

The Finest Green Tea is undoubtedly "SALADA"

It is pure fresh and wholesome and the flavor is that of the true
green leaf.

(Our own correspondent.)

The spooking goblins will be out on Tuesday night.

Spenser Edwards and Reuben Paylor arrived home from Bradwell, Sask., on Saturday evening, having worked for Mr. James Marshall for the past two months. They report crops very good and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall very progressive citizens. Snow covered the ground from Cobalt to North Bay.

Mr. Thomas Nelson is seriously ill, being under Dr. D. B. Jamieson's care. Nurse Cross of Durham is in attendance.

Mr. W. J. Cook arrived home from Port Perry on Thursday last.

There's a strong feeling among the ratepayers of the township against any special increase in municipal expenses this year. Taxes amount to a heavy rental already, without any further indebtedness.

After a brief illness of less than two weeks, Mr. James Brodie of Townsend's Lake passed away on Monday, October 23, at the General and Marine Hospital, Owen Sound, where he had gone for treatment. The deceased was born in Esquimaux Township 79 years ago and was wedded to Miss Maggie Mason in March, 1873, and purposed celebrating their golden wedding next March. After marriage they lived for a number of years at Yeovil, but in 1891 bought the Carter farm of 150 acres and added 200 acres more since then. Mr. Brodie was a skillful mechanic, having erected some of the finest barns in the township. He was a most progressive farmer and a man widely read. Besides his aged partner he is survived by a family of five sons and three daughters, namely: William, in Saskatoon; Thomas J., near the homestead; Robert, at Gainsborough, Sask.; Daniel and Archie, on the home farms; Mrs. T. E. Benner, Aylmer; Mrs. William McNally, Terence, Man.; and Mrs. Walter Tebutt, near Markdale. The funeral took place from his late residence to Markdale cemetery on Friday afternoon and was very largely attended.

Mr. James Dunbar and sons are busy putting cement stabling in their new barn at present.

Mrs. A. G. Blair has been in Markdale for more than a week assisting in nursing her mother, Mrs. Charles Reed, who is seriously ill.

Our new house is getting more homelike. Mr. McDonald last week got all the windows in. The Ritchie Bros. weren't long putting on the first two coats of plaster and now it awaits the putty coat. Some days ago Mr. J. H. Harding's hustlers strung the lightning rod wire.

A goodly number have been shipping their sweet clover of late to Mr. Oliver Hunter of Durham.

Some of our farmers have nearly all of their ploughing done, while we know some other fellows who haven't a furrow turned yet.

Word came to kindred in this neighborhood last week that Mr. and Mrs. John Whittaker of Flint, New Ontario, had lost their home and all its contents by fire, saving nothing but the clothes they were wearing. They had no insurance.

A very happy wedding took place at Goderich on Wednesday of last week when Mr. James Morrison, Jr., of the 8th Concession, wedded Miss Marie Sullivan, a most successful teacher, who has taught in Sep. S.S. No. 5 for the past two years. Mr. Will Sweeney acted the part of best man. We have no particulars of the pleasing event, but from every indication of the past we predict a very promising future for this bright young couple. Jim is a neat, tidy, successful farmer and he and his fair bride begin the new life under brightest prospects.

Zion Trustee Board met on Friday evening of last week and arranged for the purchase of materials for a new fence around the greater part of the cemetery. A bee to erect the same will be held in the near future.

Mrs. Magwood and children were guests last week of her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Pearl.

We had the rare pleasure of a call from Mr. and Mrs. Angus McKelvie of New Liskeard and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramage and son Peter, on Sunday evening. Angus was one of the "Model" class of 1885 and was one of the most genial boys of the bunch. 'Tis nigh thirty years since we met last and during that time Dame Fortune has smiled on him, but hasn't spoiled him one iota. He still remains the buoyant, likable, progressive boy of bygone days.

THE LITTLE FRENCH PIG

(By Arthur Arnold.)

One night, it is said, the good Fairy Hed

Came down on a moonbeam blue,

And the animals all planned a fancy ball

To show what they could do.

