

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From The Chronicle File of October 2, 1902.

Mr. H. H. Miller says: "I sold the Ries farm as I have many others, through newspaper advertising."

Mrs. McArthur returned to Cleveland after visiting in this vicinity since the 14th of August, when her mother, Mrs. William Henderson, of Glascott, was injured in a runaway, from which she died next day.

The stock, implements and furniture of Joseph Corbett will be sold at auction on the 14th inst. Hugh MacKay will wield the hammer.

We regret to learn of the death of Miss Burgess, daughter of Inspector Burgess of Owen Sound.

A sad death occurred in Glenelg, near Bunnass, on Friday last. Mr. Archie McNab, a man about 45 years of age, went for the cows in the morning, but failing to return, a search was made and towards evening he was found in a swamp nearly dead, having lain there, it is thought, for several hours. It is thought he took a paralytic stroke or an epileptic fit.

Mr. M. Richardson writes us from Vancouver regretting his inability to be present at the South Grey Fair.

The trestle work at the cement mill is being rapidly constructed.

On Wednesday evening of last week Mr. H. C. McKechnie and Mrs. Gorsline were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ryan.

Miss Amy Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, passed away on Friday afternoon last, and interment was made in Durham cemetery on Sunday.

Editor and Mrs. Ramage attended the marriage of the latter's brother, Mr. William Coleridge, at Yeovil, on Wednesday last.

September 24, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ector was again the scene of a happy event when their daughter Millie, was united in marriage to Mr. Isaac Petch of Rossland, B.C. Rev. Mr. Farquharson officiated in the presence of forty or fifty invited guests. They left Tuesday for Rossland, but will visit a few days at Portage La Prairie, Manitoba.

Mr. Robert McGowan has leased the People's Mills and is retiring from business.

On Wednesday, September 17, a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of J. F. Durant of Egremont when his daughter Alice was united in marriage to Mr. George Kirkness of Arthur township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Truax of Holstein in the presence of immediate relatives to the number of about forty.

Born.—At Glenroadin, September 25, to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Boyd, a son. Married.—Near Yeovil, Wednesday October 1, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. J. Truax, Miss Jessie Reid of Egremont to Mr. William Coleridge of Owen Sound.

Market Report.—Wheat 72c., Oats 42, Peas 73, Barley 55, Hay $5.00 to $6.00, Butter 15c., Eggs 13, Flour per cwt. $1.85 to $2.20, Dressed Hogs $8., Hides 5c., Turkeys 8 to 9, Beef 6 to 7, Lamb 8 to 10, Ducks per pair 30 to 50c., Geese per lb 5c., Live Hogs $6.75 to $7.00.

October 9, 1902. The carpenters are putting the roof on the new Baptist Church.

A revival service is in progress at the Methodist Church under the management of the Monkman Bros. P. D. McEwen, formerly of Varney, but now of Rouleau, Sask., had the misfortune to have one of his arms broken and will be laid up for some time.

On Friday last Keith Newton luckily escaped with a sprained ankle when dumped out of the buggy in a runaway. The horse started at the top of the hill and after throwing Keith out at the skating rink continued around the block by way of Hutton Hill. The broken rig was left on the road. The horse was not seriously injured.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. W. H. Whitechurch of Toronto is spending a couple of weeks with friends. It is five years since she left for Toronto and this is her first trip back.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, their son Charles, and daughter Tressa, motored over from Rocklyn Sunday and spent a few hours with us around The Chronicle office. Mr. Miller is Reeve of Euphrasia and a brother-in-law of Ye Editor.

Mr. J. L. Flarity of Owen Sound, a tailor here some ten or twelve years ago, was in town Tuesday night and gave us a brief call yesterday morning. He has a lucrative merchant tailoring business in Owen Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henderson, the latter's mother, Mrs. Drummond, and their little daughter Betty, of Durham, spent Tuesday with old friends in town. "Tom" has built up a nice business since going to Durham four or five years ago and has an up-to-date bread baking plant.—Walkerton Telescope.

Miss Mary Turnbull, who is attending Guelph Collegiate Institute, motored recently to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull, in South Bentinck. She was accompanied by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Searle.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Johnston of Rocklyn spent a couple of hours with us on Saturday as they were returning from a motor trip to Pinkerton. Mr. Johnston is a cousin of Ye Editor.

Mrs. D. Stonehouse of Priceville is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. McCoskery, in town.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Lauder of Toronto spent a few days visiting his brothers, Messrs. Thomas and A. W. H. Lauder.

Mrs. G. McKechnie and Miss J. Weir motored to Pike Lake the first of the week and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCoskery and Mrs. Allan McKinnon were guests of Mrs. Malcolm McInnis, near Priceville, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLachlan and daughter Marie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Burgess were guests at the Ramsay home at Owen Sound the first of the week.

Mrs. S. F. McCombe went to Brantford on Friday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Idle of Thornbury visited the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. Adam Robertson, here. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Park and son Harry.

The C. P. R. this year has representatives at every Fall Fair in the country. Those who represented the company at the South Grey Fair here were H. Ross, Bridge and Building Master, and Roadmaster Guthrie. These two officials make their rounds in a company motor car.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorthouse and daughter Sylvia motored from Weiland on Sunday last to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Holmes. They returned Friday.

Mr. Cameron McIntosh, editor and proprietor of the North Battleford News, is spending a couple of weeks with friends and relatives in Dornoch and vicinity. We were pleased to have a call from him yesterday. Before returning West he intends to visit in Perth and other places where he taught before entering newspaper work.

