The unveiling of a beautiful marble memorial tablet to the memory of the late Matthew K. Richardson, ex-M.P., and Mrs. Richardson, took place in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning in the presence of a large and deeply interested congregation. Rev. J. H. Oke, the pastor, conducted the impressive ceremony, and was assisted in the dedication and unveiling by Dr. E. K. Richardson, of Toronto, and Mr. George Mitchell of Flesherton. Together with a fine granite monument erected in the public cemetery, the tablet was placed in the church by the family of the departed, the surviving members being: Dr. E. K. Richardson, George B. Richardson, Miss Maud Richardson, Mrs. (Dr.) Albert Webster, Toronto, and Mrs. Frank Tate, Grand Valley. A daughter, wife of Hon. I. B. Lucas, died over a year and a half ago. The late Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were lifelong Methodists and staunch in their allegiance to the church. Mr. Richardson was one of the founders of the Methodist Church here and was for many years a very acceptable local preacher, Sunday school superintendent and till his death a valued member of the Quarterly Official Board. Together with the names of the departed, the tablet contains the following appropriate inscription: "They rest from their labours; and their works do follow them." With Dr. Richardson and wife, Miss Maud Richardson, Dr. and Mrs. Webster and daughters, and Hon. I. B. Lucas and sons attended the unveiling.

Mr. and Mrs. George White of the Toronto Line met with sore bereavement on Friday last when their son Fred, eleven years of age, was fatally injured. The boy, with a younger brother, was riding on a stone boat when the team took fright, and running away, he was thrown on his head, sustaining a bad fracture of the skull, crushed on both sides. Dr. Turnbull was called, but nothing could be done to save the boy's life, and without regaining consciousness, died five hours after the accident. The little brother escaped injury. A large turnout of sympathizing friends attended the funeral to Flesherton cemetery on Sunday. Rev. F. G. Fowler conducted the service at the house.

At the Methodist Church the pastor spoke in the morning on the rebuilding of the walls of Jerusalem and drew lessons from the destructive fire here last week. In the evening, Mrs. Mark Wilson of Durham assisted the choir and sang sweetly in a duet. Mr. G. W. Littlejohn gave a well rendered solo.

WIARTON MEN INJURED WHEN BALCONY FALLS DURING FIRE

Fire, about 6 o'clock Monday evening, completely gutted the Holmes residence at Wiarton, in which is located a private bakery. Mr. Holmes and family were absent and it is stated that there had been no fire in the bakeshop since Saturday, hence the origin of the blaze is a mystery. Fortunately, there was no wind, and the firemen, reaching the scene promptly, were able to prevent the fire from spreading to nearby residences.

Citizens rushed to the house when the alarm was given and found it necessary to break in, in an effort to save some of the furniture. While dropping some pieces of furniture from a balcony, John McAlister, local drayman, and John Cook, proprietor of the marble works, were precipitated about twelve feet to a concrete walk below when the balcony gave way. Mr. McAlister was uninjured, but Mr. Cook was quite seriously injured. At first it was thought that his injuries might prove fatal, but, although their extent has not been learned, it is expected he will recover. Loss to the residence and contents is estimated at upwards of $3,000.

WALKERTON HAS SUMMER CAMP NEAR TOWN ON SAUGEEN RIVER

"The Bend," Walkerton's little "Sunnyside," is becoming very popular with the townspeople and residents of the Walkerton neighborhood for holding family picnics, church picnics, etc., according to a dispatch from that town to the London Free Press. It is one of the prettiest spots along the Saugeen River and its natural beauty, with its magnificent elms and other shade trees, and beautiful green sward, make it an ideal park, although the citizens of the town were slow to realize it and take advantage of the natural playgrounds right in the corporation. But The Bend as a park is now coming into its own and is being developed.

On the river there is a stretch of "beach" with fairly smooth bottom, where the toddling youngster or the ten-year-old can find his depth and learn to swim in perfect safety, while a few yards down stream those who are expert in aquatics have all that they desire in the big expanse of deep water, with diving boards and other conveniences for water sports.

Being very convenient to town, and only two blocks from main street numerous picnics are being held at the Bend and during the hot weather scores of youngsters and grown-ups daily find relief from the heat bathing in the river. On one afternoon last week no less than 109 were counted in bathing, and besides these there were many other citizens enjoying the cool atmosphere under the shade trees.

The Walkerton Welfare Association, which is composed of public-spirited businessmen of the town, in co-operation with the Town Council, is doing much to bring the Bend into prominence and popularize it. Besides making it a public picnic grounds it has been set apart as a camping place for touring motorists and is already being made use of as such. On the recommendation of the Welfare Association the Town Council has had the town water piped to the park and taps installed, and has erected a small cook-house with stove, and toilet house, and have also placed several swings in the trees and added other conveniences which make the Bend a municipal picnic and play grounds second to none in any inland town in Western Ontario.

BRUCE DEER NOT ALARMED BY PRESENCE OF MAN

On Tuesday morning of this week a fine big buck, with antlers about a foot long, crossed the field about 40 rods from the home of Mat. Sutcliffe, clerk of Sullivan Township, and leisurely ambled down to the waters of the Sauble and off into the bush. The old buck seemed to realize it was the close season for deer and was no more alarmed over the presence of man than the animals were when they looked with indifference on the lonely form of Alexander Selkirk, who was for four years and four months in undisputed possession of the whole island of Juan Fernandez.
