Corner Concerns.

(Our own correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Macintyre of Dundalk visited their daughter at Mr. William Allan's a week ago.

Miss Myrtle Allan was home from Toronto over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allan motored, in company with our teacher, Miss Macintyre, to Dundalk on the 24th, and spent the day pleasantly.

We are sorry to report Master Kenneth Allan under the doctor's care at present, but hope for his speedy recovery. He was one of the class for Entrance this June.

We were reminded a week ago Sunday of the old slang phrase, "the neighborhood was done up brown," when Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown and family of Allan Park, visited at the Tucker home, and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown of Dunessan visited with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mead.

Rev. Dr. Ibbot of Arthur will take the services in St. Paul's Church on Sunday, June 11. We expect a good turnout, as he is favorably known in Egremont.

The Young People's Society is getting along nicely now. They are holding an open meeting at the church on Friday evening, June 9, at which lantern views will be given, along with other numbers of a program. Do not think because the admission fee is only 10 cents that the affair is not going to be good.

Mr. Lorne Allan has been improving the front of his farm by putting up a new fence.

This has been a good seeding season since it started for getting along with the work, and the crops are pretty nearly all in. The growth is far advanced and things look promising.

It is hard to get local news at present, as the farmers are too interested in other topics. The price of cream has gone away down, yet the Progressives voted to a man for the free admission of oleomargarine, a substitute for butter, that so lacks nourishment that it has been declared that it should not be used in time of peace. The Provincial Government is still in session, notwithstanding the fact that farmers, and most of the farm journals, insisted that a hundred dollars per day for every day they sat after the 24th of May be deducted from their salaries. But there they sit, and are likely to do so for some weeks to come, and in place of deducting from, they have added $600 each as a reward for their mopey. And next year the auto license is likely to be double that of this year, and none of it being spent on the concessions; yet in the pre-election pledges there would be no special roads—every road, even to the base line, if travelled, would receive the same attention as roads leading into the cities. Although the people are well nigh exasperated over these matters they still have a little time to discuss the law enforcers in Durham because some of our citizens have been soaked for letting the tail-light burn out in their autos, or being turned the wrong way in the street. They claim they can get rid of Durham, but for the others, they are going to stay until the last day in the afternoon. By the way, personally we have no kick against Durham, as we have no car for the lights to burn out of, and we are always headed in the right direction.
