GROWING SWEET PEAS

Getting the Very Best From This Beautiful Flower.

Location and Soil Suggested—Early Sowing Desirable—Good Support and Frequent Picking Necessary. (Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Location.—An open, sunny position in the garden suits them very well. Close up to a building or near to a close board fence facing the south is not a good place for them as the intense heat of the sun induces attacks of insect pests. An east, west, or north exposure close to a fence is not so objectionable, except perhaps a direct northern exposure. Near to an open wire fence or trellis fence is not objectionable.

Soil.—A deep, fairly rich loamy soil is best. If the ground is poor or gravelly or heavy clay, dig a trench the length required from 12 to 15 inches deep and about 10 inches wide. Place about two inches in depth of well rooted barnyard manure or cow manure in the bottom of the trench, then fill the trench up with well enriched loamy soil. Deep digging is necessary for sweet peas even in good soil. Never sow sweet peas twice in succession in the same soil; a part of the soil at least should be renewed every year. Prepare trench or ground for sweet peas the previous fall if possible.

When to Sow.—Sow as early in the spring as the ground can be worked. The seed may be soaked in lukewarm water before sowing for six or eight hours to hasten germination.

How to Sow.—Make a drill about two inches in depth. Sow the seed about two inches apart. Cover with nearly two inches of fine soil. (The Spencer type of Sweet Peas is the best kind to sow.)

Thinning.—Thin the plants when about six inches in height to three or four inches apart.

Support.—Wide meshed chicken wire five feet in height, maple brushwood or coarse twine may be used for support. Netting made of coarse twine makes an ideal support, better than wire, as the plants cling to it better than to wire.

Watering.—Water thoroughly in very dry weather. Draw a drill a few inches deep and about four inches from the row on each side. Pour water into these until the ground is thoroughly soaked. Watering in this way once every week or ten days is far more beneficial than frequent light surface waterings. Sprinkle the foliage with water under pressure from a fine sprinkler every day in hot dry weather to keep down insects, such as green aphid and red spider. Sprinkle the under side of the foliage especially. Tobacco and soap solutions are also good for insect pests.

Picking Bloom.—Keep all the sprays of bloom picked off every second day to prevent seed from forming. If seed is allowed to form, the bloom will be inferior and the flowering season of short duration.

Fertilizers.—A watering once or twice with liquid manure solution towards the end of August will help to keep the plants vigorous and productive late in the season.—The late Wm. Hunt, O/A. College, Guelph.

Silo Facts.
In the silo you can store corn in a form in which practically every particle can be eaten. Silage gives the effect of pasturage in winter; it is both palatable and succulent, and it also aids digestion in the dry-feeding season.

Animals fed silage are not more subject to tuberculosis, do not lose their teeth more quickly, and are not shorter-lived than animals fed other common kinds of feed. The use of the silo often makes it possible to save corn that would otherwise be lost by frost.

A good silo should be round, airtight, water-proof, have walls that are smooth inside, and be strong and durable. A silo should be placed where it will give the greatest convenience in feeding and where it will be least exposed to extremely cold winds.

One hundred tons of silage will feed 25 cows 40 pounds of silage a day for 200 days.

A silo 14 feet in diameter and 32 feet high will hold 100 tons.

Silos of more than 100 tons capacity cost from $2 to $6 per ton, according to the type and material used in construction.

Farm Notes.
Michigan is the first state to offer a reward for planting nut trees beside highways. In Europe the profit from roadside nut trees assists in maintaining roads. Roadside nut trees abroad are protected from vandalism by public sentiment, and this is true of the nut orchards in America.

By means of a potato cutter, a potato planter, and a potato digger, along with other machines, a farmer more intelligent agriculture, a farmer has been able to produce 57 bushels of potatoes with one average hour's labor. A half century ago the product was only one-third as much, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Noah Up to Date.
From the time of Noah when the dove brought the green back, homing pigeons have been of constant service to mankind. That well-bred stock of this breed is desirable is shown by a live-stock owner in Henrico County, Va. He lists 22 homing pigeons of pure breeding among other live stock enrolled in the Better Sires.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON FORESTRY

(By Canadian Forestry Ass'n.)

Q.—How much money is spent annually in Canada on forest protection equipment such as cones, motor launches, telephone lines and other materials needed for rapid transportation and communication?

A.—As nearly as we can estimate, $400,000.00. Ontario, for example, employs 1,000 fire rangers and spends over $500,000.00 on the wages of these men and necessary fire detection and fire fighting equipment. British Columbia will spend $115,000.00 this year on forest protection equipment.

Q.—Is the British Empire self-sustaining as regards its timber supply?

A.—The Empire unquestionably owns sufficient timber resources to meet all requirements although Canada is the only part of the Empire having a considerable supply of coniferous wood, such as pine, spruce, fir and cedar. The fact is, however, that the United Kingdom draws over 88 per cent. of her timber import from without the Empire. The three main sources of supply are Russia, and Scandinavia, South-west Europe and North America. Canada sells the United Kingdom only about ten to fifteen million dollars' worth of timber annually. The reason for the preponderance of Russia and Scandinavia in the Old Country is to be found in the much lower freight rates.

Q.—Is the quantity of timber cut for lumber in Canada since 1912 increasing or decreasing?

A.—We are cutting less timber for lumber purposes as time passes but the annual felling of pulpwood for the manufacture of paper is increasing rapidly, chiefly for the reason that supplies are being exhausted in the United States.

Q.—I have read somewhere that the great forests of India are in control entirely of technical Forest Engineers, and that while the cutting goes on at an enormous rate, the capital stock is not being impaired as time passes.

A.—Your assumption is quite correct. The forest operations in India

Young Mothers

This Advice is Most Vital to You

Stratford, Ont.—"I am very enthusiastic in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic for prospective mothers. I have had experience both with the 'Prescription' and without, and am in a position to know that there is a vast difference. I was never nauseated or sick at all with my 'Prescription' babies, but I was extremely uncomfortable with the others and my suffering was greater when I had not taken the 'Favorite Prescription.' I shall always take pleasure in recommending it to prospective mothers."—Mrs. Leota M. Pepper, 114 Grange St.

Mothers Who Are Run-Down and Nervous,

Read This St. Catharines Woman's Advice

St. Catharines, Ont.—"I was in a nervous and weakened condition during my first expectant period. I really did not know what to take for relief until my husband brought me home a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it strengthened me at once. I am sure it helped to relieve me of suffering and I take pleasure in recommending it to other prospective mothers."—Mrs. Geo. Betts, 49 Lowell Ave.

are wholly under the direction of trained forestry officers, graduates of British forestry schools. As a consequence the forest resources are not being impaired, although cutting is allowed to proceed to amply meet the needs of the population. Furthermore, the control of forest operations by foresters has made for the government of India a profit of 773,000 pounds sterling per annum. India's forest management is generally regarded as the finest in the world.
