 7.20.4

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunsmoor and two children, and his mother, Mrs. W. S. Dunsmoor, of Hamilton, motored here last Sunday in their "Black Crow," and visited friends here till yesterday afternoon, when they left on the return trip.

There is another reduction in the price of Ford cars. Touring cars are now $495 and runabouts $475. The reduction on 1916 prices is $35 and $5 respectively, and if they continue at the same rate of reduction we hope to be able to buy a touring car in the year 1933.

Nine o'clock this morning, London time, was the time set for the hanging of Sir Roger Casement. The executioner is a barber named Ellis, who is to get a fee of $25. About a quarter to four this morning by our time would correspond with the time fixed.

A recent casualty list gives the name of Gladstone Colling, formerly reported missing, as now officially amongst the killed in battle. He was a son of the late Rev. Mr. Colling, pastor of the Methodist church here a few years ago, and was well known to many of our readers.

The Derooch branch of the Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. John Lang on Wednesday, August 9, at 2.30 p.m. Members are requested to be in their places. Visitors welcome. Ladies, bring your knitting, and on your way please leave a bundle of waste paper at Mrs. Dargave's to help the Red Cross.

Ten from town attended the meeting of the quarterly board at Zion Tuesday night, and at the close were served with a dainty luncheon by the ladies of the church.

Russell Lavelle's name appears in the list of wounded in yesterday's papers. As the address given is 240 Ontario street, Stratford, the street number of his father, Conductor Lavelle, there is no doubt about his identity.

A garden party in connection with St. Paul's church, Egremont, will be held at Allan's school house on Thursday evening, August 10. A good program will be rendered and refreshments served. Admission, adults 15c., children 10c.

The July just closed has been the hottest on record at the Toronto Observatory. The average temperature was 76 degrees. The nearest approach was July, 1868, when the average for the month was 75.3 degrees.

The annual garden party of Zion Epworth League will be held near the church on Wednesday evening, August 9. An excellent program of addresses, recitations, songs, music and other entertainment is being prepared. Tea served from 7 to 8. Admission 25c. and 10c.

Smith Bros. sold 30 new Ford cars from August 1, 1915 to August 1, 1916. For future sales, they have just received three new cars, and prospects are bright for big sales during the present year. The prices have all been reduced, taking effect August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. David Ferguson of Heathcote gave us a short call on Monday. We knew Mrs. Ferguson long ago, and were glad to see her again after many years. Mrs. Ferguson is a cousin of John Wright of Proton Station, and was returning with Mr. and Mrs. Wright from a motor trip to Chesley and Kincardine, where they visited other relatives.

Rev. Mr. Moyer and family leave this week for a three or four weeks' holiday. If the Sundays during his absence are to be as hot as it was last Sunday we would advise closing the church during his absence, so that the congregation may have a rest as well as the pastor. Last Sunday was a scorcher, and the churchgoers report a hot time.

Prices of supplies are still soaring, and it seems as if there will soon be a scarcity of news print. It may be necessary to reduce the size of papers to tide us over the coming shortage. In our last order for goods there were three articles cancelled, as the supply house was unable to furnish the articles, which they were out of indefinitely.

A narrow escape from death occurred at Owen Sound on Saturday morning at Lemon Bros.' warehouse, when Chas. Schultz, aged 14, was looking over a temporary partition at the elevator shaft when the elevator was descending. He did not notice it, and was caught in the back of the neck and drawn over the partition. Luckily, the partition yielded, and he escaped with severe bruises about his head.

The temperature on Sunday ran up to 103 in St. Marys, 101½ in London, 101 in Blenheim, 101½ in Stratford, 100 in Toronto. It was hot here, too, but we have no official record of what the thermometers thought about it, but the people are generally agreed that it was the hottest day of the season. Rain fell about nine o'clock in the evening, but it didn't seem to cool the atmosphere very much, and to get comfortable sleep during the night was quite out of the question. Camp Borden reports a temperature of 104 on Saturday.

PASSED 200 PER CENT.

Mr. John A. Graham, who is chief operator in that little school at the Rocky, is rejoicing over the success of his pupils at the recent Entrance examination. Two hundred per cent. of his prepared candidates were successful in making the grade. It was this way. He had one girl, Esther McLean, in the senior fourth class, and another girl, Merron McArthur, who was promoted in June from junior to senior fourth. Miss McLean was intended as the candidate to wrestle with the examination papers, and Miss McArthur thought she would try a crack at the same job. Note the names of the girls, McLean and McArthur. Both sound Scotch, but they're of different clans. The difference, however, was forgotten for the time. In peace and harmony they wended their way to the examination, and both came out conquerors. The two passed, when it was the teacher's intention to have only one try. That's how we make the 200 per cent. These little Scotch girls are great stuff, and there's no telling what they can do till they try. The chances are the third class pupils would have passed, too, if they had the chance.

