Art and Genius.

In these days of cheap sensations, Sexy songs and silly trash, Art has yielded to temptation To get out and pinch the cash; Genius toiling in an attic Has a poor and thankless job; Art has ceased to ring ecstatic Exclamations from the mob. In these days of speculation, Steel and multimillionaires, Art seeks more than admiration And avoids the attic stairs; Genius wants to have a rating With the Bradstreets and the Duns And a troop of servants waiting On its daughters and its sons. —S. E. Kiser.

POISONED BY ALCOHOL

Dr. R. W. Rooney and a jury on Thursday afternoon last inquired into the sudden death of Wm. Harrison, an Orangeville resident, who died at the house of Robt. Wilburn in that town on Wednesday evening, under circumstances calling for an investigation. Deceased, who was a married man, aged 43, a former Caledon farmer, had lived in Orangeville for nearly two years. According to the evidence of his wife, he left his home about 2.30 and did not return for tea. His wife became alarmed, and finally went to the Wilburn house, where she found her husband in a dying condition on the floor, and Wilburn in bed. Dr. Rooney was telephoned for, and also Constable Ewing. When the doctor arrived, the man was dead. Friday morning, Dr. R. N. Kyles performed a post-mortem on the body. At the inquest, Dr. Kyles read the result of his autopsy. The death of deceased was due to coma, following alcoholic poisoning, there being marked evidence of alcohol in connection with the brain and stomach, both of which were congested with alcohol. —Shelburne Free Press.

SAVE TONNAGE OR LOSE WAR

Lloyd-George Demands Tremendous Sacrifices From Empire

BRITAIN CUTS IMPORTS

Premier Also Announces Drastic Measures to Encourage Food Production in Britain

On Friday last the British Premier came down to the House of Commons to warn the nation that if it was not prepared to accept drastic measures in dealing with the submarine peril there was disaster in front of it. "National grit," he declared, "is going to be tested by the answer that will be given to the statement I make to-day on behalf of the Government." There were three Dominion Prime Ministers in the distinguished strangers' gallery: Sir Robert Borden, of Canada; Sir E. Morris, of Newfoundland, and W. F. Massey, of New Zealand. "The ultimate success of the allies' cause," Mr. Lloyd-George declared, "depends in my judgment on our solving the tonnage difficulties." This problem had to be dealt with ruthlessly and promptly. The measures submitted fell under three heads: First—Drastic new restrictions on imports which were not essential for the prosecution of the war. Secondly—Production at home to be stimulated to its utmost capacity by a bold and comprehensive programme of State assistance. Thirdly—There were to be restrictions at home, including the further cutting down of the manufacture of alcoholic drinks. The Prime Minister was fully justified in claiming that the measures the Government was proposing would mean enormous sacrifices on the part of every class of the community. He wanted the country to know that their food stocks were alarmingly low—lower than within recollection. It was imperative that more food should be grown at home. The greatest obstacle to immediate action was the timidity of the farmer in cutting his pasture.

State Aid to Agriculture

The Prime Minister announced a far-reaching scheme of State assistance. The Government would guarantee a price of 38s 6d for oats this year, 32s for the next two years, and 24s for the three following years. For wheat the Government will guarantee the farmer the following minimum prices per quarter: For the present year, 60s; for 1918 and 1919, 55s; for 1920, 1921 and 1922, 45s. Potatoes would be guaranteed a minimum price for the coming season.

