

MAN DIES FROM WOOD ALCOHOL POISONING

named Mahony, who came from the city, says a despatch from London had been working as a watchman at the Tudhope-Anderson's. He was dropped into one of the restaurants on Tuesday night and fell into a sleep or stupor. Watchman Holmes was called and he took the man to the hospital. He dropped in several hours of the night, and towards the morning the man appeared to be up. But before ten o'clock he was dead. An explanation was given by a bottle of methylated wood alcohol, which the patient had in his pocket. There was an eight-ounce bottle, and the ounces of the liquid was known to be Mahony's. It was known to be Mahony's.

"ANURIC!"
THE NEWEST
VERY IN CHEMISTRY

A recent discovery of Doctor Pierce is head of the Invalids' Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Doctor Pierce's for several years proved that a certain element of uric acid can be eliminated from the blood. For those who are afflicted with rheumatism, sciatica, headache, scalding urine, uric acid, as well as uric acid, or if uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism, it is wonderful how surely "Anuric" does the best of results. It is always in cases of acute rheumatism, sciatica, in gravel and gout, and the pains and stiffness which it causes disappear rapidly. Write your nearest drug store and ask for a 60-cent package of "Anuric" manufactured by Dr. Pierce, 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for a full package. If you suspect your bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe it. Doctor Pierce's chemist will analyze it, then Dr. Pierce will tell you, without fee or charge. French scientists affirm that uric acid is thirty-seven times more powerful in eliminating uric acid than is a harmless but reliable compound that may be safely used by children, but should be used by grown-ups who actually wish to see their kidneys to perfect health. Urinary use one box—or in extreme cases—as "Anuric" to Doctor Pierce's achievement) the most perfect kidney and corrector obtainable.

Pierce's Pellets are the original of their kind. One little Pellet for three for a cathartic.

The Durham Furniture Company is our most prosperous institution, and neither scarcity of labor nor the advanced cost of material have affected its progress. July 1st marked the end of a financial year and we are pleased to learn that the year's output was $252,000, a little over a quarter million dollars or $56,000 more than the output of the year ending June 30th 1916. We have not been led into the secret sufficiently to learn of the comparative net profits and how they bulk up in comparison with those of last year. During the year just ended, considerable advances have been made in the pay roll, and material has undergone a substantial increase in cost. Of late, they have taken on a number of lady workers, and have still room for others. We learn from the manager that they are proving themselves capable, and time will increase their efficiency. This is an outcome of conditions brought about by the war, and with the probable scarcity of help for some time it is likely the changed conditions will necessitate the employment of women to fill industrial positions that have hitherto been filled by men. We have every reason to believe the year just ended has been a good financial year for the company.

THE ORANGEMEN AT CHURCH

The Orangemen of Durham and vicinity attended service in a body last Sunday morning at Trinity church, when a forceful and instructive sermon was delivered by the rector, Rev. Mr. Dymond.

He based his discourse on the words, "Fear God, honor the King, love the brotherhood" and at the outset he denounced in no uncertain sound his disapproval of the disobedience and disrespect shown by children to their parents, and also the disrespect too often manifested by congregations to those in spiritual authority. He emphasized the fact that he was not a believer in man worship. Reverence for the cause is essential to right living, and the mission of the clergyman is to deliver God's message to the people.

Loyalty to the King and those in legal authority was also referred to as an imperative duty of the people for the highest fulfillment of patriotism and power. He objected to clerical interference in matters pertaining to politics and the state, and expressed his disapproval of the Ne Temere decree, which would cause dissension in communities and unhappiness in the homes.

The Order, notwithstanding the forbidding nature of the weather, was well represented. We counted 99 in the procession, which was led to and from the church by Hewitt's five and drum band of eight or ten boys. The attendance at the church was merely an index to the large number who will assemble to-day in celebrating the 227th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne.

MRS. WILLIAM LAKE

On Friday last, after an illness of over a year's duration from paralysis, and other ailments, Mrs. Wm. Lake passed away in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto.

She was born in Liverpool, England, in 1866. In 1885 she came to Canada, and in the following year was married at Walkerton to her now sorrowing husband.

