

A BOOZY FUNERAL

License Inspector Pellow and High Constable Whitesides of Huron County recently dug up in a cemetery near Dunganan six cases of choice liquor which had been decorously buried as a corpse some days before.

KINCARDINE MAN ASSAULTED; FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN BARN

What happened Arthur Morton? He was porter at the Royal Hotel, where his wife is also employed. On Saturday morning D. W. Maines heard groaning in the hotel stables and went in. A traveller who had just come in was attracted by the same noises and the two investigated and found Morton lying on the floor near the ice room and apparently suffering great agony.

DUNNVILLE EDITOR GIVES VIEW ON "EXPRESSION" IN DANCING

"Bill" Fry, of the Dunnville Chronicle, is a real dancer. He gets off the following in his family magazine: "The Dance," says the dictionary, amongst other definitions, is "a form of self-expression."

Everybody can dance now. There aren't any steps to learn. There are no intricacies left. All you do is to get out on the floor and mooch around.

Look at the modern roomful of dancers, and what do you see? A crowd of people doing as they please. The beat of the music is the same for all. But the only thing they are all doing is breathing.

But what of the others? There is a couple expressing themselves as a pair of mud-turtles, yonder a couple of shirts flying on a clothes line on a windy day, and there a pair of fowls scratching in a barn yard, and you a team of brewery horses playing round and round the mulberry bush.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HER LIFE

This Fruit Medicine Always Gives Relief. I suffered terribly with Dyspepsia. I had it for years and all the medicines I took did not do me any good. After finishing a few boxes, I was entirely relieved of the Dyspepsia and my general health was restored; and I am writing to tell you that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives". Mlle. ROLL THE TABLE CLOTH IS LATEST WAY TO SAVE IT

In some of the domestic science schools the pupils are now taught to roll table cloths instead of folding them, since the folds in the linen are always the first places to show wear. The cloths are ironed flat and rolled while being ironed. Start to roll them as soon as half a yard is ironed and keep the roll directly in front, turning it as fast as the ironing is done. Thick brown paper may be used if you have no regular roll. One clever woman who procured several mailing tubes placed them end to end and covered them with fancy wallpaper, pasting it on securely. This makes a firm foundation for the roll.

WOMAN "STEPS ON GAS" AND BANDITS ARE FOILED

Quick thinking by Mrs. Manley Miner of Kingsville saved her of being robbed of a valuable diamond ring and other jewelry when two armed and masked highwaymen attempted to hold up a car driven by her husband near Old Castle. Mr. Miner, who is a son of Jack Miner, was ordered to stop and throw up his hands by one of the highwaymen, who had drawn his car across the road. Miner was about to comply with the demand when his wife "stepped on the gas" with the result that Miner was compelled to drive into the ditch and passed the other car. Before the driver of the hold-up car could turn, Miner had driven more than a mile. No attempt was made by the bandits to give chase.

Mr. Jones at a dinner party had been trying to say something nice to his hostess. "What a small appetite you have, Mr. Jones," she remarked. "To sit next to you, Mrs. Smith, would cause any man to lose his appetite." And then he wondered why he wasn't invited to the next affair.

Persons who are bothered by bores in trains and on boats are recommended to try the following method of squelching unsought conversation. A student travelling in England and wishing to make up for lost time by reading was very much annoyed by the man opposite who insisted on keeping the conversation afloat. He was determined to exhaust every possibility offered by the weather. "The grass is very green, isn't it?" inquired the would-be conversationalist cheerfully. "Yes," said the student, savagely, "change a change from the red and blue grass we have been having lately."

The oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who elected to stick to the farm, telling the joys of city life, in which he said: "Thursday we autoed out to the country club where we golfed till dark. Then we motored to the beach for the weekend. The brother on the farm wrote back: 'Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballled all the afternoon. Then we went to Ned's and pokered until morning. To-day we muled out to the cornfield and geehawed until sundown. Then we supered and then we piped for a while. After that we staired up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived.'

A colored preacher in Alabama had at one time served a short jail sentence and was fearful lest his congregation discover the fact, as in his later years he had been a model of rectitude. One Sunday, rising to begin his sermon, his heart sank to see a former cell-mate sitting in the front row. Quick thinking was necessary. Fixing his eye on the unwelcome guest, the preacher announced solemnly: "Ah takes mah 'tex' dis mawnin' from de sixty-fifth chaptah an' fo' hundredth verse of de book of Job, which says: 'Dem as sees an' knows me, an' says later, dem will Ah see later'."

The average serious book is just a good paragraph idea expressed in two hundred thousand words.