Prohibited and Restricted Lists

Brewing will be cut down to 10,000,000 barrels annually. A similar reduction will be made in the output of spirits, effecting a saving of 600,000 tons of foodstuffs. The importation of apples, tomatoes and fruits will be prohibited. The only exceptions will be in the cases of oranges and bananas in which the amount brought in will be restricted to 25 per cent. Canned salmon importations will be reduced fifty per cent. The importation of foreign tea, coffee and cocoa is prohibited, and even the amount of India tea which may be brought in is reduced. The importation of aerated, mineral and table waters will be prohibited. The Premier said it was expected to save 900,000 tons of shipping yearly on foodstuffs. The importation of paper, the Premier announced, must be curtailed by a further 640,000 tons annually, or halved. All essential articles on the free list, but certain articles would be reduced or prohibited. These restrictions would be imposed immediately, said the Premier. Steps would be taken to prevent speculative buying and if necessary, the food controller would take control of the commodity. Dealing with shipbuilding, Mr. Lloyd-George said that he made a special appeal to labor, and that he was convinced the output could be very considerably increased by an alteration in methods. He wanted more piece work. For the shortage of tonnage he blamed the loading of ships to the allies much more than the German submarine. The measures were anticipated to save several million tons of ocean freight.

Sub. Sinks Dutch Vessels

Seven Neutral Vessels Attacked by U-Boat Despite Promises

The fleet of seven Dutch vessels which were attacked by German submarines last week, and of which three were sunk, left Falmouth on Thursday, three being outward bound from Holland and four homeward bound with full cargoes. The steamers had arrived at Falmouth on various dates, and had been released at the special request of the Dutch Government. From Dutch sources the Reuter Telegram Co. learns that it was the submarine U-3 which attacked all seven Dutch steamers. Three were torpedoed outright, while German sailors boarded the other four and placed bombs which were exploded.

Austrian Ruler's Escape

Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary narrowly escaped death from the bombs of Italian aviators who attacked the crowds at the funeral of Admiral Hansa, late commander of the Austrian navy, at Pola, the Austrian naval base, some days ago. As the funeral cortege passed through the streets the aviators dropping explosives and incendiary bombs upon the crowds.

British Army 5,000,000 Men

The army estimates issued Saturday provide for an army of 5,000,000 men, exclusive of India. An additional navy estimate calls for 50,000 officers and men, bringing the total of the navy personnel to 450,000.

BRITISH FORCE BIG RETREAT ON ANCRE

Germans Abandon Wide and Deep Front During Fog—Important Village Positions Seized

The British advance along the Ancre River has attained a depth of two miles and extends along a front of about eleven miles, according to the official report from British headquarters in France Monday. The text reads in part as follows: "The movements referred to in the communications Saturday and Sunday were maintained during the day on both banks of the Ancre. Our advance extends over a front of about eleven miles, from east of Gueudecourt to south of Gommecourt, and has attained a depth of two miles. We have reached the outskirts of Le Barque, Irlis and Puisieux-au-Mont. A hostile attack made early this morning on one of our posts south of the Somme was driven off with loss."

A despatch from London on Sunday said: The British now, or soon, will be in a position to force the evacuation of Bapaume, which has been the key to the German position since the beginning of the battle of the Somme. Under cover of fog and mist, which have been particularly heavy in the past 48 hours, the Germans carried out the greatest retirement they have made on the Western front in the last two years, and the British have swept into possession of Pys, Serre, Miraumont and Petit Miraumont, including the famous Butte de Warlencourt, which has been the scene of some of the fiercest fighting of the war, and in places is deep with the bones of dead men.

Without Fighting

The German retirement approaches a depth of three miles at some points. The British had been waiting for a clearing of the foggy weather before pressing the advance, but meantime it is apparent that the German high command decided to retire without any further fighting. Friday night fires were observed in the German front line trenches.

Forcing Them Out

Points on a wide front have fallen into British hands as a result of the strong pressure exercised in the past few days. The strong pressure exerted on the banks of the Ancre began to give results on Saturday, when the Germans vacated important positions on both sides of the stream. The British advanced on a front of a mile and making considerable progress, entered the Village of Petit Miraumont. South and southwest of Serre the British began to advance on Saturday, and by nightfall had made considerable progress. They continued their pressure and the Germans continued to yield ground. They made little opposition to the British and small bodies of Haig's troops pushed forward on a wide front, occupying Serre Village and several other important points further east.

