It is thy mother's dearest wish and mine that when age shall claim its due from us we may sit in peace beneath that very fig tree and behold thy little ones—aye, thine and Gaal's also, play in the shade before us." The eyes of the young boy again flashed fire.

"Not my children with Gaal's!" he cried. "That shall never be." "Thine with Gaal's, as I have said," responded Jesse, raising his voice and Applicant must appear in person at Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for District. Entry by proxy may be made on certain conditions. Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of land in each of three years.

In certain districts a homesteader may secure an adjoining quarter-section as pre-emption. Price $10 per acre. Duties—Residence six months in each of three years after earning homestead patent and cultivate 50 acres extra. May obtain pre-emption patent as soon as homestead patent on certain conditions. A settler after obtaining homestead patent, if he cannot secure a pre-emption, may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

Holders of entries may count time of employment as farm laborers in Canada during 1917, as resident duties, under certain conditions. than that I would share a crust with any beggar on the road. Father, I would not hurt thee, but thou canst not see beyond these hills. Thou canst not understand how one might wish to live afar." "My son, what meanest thou?" inquired Jesse, amazed. "I am a man in all eyes save thine," continued Jether wildly. "The things I feel are what a man feels. Yet here I am nothing. Not only thou, but Gaal, whom I defeat, would be my master. I tell thee, father, no man shall be my master."

speaking with the authority of a master. "My father's father built this house, and it shall shelter both my sons. 'Tis large enough for all ye two may bring there. Gaal is thine elder brother, and to him, of course, the first-born's rights belong. But I know full well that he will respect my wishes. Here shall ye two abide in peace together."

All the fire and suppressed hatred of the elder brother which had been surging in the young boy's breast for weeks and months broke forth in a torrent of words. "Live under Gaal's roof—eat at his table!" cried Jether. "Nay! Sooner

"Pocketing the Sugar." Diners-out in London are regularly engaged just now in a practice which popularly is known as "pocketing the sugar." The idea is to lay up a supply of sweetening for a day when it may be harder to obtain or, on the part of non-sugar eating individuals, for friends who like more than they are allowed. The custom is practiced all over the city and in all classes of places where tea and food are served.

German submarines lately seem to have been especially active against ships that happened to be carrying sugar, with the result that, while there is enough to go around, the supplies for the distant future are none too large. Tea and coffee are served with just the allowed weight of sugar, usually set alongside the cups in separate containers and usually consisting of halves or thirds of lumps. It is these pieces of lumps that most often are seen disappearing into the gold, silver, and leather handbags of the women and the waistcoat pockets of the men.

Sugar served for berries or other food is hard to pocket. Nearly always it is of the crude variety and very sticky; but collectors of sugar even carry off this kind with them; having a convenient envelope or a little cloth bag ready for it.

Lump sugar is much more popular, however, and in the mesh bags of women in London's streets and hotels the white cubes, or pieces of them, can be seen mingling with keys, treasury notes, odd change, powder puffs, and other things.

A new arrival in London who does not take sugar in his or her tea is sure quickly to be asked to "save up" for some friend with a so-called sweet tooth.

BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, need the tonic properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bill's Last Chance. The following story comes to me from a reader who is employed on munitions.

There had, it appears, been an explosion at a nearby factory, and the manager, who was snatching a brief holiday at the time, hurried home to investigate.

"How in the world did it happen?" he asked the foreman as he viewed the wreck. "Who was to blame?"

"Well, you see, sir," was the reply, "it was like this. Bill went into the mixing-room, probably thinking of something else, and struck a match in mistake. He—"

"Struck a match!" exclaimed the manager in amazement. "I should have thought it would have been the last thing on earth he'd do."

"It was, sir," was the rejoinder. "Ah, Miss Ethel, may I not dream that one day you will be mine?" "You may dream, but it won't
