

Priceville.

(Our own correspondent.)
The cold wave of last week has passed away and springlike weather prevailed at the end of the week. On Saturday evening last about dusk we noticed a flock of wild geese circling around between the Saugeen River and Moss Lake. After a few moments they seemed to settle down on the lake for the night.
The farmers in this vicinity realize the importance of improved breeding in their cattle and other live stock. Among the importations this year we notice that John Oliver, on the O.D.R. East, has brought home a fine, young, imported Shorthorn bull, and over on the South Line, James Turner has purchased a fine 16 months old Shorthorn bull from Thomas Nichol at a good price. From the North Line, the Durham Road and the South Line, we expect to see a fine display of these animals, also registered sows and young stock at our Fall Fair next October.
Mr. Stafford, a new arrival in town has opened a general store in the Aldcorn Block and probably will be able to attract many new customers from outside points.
The several persons who have been ailing for more or less time, seem to be improving, some slowly, but we expect to see them all around again in the near future.

Corner Concerns.

(Our own correspondent.)
There were obstacles in the way of the Young People's Community Circle on the start, but it is well under way now and Friday night they staged a debate. Resolved: That reading was more beneficial than travel. It was a surprising success. Three girls had the affirmative side while three of the opposite sex had the negative side. The girls made the most points. They talk so much faster than boys!
There have been very few parties held in the neighborhood this winter, and a little indulgence along that line before the busy time starts will be quite proper. Mr. A. Noble will start with one on Friday night.
The death rate at the east side of our division has been large during the past week. Messrs. James Boakes, J. Hooper and Joseph Moore. All three have done well their bit, and obituaries will no doubt be furnished The Chronicle by near relatives.

It is always a pleasure to hear of any of our citizens making good in any country to which they go for a livelihood, and it was a pleasure to read in last week's Saskatoon Daily Star an account of a boy from this part having distinguished himself. It is Mr. W. A. Tucker, son of the late John Tucker, who has about completed his course at the Saskatoon College of Law. He had the honor of winning the oratorical championship of Saskatchewan University, and the first of three prizes, with an interesting and well delivered address on Imperial Federations. He laid aside his studies during the great war to go to the front and do his bit.
Miss Maggie Irwin, who has been spending a few weeks pleasantly with her sister, Mrs. E. V. Matthews, leaves for her home near Paisley this week.
Miss Macintyre spent over the week-end at her home at Dundalk.
Mr. and Mrs. George Ritchie of Edge Hill spent a couple of days last week with their daughter, Mrs. John Brown, and helped to comfort Master Lloyd Brown, who was so unfortunate as to fall and break his arm.
Miss Maggie Mead returned to her home at Unity, Sask., last Thursday, after spending a very enjoyable three months with relatives, old and new friends. Mrs. Earl Mead accompanied her as far as Toronto, where she will spend a few days.
Heartiest congratulations by all are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Milford Matthews on their joining heart and hand and taking up residence amongst us to fulfil the duties of citizens.
Mr. Dugald McKechnie's sale last week was a successful one. Prices were as good as usual.
Those changing properties are all in their new homes and preparing for the spring work.
Wood cutting is general at present. There are numerous wood-cutting outfits on the line, all doing a share.
Mr. William Edge of Edge Hill purchased a horse from Mr. Joseph Lennox last week and Joe in turn purchased another to take its place.
Mr. Thomas Tucker pays no heed to the warnings "Remove not the old landmarks," and last week took down Hiram Leppard's big log barn, built possibly 60 years ago.
When Lloyd George shows up, there is usually a show-down.
Lawyers occasionally make mistakes, but they seldom bring suit against one another.
Ah, well, Prof. Prince got a fat fee and the Halifax Herald a lot of free advertising.

(Our own correspondent.)
Your scribe is extremely sorry for the neglect of the correspondence for the past month. The lack of knowledge of the community doings is the main cause for the non-appearance of our budget.
Miss V. McFadden of Durham spent a couple of days last week with her sister, Mrs. John Bailey.
Mrs. W. McCulloch, Sr., has been dangerously ill of late, with an attack of pneumonia. We are pleased to say she is recovering again.
Mr. and Mrs. R. Johnston spent an evening last week with the latter's sister, Mrs. A. Corbett, of South Bentinck.
Mr. George Mervyn and son Gordon, of Lamlash, were recent visitors at Mr. Mark Mervyn's.
Miss H. Johnston spent last week in Durham.
Mr. J. Beecroft of Owen Sound was a welcome caller in our burg last week. He was making his annual call for the Thistle Tea Company of Owen Sound.
Mr. A. H. Corbett of South Bentinck spent a few days recently with his cousins, the Johnston family.
Dr. J. McCulloch of Peterborough, was a recent visitor with relatives and friends in this vicinity.
Mr. E. Roseborough of near Durham was in our burg sawing wood for some of our neighbors last week.
Mr. William Dawson of Toronto spent over Sunday with his brother-in-law, Mr. John Wells, Jr.
A good time is reported at the party held Thursday evening of last week at Mr. James K. Park's, of South Bentinck. Mr. Park moved his household effects to the hamlet of Allan Park on Monday of this week. We wish him every success in his new abode.

