Durham District L.O.L. will attend service at Trinity church on Sunday afternoon, November 5, at 3 o'clock. Brethren are requested to assemble at the lodge room at 2.30.—Wm. Ritchie, Dist. Treas.

Evangelist McLeish, a frequent visitor at Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Allen's, his last visit being only three or four weeks ago, is reported by our Flesherston correspondent to have died very suddenly last week in Toronto.

Word came last week that Pte. McAlister was wounded, but we have not learned the extent of his injuries. A day or two ago the report was circulated that he is "missing," but we have no confirmation.

Edwin F. Goodison, president of the John Goodison Thresher Company of Sarnia, died on Sunday on a train at Hamilton. He was on his way to consult a specialist when he was taken violently ill at Brantford. The remains were taken to Toronto and returned to Sarnia.

The Dornoch branch of the Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Dargavel on November 8 at 2.30. Ladies having socks will please return same, if possible. Anyone wishing to knit for the boys at the front can get yarn at the store free. After the business meeting a short and humorous paper will be read.

John Maroni of Toronto, who had in his possession a bottle of liquor which he intended, according to his own story, to give to a friend in a battalion leaving Toronto for "sonewhere in eastern Canada," was fined $200 and costs or three months' imprisonment. The magistrate held that his intention to give it to a soldier was a violation of the Act, and constituted an offence.

A report comes from Switzerland saying that the Deutschland and Bremen have either been sunk or captured. It states that the Bremen never reached the United States, nor returned, and that the Deutschland, during the second trip across the Atlantic in September, under the name "Weser," also disappeared. The submarine U-53 was sent in search of the missing vessels, but got no trace of them. A later report from New London, Conn., states that the Deutschland arrived there on Monday.

We regret very much to learn of the misfortune of Mr. Jas. Petty, who had his barn and contents destroyed by fire on Wednesday last week. It was caused by a spark from a steam threshing outfit, engaged at the time. Through a strenuous effort on the part of men engaged there, the machine was saved, as well as a number of implements. A calf was the only animal that failed to be rescued. Twenty-four years ago a similar accident occurred at the same place, and the barn that replaced it and was destroyed last week, cost over $2,000, and material and help were cheap then compared with now. We understand there was some insurance in the Grey and Bruce Mutual.

Fresh fish for sale at all times, at my residence.—Miles Wilson.

He was 26 years of age, and enlisted as a private in the 76th Battalion, being one of a group of Cookstown boys who joined in a body. He went overseas in April and went to France in July.

The Zion branch of the Women's Institute will hold a "Hard Time" social in the township hall, Glenelg, on Tuesday evening, November 7. A good program of songs, recitations, music, and a play, will be given. Fines of one and two cents for wearing fine clothes, jewellery, etc. Admission 10c and 15c. Lunch will be served by the ladies. Proceeds for patriotic purposes.

The fairies were out on Halloween, but we haven't heard of any serious damage being done. The old trick of decorating windows with red paint was indulged in as in former years, but the artists were crude and illiterate. The painting of windows is an old trick now, and it seems time for a new idea to originate in the mind of somebody. It would be wiser to abandon the nonsense altogether, but in any case there should be no destruction of property.

The Bridgetown, N.J., Pioneer says: "During the last nineteen years Lottie L. Tillotson, the Hawaiian entertainer has filled more than 260 engagements, and we have yet to hear of an adverse criticism." That was before she appeared in Flesherston and The Advance man had expressed his opinion. This perfect entertainer was here a few weeks ago, and from what we saw and heard, we didn't feel inclined to use much space in a commendatory write-up.

The young people of the Presbyterian church had an interesting hallowe'en entertainment on Monday night in the basement of the church. The house was crowded, and everything at times had a weird appearance, in keeping with the occasion. This was especially true of the "spook" brigade, who were well masked, and lent much pleasure to the evening's amusement. A pleasing duet was contributed on the piano by Miss Ranage and Miss Hunter, and highly appreciated mouth organs solos formed the quota of Mr. Stewart McArthur and Miss Lena Ritchie. A very suitable recitation by Mrs. N. W. Campbell, and a reading by Miss Florabel Nichol were valuable contributions to the program, as was also a solo by Miss Winnie Blyth of Varney. We believe that every number was encored, and on many occasions responded to most cheerfully. A tasty luncheon was served, and an enjoyable time was spent in various kinds of games. The proceeds amounted to $21.35 and will be devoted to patriotic purposes.

"Pastor" Russell died Tuesday in Texas, on a train en route from Los Angeles to New York. Heart failure was given as the cause.

At the close of the war conditions will make another change. They will never be as previous to July, 1914. Changes that will surely affect the farming industry will surely take place. You want to be prepared for this change. The Weekly Sun will do its part for you by keeping you posted on the different changes that are likely and how they will affect the farmers. It remains for you to help a paper that has served its subscribers and the Ontario farmer generally so faithfully during the past quarter of a century. The subscription price of The Sun remains the same as formerly, and is cheap at the price. We will be pleased to accept subscriptions for The Sun at this office.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bryon are getting very anxious about their son, Percy, who was wounded on the 26th of September, and has not since been heard from. His last letter home was written on the 16th, ten days before his misfortune, and several days later they received the meagre information that he was wounded and in the hospital. Percy was a regular correspondent, and the long interval that elapsed since the receipt of his last letter is causing much anxiety. If, in some way, the parents could learn the nature and extent of his injury, it would be a great relief. We cannot realize the distress of the parents during the long period of suspense, and we hope soon that word may come and their fears will be set aside.

