

Priceville and South

(Our own correspondent.)
Too late for last week.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hugh McKinnon, South Line, Glenelg, took place this Monday afternoon, the 24th July, to McNeal's cemetery. Mrs. McKinnon had been ailing for some months back with a complication of ailments, but was able to be about till a few days before her death. Mrs. McKinnon, whose maiden name was Catharine McKinnon, daughter of the late Mr. Donald McKinnon of Bunessan, where she was born about 63 years ago, and wedded to Mr. Hugh McKinnon 42 years ago. In religion she was a Presbyterian, a dutiful life companion and a faithful mother. The sons and daughters away from the old home will sadly mourn the loss of a beloved mother when duty calls them to visit there. Those two sons who hurriedly left from their homes in the Far West when the message reached them of the serious illness of their mother, when arriving only received a cold reception from the once loving mother, who formerly met them with open arms to greet them, for they only found her calmly sleeping in her casket; also her dutiful daughter, Mrs. Jones, from the West, arrived on Sunday night. She and her brother Archie hired a car from the city on Sunday afternoon, making good time. The funeral was one of the largest seen here for a long time. The departed one was widely known from different localities. Her pastor Rev. Mr. Jones preached a comforting sermon on the occasion. The pall-bearers were: Charles Ferguson, Hugh McPhail, Thomas McDougall, Hector McDonald, Norman McIntyre and Hector McEachern. W. G. Watson was the undertaker. Those from Durham were Mrs. Adam Weir, and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, Mr. Peter Ramage and sister, Alice, and Mrs. Flora McPherson and many others. From Toronto were Mrs. Neil McKinnon and son Hector and daughter Ella. Mrs. Herman McLean sang a beautiful solo. Mrs. McKinnon leaves a lonely life partner, five sons and three daughters, viz.: Mrs. Jones of the West, Mrs. McMillan, Bella, Priceville; Mrs. Angus McLaughlin, Julia, North Line, Glenelg. The sons are: Donald from the West, Archie also from the West, Lachlan, Charles and Malcolm at home.

Allan Park

(Our own correspondent.)

Mr. Herbert Brigham wife on his duty this week is taking his daughter Lenore and niece, Miss Eva McMahon, along with him to spend a few holidays. They go to Allenford, Owen Sound, Tobermory, and other places on the Bruce Peninsula. We are sorry to say that Mrs. John Park, who had a paralytic stroke a couple of weeks ago, is not improving as fast as might be expected. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slee motored to Toronto Sunday morning, the latter's sister being in a critical condition. Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Herd and family spent over the week-end with friends in Owen Sound. Mrs. Chambers of Alton, N.S., is spending her holidays with her mother, Mrs. Henry Brigham. Miss Meryl Livingston of Hamilton spent a few days with friends here. The most of the people around this burg have their hay and wheat stored safely in their barns and a bumper crop it was. A lot of the spring crop is ready and some of it already cut.

Priceville.

(Our own correspondent.)

Many heavy crops of hay have been gathered in this season heretofore. The people of town and vicinity are preparing to receive a large gathering of visitors on Monday, August 7. The hotel and committees of both churches here will be prepared to furnish lunches or good meals and various other refreshments for old and young. Rev. C. S. Jones preached in College street Presbyterian Church, Toronto, on Sunday, July 23, to a good congregation, and naturally enough numbers of former Pricevilleites, now living in the city, were attracted there to meet him. Mrs. N. McKinnon and daughters Ella and Laura of Toronto, also H.E. McKinnon of The Globe staff, are summering here for a time at their country home. Postmaster R. McConkey has been in one of the Toronto hospitals for a few days. His overseas injuries occasionally require expert attention. Bert Ausum makes a genial and expert assistant in the post office. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Schryers of Cheltenham, Mich., have been spending a few days with the latter's friends here. They will also visit her relatives in Owen Sound, Toronto, and Huntsville before returning to their Michigan home. J. W. Fleck of Shelburne erected a granite monument of very neat design last week in the public cemetery here for Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar McKinnon and family in the plot where their late son and brother is laid. Guess one of the boys was poking the "puff adder" at Riverdale. He was spitting out mutilated dictionary last week.