BRITISH RETAKE KUT

Aby Conducted Operations Crowned With Success—Turks Pursued

Kut-el-Amara has been captured from the Turks by the British forces, according to a statement made in the House of Commons Monday by Andrew Bonar Law. Mr. Bonar Law announced that as a result of the operations on the Tigris River front all of the Turkish positions from Sannayiat to Kut-el-Amara have been secured, and that the town of Kut-el-Amara automatically passed into the hands of the British. The Turks are in full retreat toward Baghdad, 24 miles to the west of Kut-el-Amara, says an official statement issued Monday by the British War Department. The fleeing Turks are being engaged by pursuing British cavalry. In two days' fighting 1,730 prisoners were captured, including at least one Turkish regimental commander and four Germans; four field guns, ten machine guns, three mine throwers and a large quantity of rifles and ammunition.

Canada Must Aid Empire

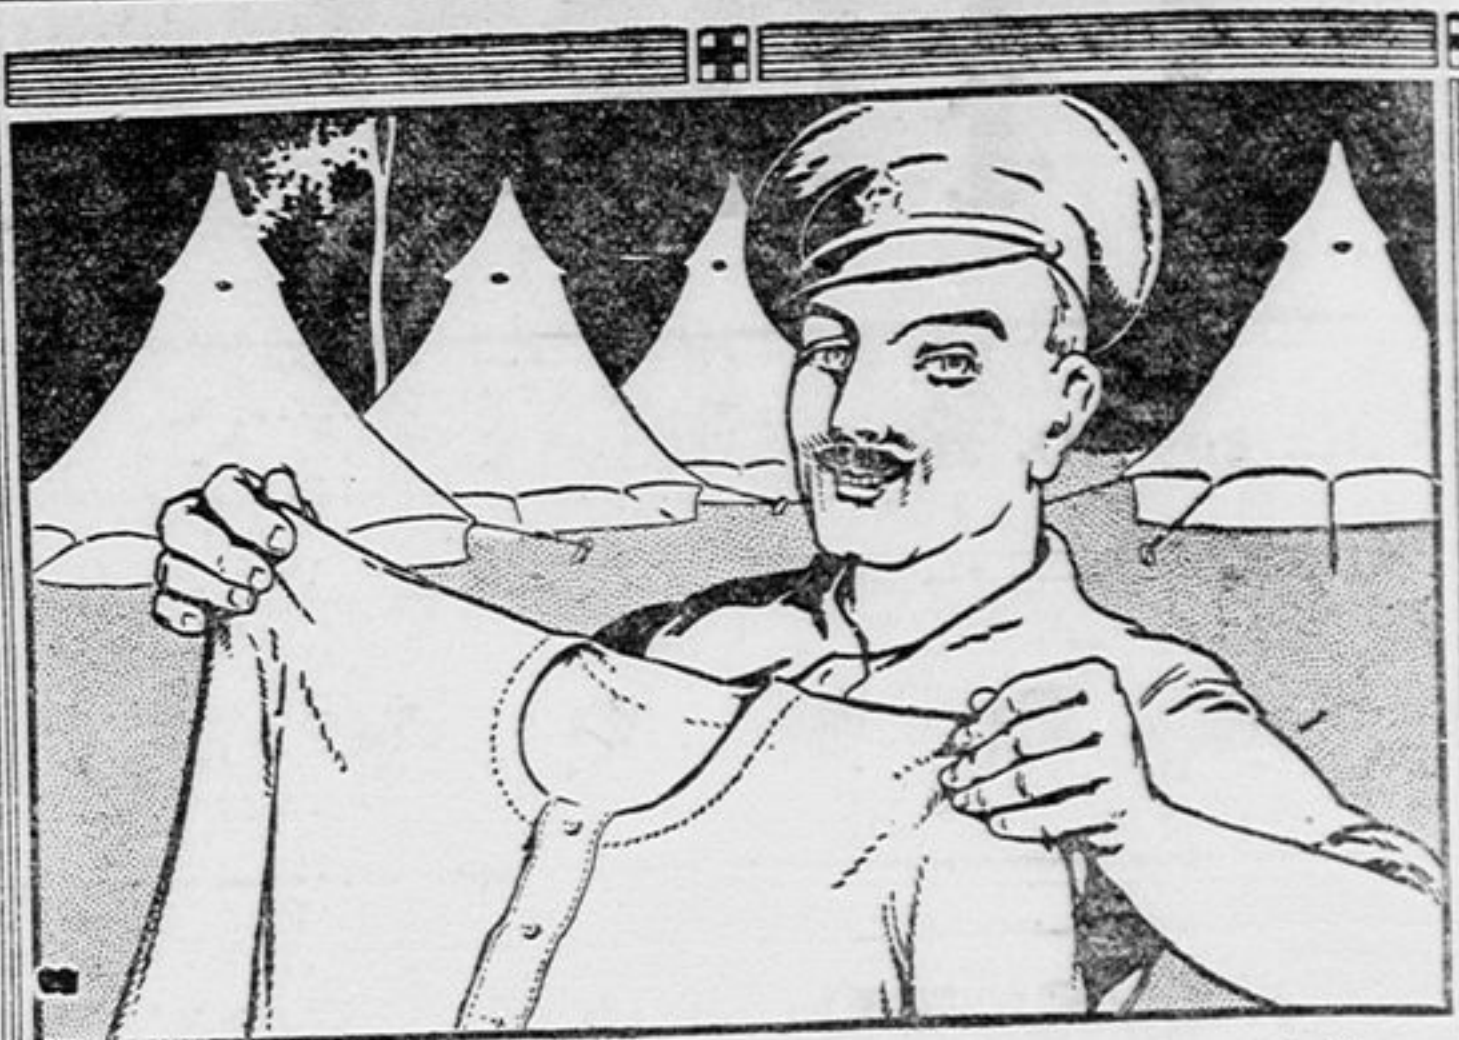

Acting Premier Urges Canadians to Cut Luxuries

Sir George E. Foster, Acting Prime Minister, in a statement relating to Premier Lloyd-George's speech of Friday, says, in part: "As to the results of the new restrictions placed upon imports, the people of the British Isles will be most affected, but the restriction of imports will also affect the overseas Dominions, and Canada more, perhaps, than any. In many respects we shall be unable to get supplies of raw or partly manufactured material which we have been in the habit of getting from Great Britain for our industries. What can be given will no doubt come through, but many of our occupations and industries will be more or less seriously affected, but there will be nothing which cannot be borne. In many lines our exports will be cut down. In the matter of timber and fruits and fish and agricultural implements we shall be most largely affected, but on the other hand all our staple food supplies will be required to the maximum of our production, and we shall cheerfully make the best of the situation, eliminating many luxuries. If we do not do that voluntarily now, we may be compelled later, and not very much later."