Mrs. W. H. Bean and daughter Elizabeth of Fordwich were in town Sunday and enjoyed their brief visit in renewing former acquaintances. Postmaster Smith paid a flying visit to the Flesheron Fair on Friday afternoon.

neat $100. Mr. Grant McComb has secured a situation in Toronto for the winter. A little daughter arrived lately at the home of Nat. Whitmore.—Bunnassan cor.

TOWN COUNCIL MET MONDAY

The Town Council met Monday evening. The reading of the minutes, and the passing of a batch of accounts amounting to $541.04, was the preliminary duty.

Rev. F. G. Hardy appeared before the Council requesting that they give their official approval to a service of community thanksgiving to be held in Trinity Church on Friday night of next week, the 13th inst. Rev. Mr. Hardy said he had already made arrangements for Archdeacon Fotheringham of Brantford to be here and thought that after the bountiful harvest and good conditions generally obtaining in this vicinity, it would be only right to show our thanks in a community service of thanksgiving.

The Council thought so, too, and passed a motion that they attend in a body at the Anglican Church.

A deputation of ladies from the I.O. D.E. also waited on the Council asking them to consider the submitting of a bylaw to build a new Town Hall and pledging themselves to help. The Council were very attentive and after the ladies got through expressed the opinion that now was not an opportune time to bring this matter up, in the dying hours of an expiring Council, as it were. They were sympathetic with the idea, and recognized the necessity for something better than we have at present. They recommended the I.O.D.E. to make a canvass of the town and ascertain the feeling of the property-owners. If they were favorable, the Council would lose no time in getting down to work on a by-law.

Mayor Allan read a letter from J. A. Ellis, Ontario Fuel Controller relating to the supply of coal for this winter and suggesting the appointment of a local controller. Reeve Calder opposed this, however, stating that if the town appointed a controller, it might work a hardship on some of the townfolk. With a controller on the job, he said, everybody would have to have their money on hand when the coal was delivered. He thought the local dealers could be trusted to keep the price down, and cited the fact that Durham has always been noted for its cheap coal. The matter was left as it was.

A bill for issuing summonses, warrants and swearing in constables and inspectors was laid on the table by the Reeve, who stated that Mr. Laidlaw had entered suit for the amount, $8.30. Although requested to give some information on the subject, Mr. Laidlaw had not done so, and some of the items were disputed. The Reeve could not see how Durham's Police Magistrate expected to collect $1.00 for taking an affidavit, when there were any number of magistrates in town who would take them for nothing. Anyway, the swearing in of the constables and inspectors was none of the town's business. They could be sworn in by the Town Clerk, but if they preferred to go to the Police Magistrate the town should not be expected to pay for them. Some objection was taken to a couple of summonses, or warrants (the Council or constables present did not know which class to place them in) that had been charged for. They had been originally summonses, but some part had been erased and some other part added that made them look like warrants. They had originally been issued for offenders who had skipped town and had never been served. It was claimed that as the summonses had never been served the warrants were superfluous. Anyway, said Constable McLean, I would hate like the mischief to arrest anyone on one of those things. Mayor Allan was finally given the authority to hie himself into the presence of his Magistrateship and see what could be done about the matter.

The next subject up for discussion might be termed "the light that failed." It is astonishing what a lot of gas can be effused over such an insignificant article as an electric light bulb. It seems that some of the residents in the south of the town requested that a street-light be placed in the block south of McKay's corner to keep the people from getting lost in the mud this fall. As chairman of the Fire and Light Committee Mr. Catton was to make a report on the situation. He did. He recommended that a light be placed there. Pulling on their armor, the Council went into the battle, both sides with colors flying. Councillors McQueen and Catton made the motion that the light be installed. Reeve Calder wanted to know what it was to cost. Mr. Catton did not know, but said it would not cost very much, and no matter what they cost the people in town were entitled to adequate lighting facilities. The Reeve said that if they started this kind of thing they would want these things all over town. Mr. Catton claimed that even if they did they were entitled to it. The ratepayers paid their share of lighting the main part of the town, and were entitled to at least some consideration. Councillor Saunders said that if they weren't using the hydro in their houses they weren't entitled to lights on the streets. Mr. Catton thought differently. Reeve Calder said he would vote for it if he thought the installation would not cost over $150, but until he was sure of this he would oppose it. Mr. Catton thought that if that were the case someone ought to move an amendment to the motion. An amendment by Smith and Macdonald to table the report carried. We were informed yesterday that the light will cost approximately $10.

The condition of the floor in the old Clerk's office on the side of the hill was next up. It was turned over to the property committee.

NEW PICTURE IS DUE WITH CHARLES JONES

Charles Jones is coming to the Veterans' Star Theatre to-morrow and Saturday nights, the 6th and 7th, in his latest William Fox photoplay, "Rough Shod," based on a story written by the well-known Charles Selzer. It's a Western, of course, for it is in this line of fiction that both Selzer and Jones excel—one with his pen, the other with his skill as an actor for the screen. This new Jones picture is said to be quite up to the best of Selzer's work—which is some praise indeed.

Helen Ferguson is the star's leading woman; but another feminine role of almost equal importance is enacted by Ruth Renick. Maurice Flynn, who has starred in Fox productions, has the "heavy" part.

A RETRACTION To Whom It May Concern: I hereby apologize for a remark I very thoughtlessly repeated reflecting on the good name of Mrs. Kearns. In so far as I know there is no truth in the remark and I am sorry and hereby make a full retraction.