A LESSON IN ADVERTISING

William Wrigley, Jr., the millionaire manufacturer of chewing gum who annually spends hundreds of thousands of dollars in advertising, was recently asked why he did not now rely upon the reputation established for his famous brands of gum and save advertising expenses. He replied: "My friend, if I were to stop advertising it would be like taking the engine off a train. It would slow down and after a little while stop. Advertising is the locomotive of business, and if you don't have it, business comes to a stop."

HIGHWAY MAY LINK SIMCOE

AND HURON COUNTIES

There is at least an even chance that the Ontario Department of Highways may make an addition to the Provincial roads system, an East and West road between Lakes Simcoe and Huron, according to a dispatch from Toronto. On Wednesday of last week thirty representatives of municipalities and ridings in Dufferin, Grey, Wellington and Simcoe Counties waited on Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways, and Hon. W. E. Raney, Acting Premier, and asked that the Government take over and reconstruct the county roads between Alliston, Shelburne and Mount Forest. It was also suggested that the road be extended eastward to meet the Toronto-Barrie road near Gilford Station. Later the Western portion of the route could be completed to reach Lake Huron at a point between Goderich and Kincardine.

While the Minister of Highways was noncommittal in his reply, he was inclined to lean to the belief that the road in question should be made a county-provincial road. Under that arrangement the Province would pay 60 per cent. of its cost. The minister pointed out that the counties represented had their fair share of the Provincial system.

Request was also made by the deputation for a north and south road between Croyton in Grey County and Fergus, in Wellington County. The minister suggested that the construction of this route be referred to the County Councils concerned, as, at the present time, the route was under the control of the townships, and it was not the policy of the Department to take over township roads as provincial highways.

Members of the deputation based their claims largely on the fact that the facilities for east and west traffic in the four counties represented are not as good as they should be. Included among those who spoke were: R. Howie, Warden of Grey County; John Pritchard, M.P., North Wellington; T. K. Slack, M.P.P., Dufferin; G. M. Leeson, M.P.P., South Grey; E. J. Evans, M.P.P., South Simcoe; Reeve W. Calder, of Durham, and Mayor Allen of Mount Forest.

HANOVER CHINK VAMOOSED

Charlie Minn, who conducted a restaurant in Hanover and who handled a little "hootch" on the side, ran foul of the law and was sentenced by Magistrate Telford last week to six months in jail. Charles was not present, however, to answer to his name, as he had taken French leave a few days previously. Report has it that he is on his way back to China. The information was laid by Inspector Beckett and was considered as a second offence, whereas it was actually a third offence, as he had paid two $200 fines previously.

WHEN IS A MAN DRUNK?

"When is a man drunk?" is a question that has frequently come up in court. It came up in the Kincardine police court on Monday last week before County Magistrate McNab of Walkerton. One man said he heard a Toronto policeman give the best answer. "A man is drunk," he swore, "when he does something he wouldn't do when he was sober." This test is inadequate in that it does not admit of freakness and whimsicality. The abolition of the bar has removed a famous test. "A man is drunk when he wants to kiss the bartender good-night."

FINED AT KENILWORTH

(Arthur Enterprise.) It would seem that the provincial authorities are going to see to it that the speed limit is observed on country roads as well as on the Hamilton Highway and other more important thoroughfares. Last Friday Police Magistrate Hellyer disposed of four charges for excess speeding at his home at Kenilworth. The offences were committed on the O.S.R. when speeds of 37, 39 and two at 42 miles per hour were reported by traffic constables. Three of those charged did not appear, but pleaded guilty by correspondence. Mr. Hunter of Durham, one of those who had crept by the quiet homes of Kenilworth at only 42 per cent., appeared to defend his case. However, after the traffic cop and Mr. Hunter were heard, Police Magistrate Hellyer declared assessments of $10 and costs all round.

