SINGLE-HANDED AND UNARMED CAPTURES SEVEN HUNS

(Owen Sound Sun.)

It is said that curiosity has killed many a person, but the following letter from Pte. James McDonald is about the first record case of curiosity having been mainly responsible for the capture of seven Germans lurking in a deep underground dugout. It was an experience that reads like the stories of Robert Louis Stevenson and the modest hero of the affair dwells little on his part of the exploit. He makes light of it in his recital while in reality his ready wit saved him from what might have been a very serious situation. The letter is interestingly written and shows the indomitable spirit of the Canadian soldier. Pte. McDonald was with the first contingent, and was twice wounded and at the time of writing the letter on April 19th, he was looking forward to returning to his unit. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald of Cruickshank, and the letter was written to his cousin, Mrs. W. J. Cruickshank, of Park Head. The letter is in part: "Received your most welcome letter telling about the parcel. But I'm afraid I will not be there to enjoy that one. The Germans shelled my happy home (a rubber sheet stretched across a ditch with some underbrush beneath to keep me out of the mud). They dropped a high explosive shell too close to be comfortable, so I made tracks not many yards apart, down the shallow trench, looking for a deep place to take cover in, but I did not make it in time. A huge iron foundry and chemical store, combined, passed over my head and exploded about five yards away. I turned four or five somersaults and found myself sitting on the side of the ditch with a very small piece of shell casing in my right thigh. I left the ditch and made for the dressing station. Believe me, that sick leg of mine did some fine work going there. Any one seeing me pass would think I was training for the Olympic games and races. I am now in the hospital, expecting to get kicked out any minute and sent back to my unit, so serious is my wound.

I had a very thrilling adventure the other day, over which I nearly took a fit, when the Canadians stormed Vimy Ridge. I was detailed the night before to act as stretcher-bearer, following our men up and carrying in the wounded. The battle was nearing its close, and I could not find any more wounded around, and happened to spy a deep German dugout in a trench in front of me and my curiosity got the best

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. MORE HONORS FOR CAPT. BISHOP

Mr. W. A. Bishop received a cablegram this morning from England informing him that his son, Capt. W. A. Bishop, R.F.C., had been awarded the Distinguished Service Order. It is only a few weeks ago that Capt. Bishop was awarded the Military Cross and advanced to the rank of Flight Commander. Capt. Bishop is making a brilliant record of achievements in the Royal Flying Corps and his splendid work is being watched with interest, not only by Owen Sound friends, but by Canadians in general. Up to the time his last letter was written to his parents, he had brought down a total of 42 enemy planes up to that date. The citizens of Owen Sound congratulate Capt. Bishop.—Owen Sound Sun.

DOING THE IMPOSSIBLE IS A COM-PLACE OF ENTERPRISE.

of me. All I had at the time was a water-bottle, no battle-arms, but down I went. When I had descended about 35 feet it got rather dark, so I stopped and lit a candle, to find I was about ten feet from the bottom. At the same time, I heard voices below; listening, I found it was foreign language—my heart started stumping down in the bottom of my bread basket—I looked around for something to do battle with, but could see nothing, so with what little breath I had left, I called: "Come on down boys, there is some one below." I then told them to come out. One answered, "Kamerad," and I answered, "Yes, welcome, Kamerad"; and seven of them came out with hands above their heads. One asked if they could go down and take some rations with them, and down the eight of us went. They packed a haversack full of eats, then two of them held candles while I turned the dugout upside down, looking for souvenirs. I got a little revolver and a dagger. Just as we came out, there was a squad of German prisoners going out under escort, so I turned them over to the escort and kept my curiosity to myself for the remainder of the day. Well, if I do not get back in time to get my box, they don't bother forwarding parcels, just open them and pass them around among the boys, so some one will enjoy it if I don't."

WANTS THEM BOTH ABOLISHED FOR PERIOD OF THE WAR

At a special meeting of Hanover council on the 15th inst., the following resolutions were passed by the Hanover council: "That whereas about twenty-five million dollars are spent annually in connection with horse races. Whereas all race courses have been closed in England for the period of the war, and in many of the states of the Union horse-racing is prohibited. Whereas the present shortage of food is so serious that every town, village and township are organizing to speed up production and prevent waste. Whereas, the race track is an economic waste as well as a moral burden. Therefore, be it resolved that in the opinion of this council horse racing should not be permitted in Canada during the period of the war and that we urge our representative in parliament to use his influence in having horse racing prohibited, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to him."

"That whereas, owing to the high price of foodstuffs, it is rapidly becoming impossible for a large majority of the working people to obtain sufficient food for themselves and their families, be it therefore resolved that in the opinion of this council the government should take control of all foodstuffs and regulate prices, until domestic needs are fully provided for, and the cost of living reduced to normal conditions, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to our representative in parliament."

"That whereas, the governing bodies of our country (Dominion, Provincial and Municipal) are urging upon every individual the necessity of more production and less waste. Whereas, many million bushels of grain urgently needed for food, are wasted every year in the manufacturing of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. Therefore, this council, with all the force at its command, urge upon the Dominion Government to prohibit the manufacturing of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes during the war, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to our representative in parliament."

Rev. C. C. Anderson, on beginning his pastorate at Meaford, was tendered a public reception.