STREET OILING

The Durham Chronicle and The Meaford Mirror are both making inquiries re the laying of the dust with oil. The Bradford municipal authorities have been oiling the streets for six years and find it cheaper than watering, as one application of oil lasts the whole season. It is not wise to use too cheap a grade of oil, as it is not much better than water, and may require two or more applications. The local council paid eleven cents per gallon, freight paid. A barrel contains about 40 gallons and will cover a stretch of about 50 feet where the road is wide, but on residential where the dusty road is narrower a barrel goes farther. The dust is first scraped off by means of a wide scraper and a team of horses, better after a rain, and the oil is then put on with watering cans. This may seem like slow work, but a man can put on quite a number of barrels in a day in this way.—Bradford Witness.

Pigs for sale.—Ten good thriving pigs that have been running outside two months. Also three litters ready to go in six weeks. Apply to F. Murdock, one mile southwest of Durham.

A sixty-five foot whale was killed at Rockaway Beach, near New York city. The animal had gone into the inlet at high tide, and when the tide went down was unable to get out.

The great war between Britain and Germany enters on its third year to-morrow. It is to be hoped that a thorough peace will be established before the next anniversary.

The International Nickel Co. will build its new refinery at Port Colborne, on Lake Erie. Port Colborne has good harbor facilities and the Government is spending considerable money in developing the port.

Mr. David Allen of this place, a fire ranger up north, has not been heard from since the big bush fires. He may be all right, and be heard from when communication is re-established. In the meantime, his relatives are anxious about him.

Mr. W. L. Falkingham sold his farm near Orchard recently, and moved to town last week. He is in charge, since conference, of the congregations at Varney and Ebenezer, and will spend his time from now on in ministerial work. We welcome Mr. Falkingham and family as citizens.

Now when the water is low would be a good time to clean out the McKechnie dam. It would be a good act for the town to remove everything objectionable in appearance so that the dam when refilled, would be more attractive to residents and visitors. If rapid growing trees were planted along the banks, there would soon be a pleasing transformation.

THE MOUNT FOREST RACES

The horse races at Mt. Forest on Monday were good, and quite a crowd from Durham was in attendance. Good entries and a big field made an interesting meet, the free-for-all and 2.30 class taking six heats to decide, the 2.50 class being the only one decided in straight heats. During the performance at the track, the fire department was busy down town, where no less than five fires occurred during the afternoon. As the soldiers, who were to give exhibitions in physical drill and other military manoeuvres, had been down town helping the firemen, their part on the programme was postponed till evening.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT

Mr. A. H. Jackson has received the following letter from Pte. D. Borthwick, now "somewhere in France." It was written on July 11, is self-explanatory, and contains a few lines of interest to all:

"Your parcel received to-day, for which I thank you very much. I had the pleasure of meeting one Durham boy since last time of writing. His name was Banks. Do you know him? I think he worked in the G. T. R. shops at Stratford, and he is now in the 13th Battalion (Kilty). In regards to Stedman, I have not met him yet, but am glad to say I know which battalion he is in. He was drafted out of the 51st Battalion after the last big scrap we had up here, and he is now in the 15th Batt. (Kilty). I had a letter from Mr. Hartley, late rector of Durham, and he was telling me that the Review had me down as missing. Well, you can tell the editor that I'm still in the land of the living and that it must have been another party by the same name as myself who was so unfortunate. We are out for a few days' rest and a general clean-up, after our long spell of days up in front, and days without a bath. Not bad, is it? I had a nice letter from Mr. Towner since I wrote last and it appears that a letter of his must have gone astray, which is nothing unusual. Still, we can't grumble, as the mail is very regular and it is always brought to where you are no matter what's on. The weather is dandy over here at present. If I could only let you know what we are doing and seeing it would tend to make my letter more interesting, but it's maybe just as well we can't say too much. Still, we are having a very interesting few days, so just watch. I am going to try and see Stedman some time, but I think he is in the line at present. Well, trusting this finds you well, I am yours sincerely.—D. Borthwick.
