Exhibition Getting Better.

Ye Editor attended the Exhibition on Friday and Saturday and feels that it is growing bigger and better every year. We spent Sunday and Labor Day with Mr. and Mrs. Kearney in Bolton. On Monday we had a delightful motor trip to the Forks of the Credit, Inglewood, Cheltenham and the summer resort of the Caledon Fishing Club. We were delighted with the beauties surrounding the club-house, as well as with the private park at the Credit Forks, owned by Mr. W. C. Mack, a wealthy Toronto man.

Good Concert Last Friday Night.

The Cameron children gave an entertainment Friday night in the Town Hall. As announced in last issue, they have pledged themselves to put in a $75 outfit in the hospital kitchen, and have decided to use their talents in giving concerts and turning over half of the proceeds of each to the hospital. We are told the concert was fairly well attended and proved quite a success. Rev. Mr. Cameron, father of the children, supplemented the program with an address. The children have been trained in their work by their mother, who deserves part credit for the excellence of the program. Mr. Rainford played the accompaniments and gave a couple of piano solos.

Quarantining For Corn-Borer.

Owing to the prevalence of the European Corn-Borer in certain parts of Ontario, the Department of Agriculture has placed certain counties under quarantine in an attempt to stop the spread of the pest through the indiscriminate shipping of corn from the infected areas. The districts quarantined, according to a departmental bulletin dated September 5, are: Clarke in the County of Durham, Anderdon, Colchester South, Colchester North, Gosfield North, Maidstone, Malden, Rochester, Sandwich East, Sandwich South, Sandwich West, Tilbury North and Tilbury West in the County of Essex; Colborne, Grey, Hullett, McKillop and Morris in the County of Huron; Bosanquet, Plympton and Sarnia in the County of Lambton; Brighton, in the County of Northumberland; Whitby East and Whitby West in the County of Ontario; Elma and Wallace in the County of Perth; Lamborough East and Lamborough West in the County of Wentworth; Scarborough and York in the County of York. This order is to effect immediately and be in force until further notice.

Soldiers' Memorial Under Way.

The soldiers' memorial is being erected and will be completed before next issue. It isn't well to judge of a half-finished job, but from present indications it will be quite a creditable memorial. The site is good and convenient to the business portion of the town.

Wilson—Harrison.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Roman Catholic Church at Hanover when Mrs. Mary Harrison became the bride of Gordon Richard Wilson, formerly of this place. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Egan. Our informant does not mention the date on which the marriage took place.

Had Leg Broken Playing Lacrosse.

Friends here of Billy Lavelle of St. Marys will learn with regret of the accident that befell him last Thursday at St. Marys in the St. Thomas-St. Marys contest. These two teams were engaged in the first game of their semi-final argument, and had been playing about two minutes when Billy had one of the bones of his leg fractured. As Billy is the captain and brains of the St. Marys team, the accident will no doubt handicap the St. Marys team for the balance of the season. In the game on Thursday, however, St. Marys won 19-2.

Won Game But Lost Round.

Durham's Bluebirds won the Labor Day lacrosse game here against the Hanover team, 6 to 3, but as they were unable to overcome the lead that Hanover brought with them, they lost the round, and lacrosse is done in Durham for the season of 1922. The game Labor Day, however, would not have availed the Bluebirds much even if they had won it, as they strengthened their line-up by the addition of some of the players who had signed up with the defunct No. 1 team. While the game is interesting, it is also a local satisfaction to know that the old town can still take Hanover's measure in lacrosse, even if they do have to use some of their "old-timers", whose "condition" on Monday was anything but good. Hanover's next battle will be against Orangeville, and while we wish them luck, the local gamblers will put their money on the team from Dufferin County.

A young man of the mountain district of North Carolina inherited a farm from his father. There were many difficulties about the title, so many as to dishearten the heir. "I am having so much trouble," he explained, "that I almost wish father had not died."

WORK ON ROCKY BRIDGE

MAY COMMENCE NEXT WEEK

We learn on fairly good authority that the work of building the new bridge at the Rocky will likely commence next week. As stated before in these columns the bridge will be approximately ten feet higher than the old one, will be much wider, and will have a carrying capacity of twenty tons.

Contrary to current rumor, we also learn that the main road from here to Owen Sound will not be blocked during the construction of the new bridge, with the possible exception of a couple of hours while the old structure is being torn down. Work has already commenced at building a temporary bridge, which will carry all ordinary traffic, but which, we are informed, is not intended to accommodate threshing outfits or other heavy loads. The public can therefore rest assured that they will be placed at the minimum inconvenience while the new bridge is under construction.

The work of grading north of the Rocky is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and with the completion of the harvest in this section the newly graded portion from north of town to the Rocky, which has been in a rather rough condition the greater part of the summer is being metaled and placed in first-class condition as rapidly as possible.

Next summer we understand the road between here and Mount Forest is to be constructed as well as a considerable portion of the highway between Mount Forest and Guelph. Besides the gang at the Rocky, there is also a big gang at work in the vicinity of Owen Sound, and next summer will see the City and the South Grey metropolis connected with the best roads in their careers.