The marriage resulted in an issue of six children, three sons and three daughters, as follows: Clara (Mrs. Chris. Scheuermann), of St. Marys; Maggie (Mrs. Mark McClyment), of Durham; Violet, in Orillia Hospital; William, in Duluth, Minn.; Wilfrid, in France and Frank, at home.

After marriage in 1886, they lived in Walkerton till 18 years ago, when they moved to Bentinck and subsequently to Durham.

The deceased took ill in April, 1916, from paralysis, and subsequently underwent an operation and spent some time in the hospital at Walkerton. Ten weeks previous to her death, she was sent to St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, but her condition baffled the best treatment and the best medical skill.

On Sunday afternoon, a short service was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. McClyment, after which the remains were interred in Durham cemetery, Rev. Mr. Whaley of the Presbyterian church being the officiating clergyman.

Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing family, and particularly for the distressed husband, on whom so great an affliction has been placed during the last couple of years.

The semi-annual report of the Front Line Red Cross workers, which consists of S. S. No. 3, Bentinck, states that during the six months just ended they have forwarded the following articles in soldiers' comforts and hospital supplies: 16 shirts, 36 pyjama suits, 115 pairs socks, also parcels containing socks and other comforts to the following boys: Ptes. James Coutts, Nathan Grierson, John Derby, Fred Corbett, John Lawrence. The collections amounted to $21.

A report says a severe thunderstorm centred over Owen Sound shortly after noon Monday. Hail fell heavily for several minutes. The greatest damage done was to market gardens, where thousands of tomato plants were cut off by the hail. Potato stalks were beaten down, and other damage followed as a result of the storm. Cellars were flooded, while the streets ran rivers. Country telephone lines were burned out, and considerable damage done to the rural systems.

PTE. CAMPBELL CLARK
killed in action, April 23rd, 1917.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Clark, was born in Bentinck November 2nd, 1894, and enlisted on December 10th, 1915, in the 147th (Grey) Battalion. He began training at Niagara on January 5th, 1916, and afterwards trained at Camp Borden. He went overseas in November, 1916, and went to France in March, 1917.

The first report officially announced him missing, and after a suspense of five or six weeks, the information came to the sorrow-stricken parents that he was believed to have been killed, and the following letter from the Chaplain is strong confirmation of the belief in his death. The letter was dated in France on the 2nd of June, and reports the circumstances as follows: 4th Camp, B.E.F., France. June 2nd, 1917

Dear Mrs. Clark.—You will by this time have received intelligence that your brave son, Pte. Campbell Clark, was missing after the night engagement of April 23rd, and I regret to say I believe him to have been killed. Several of our men fell in advance of our own lines. They did splendid work. I regret to say that none of the bodies of the fallen were recovered, although a thorough search was made by a large party the following night.

Your loss is indeed a heavy one, but you have the consolation of knowing that your son has not died in vain, but nobly gave his life for his country. At such a time as this, what a comfort to be able to turn to God, who understands our trials and is able to sympathize with us in our sorrows, bringing to all who love and serve Him the hope of the resurrection.

Yours sincerely,
CAPT. D. H. DAVIS,
Chaplain 4th C. M. R.

MRS. WILLIAM SMITH

On Sunday last, after an illness of several years, Mrs. William Smith passed away at the home of her son and daughter here, at the age of 87 years.

She was born in Tyrone, Ireland, in 1830, came to Canada in 1855, and remained in the vicinity of Georgetown for about ten years, when she married, and came with her husband to the township of Glenelg, and lived ever since in the adjacent townships, and in Durham, where she has been for the past fourteen years.

Her husband died six years after marriage, leaving a family of three small children, all of whom survive at follows: John, of Hoath Head, near Owen Sound, and William T., and Ellen, in town.

Deceased was a member of the Anglican church, and the remains were interred Tuesday afternoon in Trinity church cemetery. The devoted son and daughter, through their untiring efforts for the mother's comfort during her illness, have earned, and deserve, the esteem of the whole community. Theirs was a case of duty well done.
