

Flesherton.

(Our own correspondent.)

An event of deep interest here was the formal opening on Tuesday afternoon, June 20, of the Memorial Park to the memory of the gallant twenty from this vicinity who fell in the war, together with those who fought and returned. The weather was ideal and a large crowd attended the impressive ceremony: Grey County Council, in session at Owen Sound, attended in a body, and together with the contingent of Grey Regiment here, prepared for camp at Owen Sound, marched to the Park headed by Markdale Band, which supplied music during the afternoon. Hon. Dr. Jamieson of Durham, who was introduced by Reeve McFavish of this place in a short speech, presided, opening the programme with a good address. Other speakers who also gave good addresses were: Col. D. Carmichael, who declared the park opened; Captain S. Elliott, of Owen Sound; Dr. G. M. Leeson, M.P.; Warden Howey, Holland; and Reeves W. Calder, Durham; G. Bothwell, Sydenham; and G. McEneaney, Egremont. Dr. Murray, Flesherton, led the singing of the hymns. Rev. Mr. Vose read the scripture lesson, Rev. J. H. Oke offered the dedicatory prayer and Rev. F. G. Fowler the prayer of thanksgiving. The roll of the fallen, viz., A. J. Ansley, Max Bannon, Reuben Cargoe, William Davis, Ed. Jamieson, Harold Mitchell, Charles McMullen, Charles Megott, Clarence Orr, Harold Phillips, John Sharp, Arnold Thurston, Chas. Thistlethwaite, William Walker, Charles Roy, Richard Wilcock, Chas. Buchanan, Bruce Walker, Ernest Hoyle and Rev. R. C. Kerr, was read by R. P. Bellamy, returned soldier, after which Bugler Perkins sounded the Last Post. The roll of 62 who returned was read by their Comrade, Everett Henry. The National Anthem brought the proceedings to a close, after which the crowd witnessed a good baseball match between Flesherton and Dundalk league teams, the latter winning. A high-class concert was given at night by Toronto talent. Great credit is due the Women's Institute here for its good work in securing this well wooded and picturesque plot of several acres for a Memorial Park on which much has already been spent in improvements which, when completed, will make it a beauty spot. A neat kitchen has been built containing a cook stove and tables erected for the convenience of picnicking parties, etc. A pavilion is yet to be erected.

Welbeck.

The pupils and ratepayers of the section had a very successful picnic on Saturday, the 24th inst., and were joined by the other schools of the vicinity. There were old men, young men, married men and bachelors, and all joined in the sports, everybody enjoying themselves. Miss Gillespie, the teacher here, who is severing her connection with this school, was made the recipient of the following address and presentation, replying in an acceptable manner:

Dear Miss Gillespie.—We have come joyfully to our picnic, but we realize it is going to be no picnic to us to say good-by to you. During the few short months you have been our teacher you have become very dear to us, and, with more reason than Herrick over his daffodils, "we weep to see you haste away so soon." In school-room practice you have followed both the admonitions "Rule by love, O Hiawatha!" and "Rule by patience, Laughing Water!" Besides, your superior academic and professional qualifications, your gentle voice and sympathetic ways have made you a most efficient guide to us in the ways of knowledge. Moreover, you have been a cheerful comrade and in all our play a good sport in the most complimentary meaning of that expressive term. We are much indebted to you for the organization of our community baseball. In memory we shall retain pleasant pictures of you, and we ask you to accept this camera, that you may carry away pictures of Welbeck—lest you forget. We hope our fragrant swamps, our sweeping views of wooded hills, and our clear streams may be among the pleasant places of your remembrance, and that you will also remember that the stoniness of our fences and fields bears no relation to the condition of our hearts. Most of all, we should like you to take with you a vision of a little circle of children's faces that have looked up to you with love, respect and happy confidence. As you leave us amid the falling of "petals of blown roses on the grass," we would gladly if we could, strew with roses your new path of life, even to the end. Then beyond the greater River Styx we hope earnestly to meet you among immortal flowers. With sincere wishes for your complete and abiding happiness.

Signed on behalf of Welbeck School:—Jessie Ledingham, Muriel Heft, Cameron Corlett, Lucille Sharp. Roadwork has been the work of the day. The County spent some money in this section, and also the Township Council, and in a few short days our roads will be in first-class condition again after the heavy rains.

Allan Park

(Our own correspondent.)

Mrs. Herb. Brigham returned from Hamilton last Saturday, after spending a couple of weeks with friends there.

The hill west of Allan Park, known as Collett's Hill, will soon be in good condition again, having been overhauled under the direction of Mr. Robert Brigham.

The Dirstein lumber truck from Elmwood broke through the bridge one mile and a quarter north of Allan Park, known as Kennedy's bridge, one day last week. Miraculously, neither the car nor driver was injured. The bridge broke through and the car, following the stringers down, was left sitting out of water on the stringers. A little talk is going round of the truck being overloaded.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slee are at present entertaining guests from Toronto.

The U.F.O. picnic, held in Brigham's park on Friday last, was a great success. There was a large program, consisting of songs, bagpipe selections and speeches, among whom were Mr. Burnaby, who gave an able address. After the picnic the young people gathered in the building at the back of the store and spent a very pleasant evening in dancing.