A second case heard was one in which the crown prosecuted Gustavus Krieger of Palmerston on the alleged offense of having misrepresented himself to be a constable. It was alleged the offence was committed when Krieger came to Arthur in search for his car after it had been used by his son in the first lap of the unfortunate journeyings of the two Arthur girls and two Palmerston youths, details of which are now pretty generally known. However, the crown was not able to substantiate the charge and the case against Krieger was dismissed.

SHELBURNE HAS A "HIVER"

(Shelburne, Economist.) A swarm of bees from a local honey manufacturing depot wandered away from home a few days ago and landed on a big burdock in rear of a business block. Word to the apary brought along a girl with a hive. Evidently she knew her business, for, wearing a veil, but not bothering with gloves, she soon had those bees hived and on their way to their proper quarters. She would cut a bee-laden branch of the burdock, stick it in the hive till the bees were off, withdraw the branch and toss it to one side. Then off would come another branch. And so the process continued until the wanderers were all safely housed again. The women seem to do pretty nearly everything well nowadays.

RANEY'S HORSE-RACE TAX

WILL KILL SMALL MEETS

(Alliston Herald.) The local sportsmen who handle the race meets in town realize just what Raney's levy on race track receipts means. For races in this town last Saturday the driving club paid $10 in day tax and 10 cents for every admission to the grounds, whether it was paid or complimentary. The gate receipts did not meet the expenses and the members had to make up the balance. Races on the Alliston track will not likely be seen again—at least not till a man with some sense replaces the imbecile Raney.

FRENCH CANADIAN CATTLE

AT CAP ROUGE, QUEBEC

(Experimental Farms Note.) The herd of French Canadian cattle at the Cap Rouge, Quebec, Experimental Station, may not be the largest in existence to-day, though it numbers about 60 head of registered animals, but no other herd can boast a larger proportion of Record of Performance females. There is not a cow having passed two periods of lactation which has not qualified, and no heifer will remain at Cap Rouge which cannot do so. This rigid rule, however, has not eliminated many heifers, in later years, as practically every one of them qualifies.

This herd was built up since 1911, and a few important lessons were learnt in building it up. One of them was that it is impossible to do constructive work without having and keeping the animals in first-class health. How can a cow be a heavy producer if she has not the full vigor required to give large quantities of milk? How can a number of females be regular producers if contagious abortion is present in the herd? How can strong heifers be raised if calf scours sap their vitality when young? It may thus well be said that no constructive breeding can be done unless healthy animals are used.

Another lesson which was brought distinctly to light is that it is impossible to improve the milking qualities of dairy cattle, however good the females may be, unless the sires are out of heavy producers. When starting the Cap Rouge herd, a magnificent looking bull was bought, one that could have won at all the shows, and moreover an animal which, according to ordinary standards, was of good dairy conformation. But every one of his daughters, over twenty-five in number, had to be sent to the butcher, because poor milkers. And later on when some of the dams of these poor milkers were bred to bulls out of known heavy producers, they gave heifers which easily qualified for Record of Performance.

Three of the four herd bulls were dropped at Cap Rouge; the sire of two of them and the dams of all these have qualified for Record of Performance. And the regularity with which heifers qualify show the breeding really counts. Now that the quantity of milk has been increased, other traits, such as percentage of fat, conformation and size will be attended to, though the writer believes that one at a time is enough to satisfy the ambition of an good breeder.

With the present tendency everywhere to buy milk according to fat content, the little French Canadian cow will come to her own. Of course, in localities where other breeds have been used for a long time, it would be better to continue the improvement with bulls out of the higher testing cows of the same breed, but in places where stock has been mixed or is mostly scrubby, it is sure that bulls of the French Canadian breed, known for its easy keeping qualities and the rich milk of its cows, will be a paying proposition. Such bulls are for sale at reasonable prices and may be had by applying to Gus, Langelier, Superintendent, Experimental Station, Cap Rouge, Quebec.

An absent-minded professor returned home from a lecture one night very, very late. His mind was filled with a very knotty problem. Reaching his room, he thought he heard someone under his bed. "Who is under there?" he asked.

"No one," replied the man concealed under the bed. The fellow was familiar with the professor's peculiarities.

"That's strange," muttered the professor. "I could have sworn I heard someone under there."
