

Durham Girl Witnessed

Princess Mary's Wedding

In a letter to her "home folks," read at London, England on the 4th March, Miss Edith Edge gives an interesting account of her sight of a royal bridal party at Westminster Abbey on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles. Miss Edge says in part: "But I must tell you about the wedding. We took up our positions at the sidewalk outside the gates about 9.15. We had a splendid view of everything, as there was no one in front of us. The policemen lined the route from the palace to the Abbey, and the Life Guards, with their scarlet coats and black busbies inside the white cordon. At ten to eleven the Life Guards rode up to escort the brides to the Abbey. At 11 the Queen and her three sons appeared amid a roar of cheers from the thousands of spectators. A few minutes later came another band of Life Guards, this time with the Princess and her father. She looked charming in her wedding finery and nodded graciously to the admiring crowds.

"After a wait of an hour or so, the cheering began again, announcing the return of the royal party. The chimes rang out from Westminster Abbey and were taken up by other bells all over the city. The King, Queen and family, came in the first carriage, Queen Alexandra in the next, and then followed cars with the distinguished guests. The Princess and Lascelles had taken a different route and did not return for at least ten minutes after the others. The great wave of cheering came nearer and nearer and culminated in the appearance of the bride and groom, nodding and smiling. Then they drove under the arch and we thought we had seen the last. But rumor said that the Royal party were to appear on the balcony. Ticket-holders were allowed inside the gates, and in a few minutes the bride and groom appeared and were joined in a short time by the King and the two Queens. Loud cheers, waving handkerchiefs and flags, greeted their appearance. Princess Patricia came out on the balcony, farther to the right. After a few minutes they disappeared inside the palace and the crowds dispersed.

"I forgot to tell you in last week's letter of being shown through the Parliament Buildings by Brig-Gen. Page Croft, M.P. He was extremely nice and we saw more than the time we were down ourselves. There are eleven hundred rooms in all and over two miles of corridors. In the crypt was a little chapel where M. P.'s might be married or their children baptized. Lady Scott was married there just the other day. At the foot of the stairs leading to the crypt was the place where Guy Fawkes was caught. We went out on the terrace overlooking the Thames where the Members have tea."

GIRL'S STATEMENT WILL HELP DURHAM

Many women will profit by the following statement of one of their sex: "I was afraid to eat on account of stomach trouble. Even rice did not agree. After taking Adler-i-ka I can eat anything." Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels, removing foul matter which poisoned stomach. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach or sour stomach. Guards against appendicitis. It brings out poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. S. MacBeth, Druggist.

ST. PATRICK'S NIGHT CONCERT A PLEASANT AFFAIR

The young people of the Presbyterian Church had a pleasant evening on St. Patrick's Night. The attendance was fairly good and would have been better had it not been for other attractions.

Mrs. Ruttle of Hanover was present and gave a nice little talk on Ireland, referring largely to the conditions of affairs in that unhappy land. The settlement of Home Rule had not yet been effected, and the audience would naturally infer from her remarks that the troubles are not yet ended.

Rev. Mr. Smith was chairman, and the lengthy program was handled with great efficiency. Miss Jean Morlock opened the entertainment with a piano instrumental, and Mr. Stewart McArthur's violin selections accompanied by his sister on the piano, brought forth an encore. Master McComb sang nicely for a youngster of his age, Miss Esther Firth gave a humorous Irish reading and Mrs. Moore McFadden with her usual ability, sang "Killarney," with "Mother Machree" as an encore. Mrs. A. W. H. Lauder's solo was appreciated and loudly encored, but as she had no other music she was forced to advise the audience of her inability to respond. Misses Mary and Jessie Bell gave a couple of well rendered duets, and Miss Vaddie Caldwell appeared in a monologue to a piano accompaniment. Mr. Tom Bell delighted the audience with two good solos, rendered very effectively and with good interpretation. Mrs. Ralph Catton acted as a two-man band in playing the mouth organ to her own accompaniment on the piano. Misses Esther McComb and Emily Smith sang a lively duet and Mrs. (Rev.) Smith gave a snappy rendering of "The Dear Little Girl." Miss Agnes Ramage accompanied the singing.

At the close of the program the chairman called the attention of the audience to a portrait of the late Mr. Whaley, recently unveiled in the church.

After closing with the National Anthem, a dainty lunch was served during which the time was socially spent. The room was tastily decorated for the occasion and the evening's program was enjoyed by all.

ANDREWS-DAILEY

A happy wedding was celebrated in North Egremont at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dailey, on Wednesday, March 15, when their eldest daughter, Mabel C., was married to Mr. W. J. Wesley Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Andrews, of near Mount Forest. The ceremony was conducted by the bride's pastor, the Rev. R. J. McCarten, Methodist minister, of Priceville. The bride was dressed in white satin, with veil and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Velva Dailey, dressed in coral georgette and satin. The bride's hat was henna silk trimmed with silver and her going away suit of navy. The groom was attended by his brother, Edgar. The wedding march was played by Mrs. McCarten. Only the immediate relatives were present. After the wedding supper, a programme of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and speeches, added to the enjoyment of the evening. The bride and groom will live on the Town Line on the farm formerly occupied by Mr. W. R. Watson. We all join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Andrews many happy and prosperous years of wedded life.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON FORESTRY

(By Canadian Forestry Assn.)

Q.—Please give me details as to the big planting program which, I understand, the Ontario Government has launched.

A.—According to a tentative announcement of the Premier of Ontario and his Chief Forester, several square miles a year would be planted with white and red pine. The Government estimates that if 10,000 acres per year were planted the province would have sufficient pine timber at the end of 60 years to supply 400 million board feet of lumber per year, or about 50 million feet more than the present annual cut. The annual expenditure would be about $200,000.

Q.—I am planning to plant spruce trees on several hundred acres. Where can I obtain the seed to start a nursery?

A.—You would be better advised to secure seedlings from the Quebec Government nurseries at Berthierville, P.Q., or from a commercial nursery instead of putting your money into the planting of seed. Spruce seed has been very scarce in recent years and quite costly.

Q.—What are the chief precautions to take in transplanting small shade trees?

A.—With such trees as maple, elm, ash, oak, etc., make sure to do your transplanting before the leaves commence to bud. Dig well around the roots and carefully avoid destroying any of the fine hair roots which are so vital to the growth of the tree in its new location. Dig the new hole plenty large enough to take the roots comfortably and plant your tree about six inches deeper than in its first location. Allow as little time as possible to elapse while the roots are lying exposed to sun and wind. Put the best earth closest to the roots and tamp it firmly.

Q.—Have forestry aeroplanes ever been used by entomologists to sprinkle insecticide on trees as a means of killing forest insects?

A.—Last fall in Ohio a six-acre grove of Catalpa trees contained 4,800 trees, 25 to 30 feet tall, which were badly infested with caterpillars was covered with poison by an aeroplane which took not more than 54 seconds to do the job. The experiment demonstrated the ability of the pilot to place the poisonous stuff where desired and at the same time the effect on the caterpillars was most gratifying, since it was estimated that 99 per cent. were destroyed. This experiment was conducted by the Ohio Government experimentation and the results as given are official.