Liberals Carry New Brunswick

Clear Lead of Five Seats in Legislature—Minus Speaker

By carrying all four seats in Gloucester Monday by big majorities the Liberal Opposition comes into power in New Brunswick with a clear lead of five seats in the Legislature exclusive of the Speaker. Out of 48 seats the Opposition has 27 in this election, leaving the Government 21, as compared with two for the Opposition and 46 for the Government in 1912. The Opposition has won ten of the seventeen ridings in the Province, splitting in another, and has a large majority of the popular vote. Opposition leader Foster was defeated.

POTATO CLUBS FOR CANADA

By W. T. Gregory.

Several years ago the writer, with others, advocated the formation of boys' corn clubs in the state of North Carolina, the results of which have been to increase the corn production of the state from fifty to one hundred per cent.

In view of the fact that Canada and the Empire now face a threatened food shortage, which has become a problem of national importance, do you not think it would be wise to form boys' potato clubs in all cities, towns, villages and hamlets throughout the Dominion?

Patriotic citizens could supply the seed, and have the land prepared for planting. Prizes should be offered for the greatest yields. In this manner, all vacant lots, backyards, untilled gardens, etc., could be used to good advantage. In fact, many towns have enough vacant lots to feed the people. This rivalry among the boys will also result in the same among the farmers, and in this manner the food production of the country can be greatly increased. I believe the boys of Canada can help solve the problem. Let us organize them.
