DURHAM, OCTOBER 19, 1916.

POLITICS DO NOT COUNT

The politics of a local newspaper doesn't seem to count much when the Conservatives are in power. So far as government patronage is concerned we have found but very little favor. The Chronicle is evidently not one of the party pets, or the members from the constituency are indifferent to our interests or rights. At the present time the Ontario Government has advertisements in a number of local papers, some of which are Liberal to-day, always were Liberal and run by Liberal editors, who never did anything to promote other than Liberal candidates or Liberal measures. The Chronicle was always Conservative, and whatever political influence it exerted was always in fair share of the government ad- the supposed cause of the vertising would come this way. ceased's action. We are not begging for favors that we don't deserve, but we ought to get fair play.

USE PRINTER'S INK

Take up a city paper any day and see the full-page ads. Toronto has six dailies, including the morning and afternoon papers, and the big city stores are patronizing all of them, generally a page a day in each. It wasn't always so. At one time the big stores that are now envied by the merchants in the small towns. were scarcely heard of. Why do they advertise as they do? Why don't they sit in some corner and wait for an occasional customer to stroll in and enquire what they have to sell and find the price of the commodities they keep? That wouldn't b business in Toronto. That wouldn't be a twentieth century idea in Toronto. Neither is it business nor a twentieth century idea in Durham. Publicity is needed to-day to

There are business men in Durham and other places like it who never spend a dollar in advertusing; in fact, the existence of some of the so-called business men scarcely known outside their own towns. No wonder they sit there, day after day, watching the spiders weave their webs undisturbed complain about the dullness of the times and wonder why they are not doing more business. If, by some means, they could be induced to stir themselves, clean out vel at the results.