DEATH OF MRS. HUGH MCFADYEN

After a lingering illness of five years' duration, Mrs. Hugh McFadyen passed away Tuesday night at the home of her son, Mr. John H. McFadyen, in town.

The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Margaret McKay, was born at Thurso, Caithnessshire, Scotland, on the 10th of May, 1833, and was, therefore, in her 89th year. When a girl of six years of age she came to Canada with her parents and after spending a time in the vicinity of Toronto they moved to the Township of Sydenham, where the subject of this sketch grew to womanhood and was married 63 years ago last February to the late Hugh McFadyen, who predeceased her by twenty-four years.

The union resulted in an issue of only one son, John H., with whom the mother remained to the time of her death, living on the homestead till eight or ten years ago, when they moved to town.

She was an exemplary character, a devoted and consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, a most affectionate wife and mother, a good neighbor, and esteemed and respected by all who knew her.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from the residence of her son here, where a short service will be held, after which the remains will be laid to rest in the Rocky Saugeen cemetery beside those of her mother, husband and brother.

The leading negroes of a Georgia town started a bank and invited persons of their race to become depositors. One day a darkey, with shoes run down at the heels, a gallus over one shoulder, and a cotton shirt, showed up at the cashier's window. "See rebe," he said, "I want mah ten dollars." "Who is yuh?" asked the cashier. "Mah name is Jim Johnson an' I wants dat ten dollars." "Yuh ain't got no money in dis yere bank," said the cashier, after looking over the books. "Yes, I has," insisted the visitor. "I put ten dollars in here six mont's er go." "Why, man, yuh sure is foolish. De intrist done et dat up long ago."

Daddy came home from the office early one evening, and mother had not returned from some friends whom she had been visiting for tea. Little four-year-old Gwennie ran up to her father's side. "Daddy," she cried, "I've been wanting to see you for a long time when mother's not near." "Why, my little girl?" asked the father. "Well, dad," answered Gwennie, "please don't tell mother, because she's an awful dear, but I don't think she knows much about bringing up children." "What makes you think that?" asked her father. "Well," replied Gwennie, "she makes me go to bed when I am wide awake and she makes me get up when I am awful sleepy."

SOUTH GREY FAIR NEXT WEEK SHOULD DRAW BIG CROWD

The South Grey Fair will be held here on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. For the past two years the weather has been unfavorable and the gate receipts amounted to little or nothing. In 1920 it will be remembered there was a heavy snow-fall and the attendance was entirely wiped out. Last year there was a constant downpour of rain and the results were similar. It was a financial failure on both occasions. Always hopeful for the future, the management hung on with the expectation of a turn in the tide and a return of better results.

This year the Fair is two weeks earlier, and at this date we are unable to say what the weather may be. We can only hope for favorable conditions, trust in a large patronage and a record-breaker in gate receipts. The optimism of the management, and their determination to carry on in the face of such reverses is deserving of a large measure of support.

Personally, we feel that a thousand-dollar gate is a fairly moderate objective and we hope to see the amount realized. The country fairs are uncertain, but if all work together the failures of the past will yield to united action.

The harvest is over and the farmers are rejoicing in one of the best crops they ever garnered in. After a summer's toil, every farmer, farmer's wife, farmer's son or farmer's daughter is entitled to a day of rest and recreation. At the Fair the visitors will meet with many they haven't met since their last attendance here. This alone is worth the cost.

Come out and see the exhibits; see your friends, enjoy the entertainment and last, but not least, help to lift the Society out of its financial difficulty. Let it never be forgotten that the Fair is yours. Help it along. Make the gate receipts a thousand dollars. Such has been done in smaller places and can be done here.

The concert at night, too, promises to be one of the best ever seen at a Fall Fair concert. The Henderson Killies of London have been engaged, and, besides furnishing an abundance of Highland dancing and music during the afternoon, the concert company in connection with this good attraction guarantee to furnish a first-class program.

RED CROSS WORKING HARD TO EQUIP MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The Red Cross Society never sleeps when it comes to raising funds for the new Memorial Hospital, and on Thursday next, the second day of the Fall Fair here, they will serve supper in the basement of the Methodist Church. The proceeds of this supper will go toward the purchase of a Bluebird electric washing machine for the new hospital. Donations towards the supper will be thankfully received, and, as in the past, it is expected there will be a big response to the ladies in their request for eatables for their big supper next Thursday night.

The work at the hospital is being pushed forward, and the equipment is being gradually obtained.

It is gratifying, also, to note the interest that is being taken by outsiders, former residents here, in the equipment of their old-home hospital. Among others, Mr. Frank Vickers of Renfrew has donated a large size Barnett refrigerator, and this week comes the good news from the T. Eaton Company, Toronto, that they are going to take over the equipping of the operating room.

With outsiders and former residents doing so handsomely, it is only fair that we in Durham should be expected to extend ourselves and leave no stone unturned for the success of our newest institution.