We had an interesting letter from Mrs. C. E. Seymour, better known here as "Kit" Jackson. She is living at Tientsin, North China, and wrote on the 21st of September, the period of transit taking 39 days to go half round the world. Mrs. Seymour's many friends will be pleased to learn she is well, and that she still carries them in her memory with other recollections of Durham and surroundings, to her, no doubt, the sweetest spot on earth. We are glad she enjoys The Chronicle, which must be ancient history by the time it reaches its destination. With five or six of them on the way always, and others taking the longer trip to Australia, we feel it is no exaggeration when we say, "The sun never sets on The Durham Chronicle."

A SLIM ATTENDANCE

There was a small attendance at the patriotic meeting held in the public library on Monday night to discuss means of raising money for Red Cross and other funds. Mayor Hunter and Reeve Catton were present and signified a willingness to pass a vote of the council granting $500 towards the British Red Cross. It was decided also that a canvass of the town should be made to supplement the grant of the council. It is expected that a further appeal will be made about the beginning of the year to raise additional funds for general patriotic purposes. No doubt a hardship will be felt by many to make donations as freely as they would wish to, but we must remember we are passing through a strenuous period, and many of us will have to practice self-denial in responding to the call. The lust for world-conquest by the German bully must be put down if anything like a permanent peace is ever to be accomplished. We are truly a favored people, compared with other portions of the belligerent world. The war is not over yet, and other calls will follow, but we must meet them as cheerfully and as liberally as we can.

BAPTIST QUARTETTE RAISES MONEY FOR RED CROSS

A quartette from the Baptist church, consisting of Messrs. A. Bell, T. Fallaise, and Misses Lily Walker and Janet Wylie, with Miss Rita Irwin as accompanist and Miss Annie Graham as elocutionist, went out last Friday night to Ebenezer church, on the town line between Egremont and Glenelg, and gave a musical entertainment in the interest of Red Cross work here. The young people gave their services free, and the proceeds, amounting to about $14, were left in the hands of the people, to be disposed of later. The same entertainers were at Bunesan school on Tuesday night, where about $12 were raised, to be similarly disposed of. We understand they intend going to a number of other outside points between now and Christmas, and as the object is a most deserving one, we hope they may be well patronized. At the two places they have already appeared, the attendance was small on account of the unfavorable weather and perhaps a lack of publicity. To-morrow, Friday night, they will be at No. 1, Normanby school house, and on Tuesday night of next week at No. 9, Glenelg, Ritchie's school. Admission 10c. and 25c.

BENTINCK BOY'S SUCCESS

The news that Rev. R. J. Currie, pastor of the Woodslee Methodist church, is to shortly sever his connection with this appointment, will be learned with feelings of sincere regret, by not only the members of the Woodslee and Ruscomb churches, but by the community in general. Rev. Mr. Currie has received an invitation from the congregation of the First Congregational church of Wyandotte, Mich., to become their pastor, and has accepted same. Mr. Currie has forwarded his resignation to the president of the London conference with the request that same be accepted and that he be relieved of this circuit in a month. Mr. Currie expects to assume the duties of his new appointment about the middle of November. Mr. Currie has been in the London conference for several years, coming to Woodslee a year ago last July. He is an excellent preacher, and is highly esteemed, by not only his own congregations, but the members of other denominations in the community. His removal will give him a wider sphere in which to show his talents, and his many friends bespeak for him success in the city across the border.—Essex Free Press.

—Mr. Currie was a Bentinck boy and taught at Allan Park a few years ago, previous to entering the ministry.—Editor.

$500 IN FINES

Monday's Owen Sound Advertiser refers to violations of the Canada Temperance Act by residents of Durham and vicinity. Fines of $200 and $300, and costs in each case, were the correct amounts adjudicated by Magistrate Creasor for such infractions. We quote from the report, which says: "John Burns, a farmer residing about 7½ miles out from Durham, was fined $200 and costs, with an option of two months in jail for storing liquor under the new temperance act. It appears that he had consented to store the booze in his barn for Mr. McPhee, a hotel keeper of Durham, whether conscious or not that he was violating the law." Continuing, it says: "Oscar Hahn, also of Durham was asked for a subscription of $300 and costs on a charge of selling liquor. He had been, according to his evidence, handling the stuff in rather large quantities without the required license. The offence was committed prior to the 16th of September, and charged under the old liquor license act, as provided in the new law." "The two cases were tried before Magistrate Creasor, who dismissed a charge of selling against Mr. Phee in connection with the Burns case, as only one conviction could be made in the case."

SKATES ON THE WA

Mr. Spider Has no Fear of or Drowning

There's one nice thing about a spider—you can rock the you like and there won't funeral afterwards.

If the boat does tip, and goes overboard, the spider much as looks for a straw as do some drowning men; notion of making food for may hang some day in own weaving, but a watery never fill, not while he has to skate on.

It's his skates that makes confident when he's on the waves, for his skates—the claws of his—glide over flow as well as over ice. And he has sails to help carry him. His skates he has always but the sails he makes right spot as soon as he strikes. With his eight legs firmly top of a wave he begins to stir a fine, strong strand catches the wind at once shoots Mr. Spider.

The cheapest drunk, a recent appearance in place, is now ten dollars court costs, plus the cost juice. The cost can be the last item if the boot under a barn and stays the empty bottle and the influence of time put proper state of repair appearance in respectable. The ten-dollar public drink rock bottom variety, but fancy article runs up to red dollars, plus the extra just a news item, not column, next to reading advertisement.