Aberdeen.
(Our own correspondent.)
Syrup making is still in full force, with but a fair yield.
We are pleased to report that Mrs. J. Lynn is a little better. Nurse Carmount left the end of the week, and since then her sister-in-law, Mrs. Burnett, of Hanover, has been in attendance.
Mrs. J. W. Smith is able to be out again.
Rev. Mr. Sillars of Dornoch visited the sick on this line recently.
Mr. Herb Hopkins has bought a new horse, and also a Ford car.
Messrs. Duncan McLean and Jas. Ewen, each had successful wood bees last Thursday. The work was done by Messrs. McArthur and Greenwood's outfit.
Mrs. Don Stewart has received a letter from a returned soldier who is in a sanitarium at Quebec, thanking her for a pair of socks which he had got with her name in the toe, which shows that the good work of the Red Cross is still going on.
A few from this line attended the U.F.O. meeting at the Rocky school last Wednesday evening.
Mr. J. F. McLean left for the city Monday morning.
Miss Mary McCallum of Mulock spent Monday with Mrs. Arch. McLean.

Rev. and Mrs. Aird of Mulock visited on the line the first of the week.
Mrs. Arch. McLean and son John are laid up with the cold.
Miss Vera Stewart is able to be back to school after being home sick for a couple of weeks with the cold.
Mr. John McKechnie and sister Lizzie, of Waudby, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLean on Monday.
Mr. Fred Johnstone visited friends at Crawford on Sunday.

South-East Bentinck.
(Our own correspondent.)
Editor's Note.—Owing to the Dollar Day advertising in our last issue necessitating publishing on Wednesday instead of Thursday, the following correspondence was unavoidably crowded out.
Miss Jennie Davis of Traverston spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Robert Webber.
Mr. Charles Smith of Guelph visited recently at the home of Mr. William Smith.
Mr. W. J. Vollett is holding a sale of farm stock and implements on March 29. He has purchased Mr. R. G. Lindsay's business in Durham and will take possession April 15.
Mr. Alex. Knisley, while working in the bush, had the misfortune to get his ankle crushed by a log rolling on it, which will cause him to be laid up for a few weeks.
Mrs. John Morice visited Monday with Mrs. William Picken.
Mr. W. J. Vollett made a business trip to Hanover on Wednesday.

(Our own correspondent.)
Those making maple syrup have been busy these last few days, as the trees have been running freely.
Miss Sadie Lawrence spent an evening with her friend, Miss Esther McLean, last week.
Mr. Joe Davidson is visiting with friends in Toronto.
The U.F.O. Club had a business meeting last Wednesday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Dugald Clark spent last Sunday with the McKechnie family of Glenroadin.
Mr. Roy Thompson has gone to Toronto to visit his sister, Mrs. Bert Taylor.
The Caswell Bros. are busy blasting stones on Mr. John McCormick's farm at Glenroadin.
Mr. David Watson had a wood bee last week and he got a large pile of wood cut.
Quite a few from this part went to the concert given by the young people of Dornoch in the church, and they say it was good.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clarke spent the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. John McKechnie, of Glenroadin.
Our new mail courier makes the round in a hurry and is giving good satisfaction so far. He seems very obliging, like Mr. McDonald was.
Mr. and Mrs. George Bovingdon spent Sunday with the Leggette and McKechnie families.

Edge Hill.
(Our own correspondent.)
Master Harry Williams of Toronto is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Williams.
Mr. John Black of Chesley was the guest of his cousins, the McFayden family.
Mr. Daniel Edge of Durham visited a couple of days in the neighborhood.
A considerable amount of wood was cut in this vicinity during the past week, the buzz-saw doing the greater part of the work.
Assessor Angus Dunbar has completed his valuation of the farm lands on the second concession.
Mrs. John H. Edge and two sons have returned to their home at Mullingar, Sask., after spending the winter with her father, Mr. W. R. Edge. Her brother Herb accompanied her to Toronto. On the Friday evening prior to her departure, a surprise party met at her father's, where a very enjoyable time was spent.
On Friday evening last a surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McNally, who have lately taken possession of the Collier farm. There was a real all-round good time.
We congratulate Mr. Wesley Andrews and Miss Mabel Daley, who were united in marriage on Wednesday last. They have taken up their abode on their farm here, where we wish them a life of happiness and prosperity.
The fool sits down and worries about the living the world owes him, but the wise guy hustles around and collects the interest on the debt.
The wind in the North to-day, the 21st, they say, presages a crop failure for this year.
Mrs. Hugh Firth of town visited her brother, Mr. T. H. Moore, the beginning of the week.
Mr. Campbell Dunsmoor has been along the line with his sawing outfit and fast converted the numerous piles of poles into wood, and as a result, we hear of tired muscles and weary bones.
A number have tapped their maples but are not getting very good returns these cool days.
This vicinity was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mr. James Boakes, which occurred on Sunday morning last. He had been engaged with Mr. Farr Lawrence for some time past and on completing his term on Saturday night was driven home by Mr. Lawrence apparently in his usual health. After reaching home he decided to walk to Dromore, a distance of some two miles, to procure tobacco, groceries and eatables, and made the return trip home accompanied by two young men of the neighborhood, who noticed he was somewhat lagging in his gait, but was otherwise apparently well. Nothing further was known until the following day, Sunday, when about mid-day these same two young men called at his home where he lived alone, and on finding everything silent and the doors closed from within they forced their way in and found their friend in bed, cold in death. The coroner was notified, but an inquest was deemed unnecessary. He was presumably over the three-score mark and was unmarried. He has two brothers, whose whereabouts are unknown. His remains will be laid to-morrow, Wednesday, in Amos Church burying ground.
Mr. T. J. Moore spent a day on the Owen Sound jury since last we wrote.
