GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILWAYS INEVITABLE.

A decade ago the president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, E. P. Ripley, said: "I am thoroughly convinced that I shall live to see the railroads of the country in the control of the government." He was then 62. "The signs may not be plain to you, but they are to me."

This remark was made to "Boersianer," who, in his article on the subject of the future of the railroads, which appears in Hearst's magazine for December, draws significant conclusions based on a searching analysis of the whole range of events, affecting the financial status of the railroads of the United States since the beginning of the war in Europe.
