Brightened With Flower Boxes and Hanging Baskets.

The Boxes Must Be Strong and Durable-The Soil Should Be Kept Rich and Well Watered - Hints on Arrangement of Plants.

Agriculture, Toronto.)

Window boxes should be made strong and durable. Each box should be nine or ten inches wide at top and bottom, seven or eight inches this neighborhood these times. Hope deep inside measurements, of a suitable length to fit the window, not over four feet in length, made of one-inch dressed lumber, and when finished, painted a dull green color. Half-inch holes should be bored about six inches apart through the bottom of the box for drainage purposes. Verandah boxes should be about the some measurements. large iron screw eye, or iron staple, should be put at each top, outside (front) corner of the window boxes. A strong piece of wire should be attached to these long enough to attach to another screw eye or staple placed in the window frame about a foot higher up than top of box, so that the box can be fastened securely in position. Boxes and barrels may outside. This not only adds to their attractiveness but also helps to keep the plants moist and cool at the roots in summer time. The bark from Basswood, Elm, Cedar or Birch trees will be found suitable. By the exercise of a little taste and originality, very pretty boxes can be made at slight cost. Verandah boxes and rustic stands can be made in something the same way. One of the prettiest rustic stands I have ever seen was made from the lower half of a sugar barrel, reinforced by a thickness of half-inch board nailed on the bottom of the barrel outside to strenthen it, with three-quarter inch holes bored through for drainage purposes.

Hanging Baskets. Wire hanging baskets lined with green moss or sphagnum moss are very effective, especially for a sunny position. The clay baskets dry out very quickly and are better suited for a shady position than a sunny Soil.

The soil for window boxes must be rich in fertilizers if the best results are to be obtained. It is a good plan to put an inch in depth of well rotted barnyard manure, or dry cow manure, near the bottom of each box, before filling it up with the prepared soil. About an inch in depth of soil may be placed in the bottom of the box first, and the fertilizers named spread over it, or about half a pound of bone meal may be used as a substitute for the first named fertilizers. These fertilizers will help sustain plant growth late in the season when the soil has become exhausted. One part sand, one part leaf mould (black soil from the bush) and seven or eight parts of parts of either of the fertilizers named added, will make a good soil for window boxes, rustic stands, etc.

The best time to fill window boxes is when they are to be placed in position toward the end of May or early in June. The boxes may be set in position and well secured, before they are filled with soil or plants, as they are heavy and difficult to set in position when filled.

Arrangement of Plants.

Tall growing plants should be placed at the back of the box nearest the window. Dwarf plants and trailing plants should then be put around the front and ends of the box. Any space between these in the centre of the box should be filled with medium good barn on stone foundation; well height plants. It is a good plan to first fill the box nearly level full with with soil, then stand the plants on the surface where they are to be planted finally. By doing this the plants can be changed about and rearranged, and a good idea of the arrangement and effect desired can be obtained before finally planting 316 tf | them. For color effect, for instance, too much of any one color, especially the heavier colors, should not be placed in any one part of the box, whether of dwarf or tall plants, as there would not then be a proper balance of color, something that would detract from the effect considerably. By standing the plants on the surface of the soil before planting as mentioned, any change required can be easily made. Use bright colored plants mainly whether of foliage or flowers, and if possible, make use of good sized plants. Boxes filled as described at the time of setting out, will do much better than boxes filled indoors early in the season. Boxes filled very early indoors, often get shabby as soon as they are set out, and sometimes become positively unsightly before the summer season is half over. Care of Boxes.

Window boxes, etc., require copious and frequent waterings every day, or at least every second day, moved bodily or taken to pieces and especially during hot weather. rebuilt; will sell cheap. Inquire at soil should be well soaked with water when watering the boxes. Toward the end of the season, in July and August, some liquid fertilizer may be given the plants.—The late Wm.

> E. G. Bennett, of Missouri, says: "When you sell grain you wholesale the fertility of your soil; when you sell butter-fat you retail water, feed 46 tf and sunshine."
