

PRICEVILLE.

The harvest is passed and the summer is ended, and soon we may look for the dreary fall and winter. Time is still moving onward. The aged are on the downward path. The youth may be looking forward for long years into the future, but according to the natural course of life, the aged haven't many harvests or summers to pass—but we take a backward look only for a few months past, and how many strong and young boys were cut down by the cruel weapons of the enemy. Their harvest time was premature, but death's harvests are at all seasons. It sets its keen sickle to work, whether we are old or young it matters not. How many a home is saddened at the closing of this harvest, for in some instances the husband is deprived of his beloved partner—the mother of the only son, for news comes flashing across the ocean of brave sons killed in action defending their country. But the world must keep moving on. Those who are left must strive and struggle to keep spirit and body together as long as they are permitted to remain in this world.

We were pleased to see Mr. Dan McDougall, formerly of Bentinck, but now of Alberta, in church last Sunday. He looks the same as ever. He is at his friend's, Reeve McCuaig's, of Glenelg, at present. He has one son in France now, and a daughter a nurse there, too, both doing their share in the present war. Mr. McDougall will be looking after the affairs of his farm, having had his barn in Bentinck burned lately.

Miss Ada McLean of Toronto is spending some weeks with friends in this part, before she returns.

Next Sunday evening a memorial service will be held in the Presbyterian church to the memory of Dan White's son, who was killed in action this summer in France.

The harvest is done, and now threshing is in progress. It is said that grain turns out well.

The Rev. Mr. Matheson preached a good sermon last Sunday morning from Ps. 27:13.

Miss Louisa McDonald, who spent some weeks visiting friends at Paisley, returned home on Saturday.

Chas. McKinnon, who was operated on for appendicitis some time ago, is about all right again.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Dan Edge, and family, for being bereft recently of wife and mother. We have known Mrs. Edge's kindness for many years, and the large gathering at her funeral Thursday of last week showed the respect she was held in by all who knew her. We extend condolence to the family.

We are also sorry to hear of the death of another Priceville lady in 8203 the west, Mrs. Robt. Braithwaite, nee Emily McDowell. She was born in Priceville 59 years ago when Priceville was only beginning.

Miss Kate Campbell is spending her holidays at the old home, north line, Artemesia, with her brother, Dan, Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan, Campbell are spending their holidays visiting friends down the country.

Quite a number from this neighborhood attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Edge on Thursday of last week.

Some one remarked while viewing all the automobiles in front of the Presbyterian church last Sunday that Priceville looked more like a large town than a small village on account of so many autos standing at the church yard—but Priceville may be the county town in less than one hundred years, and who will be mayor then, we cannot tell.

NORTH-EAST NORMANBY.

Mr. R. Barber and Mr. T. Wallace were losers of fine horses lately. Mr. Albert Marshall also had one on the sick list.

Knox W.M.S. held a picnic to Hamilton's lake last Monday. All report a good time.

Mr. Elgin and Miss Carrie Wilton, visited recently with Dromore friends.

Varney Red Cross met last Tuesday at Mrs. Robt. Gadd's, Varney.

Miss Rita Carson visited over the week-end with town friends.

Threshing and silo-filling will soon be the order of the day.

It is rumored that Dr. Leeson of Varney has sold the Rombough farm to Mr. Thos. McNiece, of the second.

FROZEN POULTRY COULD BE USED; LARGE STOCKS HERE.

There is an article of diet of which there are large stocks in storage in Canada, and for which there has been practically no demand. This commodity is frozen poultry.

This unusual situation this year has been caused through the shortage of ocean tonnage. A large part of the stocks on hand had been sold for export but could not be transported owing to the unavailability of refrigerated space.

Canadian consumers, in the past, have not taken kindly to frozen meats. This has been due, in part, at least, to lack of suitable facilities for defrosting, which if not properly done results in the meat being discolored or unattractive. The time has arrived, however, when it may be necessary for consumers to rely more and more upon frozen meat products. In times of scarcity every advantage should be taken of the facilities provided to carry over the surplus from one season to the shortage of another. Properly defrosted poultry, for instance, is equally as wholesome and nutritious as fresh-killed stock.

BORN.

Bell.—In Durham, on September 16th, to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bell, a daughter (Susie Beckwith).

DIED.

Moffat.—In Durham, on September 16th, infant son of Mr. Chas. Moffat, aged seven weeks.

McKinnon.—Somewhere in France on September 13th, 1917, Donald L. McKinnon, son of Neil and Elizabeth McKinnon. Dearly loved and sadly mourned.

"They never die who live in hearts they loved."

stance, is equally as wholesome and nutritious as fresh-killed stock.

The public is invited, therefore, to ask for frozen poultry, of which there is a large supply, consisting of chickens, broilers, ducks, geese, and turkeys. The trade advise that many of these varieties can be obtained at prices considerably lower than those prevailing for fresh-killed stock at present available.

It is given as a suggestion that frozen poultry could be utilized economically as a substitute for beef and bacon on Tuesdays and Fridays. If special poultry or frozen meat days were arranged and individual retailers had a prospect of handling a certain quantity, they could order accordingly and all arrangements be made for the necessary defrosting. As there is practically no other market for frozen poultry at the present time, it would appear to be of distinct advantage to this country, in assisting to conserve its food products of other sorts, that poultry meat be utilized, insofar as possible, in the way suggested.
