A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Phillips, Rock Mills, on Wednesday afternoon, July 5, when their granddaughter, Miss Alice McDowell, was married to Mr. S. Ray Pedlar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pedlar, Flesherton. Rev. A. E. Duffield of Maxwell conducted the ceremony and Miss Della Pedlar played the wedding march. The stately bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Samuel Phillips, looked pretty in a navy canton crepe gown heavily beaded. She wore a corsage bouquet of roses and string of pearls. The parlor decorations were artistic and pretty. About 30 guests were present, among those from a distance being Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanduzen and the Misses Vanduzan, Toronto. After the marriage and wedding dinner, the happy couple left on a motoring trip, the bride wearing a stylish navy blue suit with braided waist and hat to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Osprey. ORANGEMEN ATTENDED CHURCH AS A BODY LAST SUNDAY

On Sunday evening last, the Orangemen of the district attended the Baptist Church in a body to listen to their annual sermon. The Rev. Mr. Cameron preached an edifying sermon, taking as his text Gideon's call from threshing wheat by the winepress to become a national leader. Gideon was specially prepared for the office to which God called him, because upon his mind was deeply impressed the special sin of his age. He also had a strong desire for their deliverance and return to Jehovah's true worship. Jehovah picked him out to do the very work that was upon his heart to do. That work, also was the work Jehovah wanted accomplished. The great Christ desires young people of to-day to become great leaders in bringing the young people of our day away from worldly things to the feet of Christ, for true cleansing from sin through the atoning work of Christ. Mr. Saunders sang a delightful solo before the sermon and Miss Miriam A. Cameron sang "Serving My King" at the close of the sermon.