It was very clear they were full of cheer

As they gathered beneath a tree,

Save a little French pig who was not very big

And could only say, "Wee! Wee!"

They yipped and vied as they each one tried

With utmost efforts to please,

But the strange little pig just munched a twig

In a corner, ill at ease.

Then the fairy cried as she tripped inside,

"Will anyone dance with me?"

And they all of them shied, for they'd never tried;

But the little pig cheeped, "Wee! Wee!"

So the Fairy Hed seized the pig instead.

The pig was stiff with fright,

But he'd learned to dance at his home in France,

So he danced with all his might.

And to this day the animals say

'Twas a wonderful sight to see

That little French pig who munched a twig

And the fairy beneath the tree—

That little French pig who was not very big

And could only say, "Wee! Wee!"

SWAMPY COLLEGE

The threshing in our neighborhood is completed for another season.

Misses Velma and Viola Richardson visited recently with their uncle, Mr. James McLean.

Congratulations to Mr. Arthur Broughton and bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn McLean and son Hilliard, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tupling and daughter, Isabel, of Honeywood, visited recently at Mr. George Wright's.

A large number attended League last Tuesday evening. Miss Mae Coulter read the lesson, Rev. Albert Bushell took the topic, "The Books of the Bible." A number of delegates were appointed to attend the convention of the Epworth League in Owen Sound this week.

Rev. Albert Bushell, Salem pastor, preached a very impressive sermon last Sunday evening from the 25th chapter of St. Matthew.

Miss Elsie M. Cook spent the weekend with Miss Hemphill at Ceylon.

A large number attended the beefing meeting, which was held at Mr. Wilfrid Black's last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Broughton of Ravenna visited recently with the former's brother, Mr. Walter Broughton.

PROTON STATION

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Badgerow visited with friends at Maxwell.

Mr. Jack Hanley, Laurel, spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. A. Sherson.

Messrs. Joseph and Thomas Campbell, Holstein, were guests at the home of Mr. Sam Batchelor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hergott and family, Messrs. Charles Lyons and James Neilson, visited recently with the latter's daughter at Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Gamble have moved to Mr. Consley's house next his own dwelling.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burton with their son Tommie, holidayed at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Wyville.

Mrs. Moody, Dundalk, is the guest of her mother-in-law in the village. Messrs. Gordon and Lloyd Wauchope visited recently with friends at Ceylon.

The Trail Rangers' Class, under the direction of Mr. Fowler enjoyed a taffy pull on Friday evening last.

Mr. W. Maxwell visited at the home of Mr. C. Lyons.

SWINTON PARK

This has been a wonderful season as very few days have been unfit for outside work. The threshing is wound up.

John Plester's are getting over their sickness nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Plester and three children all had diphtheria.

A number from here attended the anniversary services at Dromore on Sunday and some were disappointed on Monday evening owing to the inclemency of the weather.

Swinton Park congregation have decided to hold anniversary services on December 3 and 4, this being the date of the opening of the new church in 1911.

Hotel Register.

A woman travelling alone registering at a hotel uses the title "Mrs." or "Miss" before her name. To sign oneself "Sally Smith" or "Dollie Jones" is undignified and incorrect.

LOST IN THE CROWD

Wherein The Editor expresses his admiration for those who show signs of knowing where they're going while they're on their way.

There be folks whose minds are engaged in planning the future for their young ones. They are choosing careers for them and they are anxious to discover the trend of the children's minds—whether this one should be a carpenter, an engineer, a lawyer or a chicken farmer. This is not the important thing. The first thing that should be done is to find out if the young one is at home in a crowd.

There be vast numbers of people in the world today who are lost in the crowd. There is nothing whatever the matter with them save that they are bewildered, confused. They have lost their sense of direction; in other words, they don't know where they are at. These are the people who ball things up. A pig always knows where he's going. He has it all figured out. Take a look at a pig going across a field or through the woods or along the highway and you cannot but be impressed by the confident and resolute air of the beast. He knows where he is at. And a bug. Locate a bug and if you would spend a delightful hour or two, follow him. He will fascinate you. Just a mere bug but he is thrilling. You will soon be impressed by the tremendous fact that he knows where he is at. The majority of folks when they see a bug striding around seem to think he is doing it for his health, or because he don't know no better, or just because. There never was a greater mistake. That bug not only knows where he is at, but what he is at. He hath destination, a goal in view, and he is going to get there whether school keeps or not.

