MAN'S BEST FRIEND

The Collie is of Greater Value Than Other Dog

Man's first four-footed friend was the dog. Neither history nor legend tells when the dog ceased to howl like a wild beast and bark the sociable, friendly bark of the domesticated creature, guardian of homes and shepherd of flocks.

When men lived in caves and ate raw meat and wore hides, the dog was there to guard the cave—to keep away his brothers, the wolf and the jackal, for the dog wasn't always man's friend. He once howled like a wolf and screeched like a jackal and preyed upon man and his belongings.

There are over 150 kinds of dogs in domesticity, ranging from the wolf dog of Siberia to the pet poodle of France.

FAITHFUL OLD COLLIE

the fashionable dame, but the first of these to find his way from the wilderness into the homes of men was the sheep dog collie, and perhaps no other dog is of more value to man than the rough-coated collie.

GIDDY COCK-OF-THE-PIT

Father Dresses For the Whole Family in This Feathered Tribe

There's never any argument about clothes in the Cock-of-the-pit family. It's a one-sided question and it's settled to suit Mr. Cock-of-the-pit.

THE COCK-OF-THE-PIT

Central America and other distant southern countries where these birds with the funny family names make their home, and there wouldn't be any little birds hatched out, and in time there'd be no more Cock-of-the-pits left to brighten the forest and make the woods echo with their queer cry, which, even if it isn't a song, is rather pleasant to hear in the gloomy southern jungles.

Weather Made to Order

Sir Oliver Lodge, speaking before the Institute of Electrical Engineers at London on the electrification of the atmosphere, said that if electrical control over the atmosphere were obtained it might be feasible to control the weather.

Many countries, he said, wanted to produce rain owing to drought, and he could not but suppose that by ascending a mountain and discharging a sufficient amount of electricity into the clouds they would stimulate some of them to coalesce and fall, and a real rainstorm might result.

"There are parts of the earth belonging to the British Crown which would be better for some weather control," said Sir Oliver.

Had Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

Dear Mr. Editor—I want to write you about "Anuric." I was very sick, could hardly be up; I was in bed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to scream sometimes when I was sitting down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great.

NOTE: This "Anuric" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the bladder, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles.
