A TRIBUTE TO CANADA.

The Daily London (Eng.) Chronicle's "Office Window" man pays a neat little tribute to Canada.

"Canada is the proudest of our daughters to-day. She has made the Motherland understand that there is a Greater Canada. She has it seems, nearly 250,000 miles of unexplored territory in Quebec, which added to her terra incognita in the west, gives her not far short of a million square miles of virgin land with potential treasure unfathomed. THE OLD ROSS GUARD

(Toronto World, July 23, 1917.)

It does not seem to have occurred to anyone that the so-called Liberal gathering in Toronto last Friday, which sat and congratulated itself on representing the Canadian nation, promulgated the great idea of winning a war election as the chief end and aim of our battle-tortured life.