Is it not humiliating to think and know that we are surrounded by people who are not in the same class with Mister Bug? The swine had the advantage and were superior to the Prodigal Son because every one of them knew where he was at.

If I had a boy of my own I'd find out if the young one could go it alone. I know that these people are few, but they are the only absolutely necessary people on earth. The Blessed Nazarene went alone into the wilderness for forty days and forty nights. When you read His wonderful story and realize the crowd He travelled with you can't wonder that he wanted to get away back to the bush somewheres for a few weeks. Had I a boy of my own who could go it alone, I'd feel kind of sorry, too. The crowd would kill him in the long run. Men are gregarious animals and they have the herd instinct. If you dwell apart from them they don't like it. The great ones of earth, those of them who passed away in their beds, died of lonesomeness. There is a Latin word that means "I have forgotten it." I sometimes think that the cross on Calvary was a mere nothing. Otherwise our Saviour would have died of despair, heartbreak, and loneliness. I have often wondered how He tolerated some of that bunch.

There be people in every crowd who are simply wandering around looking for a place to sit down, to lie down, or a corner to die in. They never seem to be doing anything else. They are lost in the crowd, which is quite as terrifying as to be lost in the desert. But there be folk who are never at home but in a crowd. They won't work alone. They have got to have the Missus with them if no one else, or one of the children. One of them couldn't shingle a barn by himself in a lifetime. They are the happiest people in the long run, but the trouble is they must be in their own crowd or they are helpless.

You can travel with your crowd and yet be alone. Columbus was alone, although he was surrounded with a gang of alleged humans, Julius Caesar and Elizabeth Cromwell and Lincoln were alone.

Find out if your boy can go it alone, would rather go it alone. Then get busy, for you have a tremendous thing on your hands. Is there a great and splendid undertaking anywhere. When it is accomplished it can be said of some one man: Alone he did it!

NEW FACTORY FOR LISTOWEL

Listowel is to get a new furniture factory. The charter, with the necessary capital stock, has been applied for and the promoters are men of means and experience. They are: Noah Blackmore, John H. Blackmore, Hugh Hamilton, Thomas Burnett, all of Listowel, and Reuben A. Treleaven, a merchant, of Palmerston.

BEFORE BABY COMES

Watchful Care Necessary

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and should be taken by the expectant mother. It will assist her in keeping well and strong. This is very necessary, not only for her own comfort but for the future as well.

Read the experience of Mrs. Barton of New Brunswick, and please bear in mind that every letter published recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine and unspoliated. It is the expression of gratitude from women who have been helped.

Cumberland Bay, N. B.—"I was troubled with weak feelings, headache, all the time, a cough, fainting spells and pains in my back and side. I could not do a single bit of work and had to be helped out to the hammock where I lay in the fresh air from morning until night and I had to be carried up and down stairs. After other medicines had failed a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she said it was excellent for anyone in the family way. Before the first bottle was taken I could walk alone and as I kept on with it I got stronger, until I was able to do all my work. My baby is now six weeks old and is a big fat healthy fellow. I am sure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for me and I recommend it."—Mrs. MURRAY J. BARRON, R. R. No. 1, Cumberland Bay, N. B.

THE LAW AND THE LASH

For stealing $41.00 from a friend while under the influence of moonshine whiskey, George Laflamme of Kitchener was sentenced to not less than six months nor more than two years in the Ontario Reformatory, with ten lashes at the end of thirty days' imprisonment.

How's Business?

Advertising, backed up by the right spirit the right goods and the right service, can rescue a sinking business and will make a prosperous business more masterful in its own community.

When John Wannamaker, the Prince of Merchants, began business, he resolved to force matters. He was not content to WAIT to be found out—he DETERMINED TO BE found out. In short, he advertised. He threw on his business, small as it was, the light of publicity, and the public of Philadelphia entered the shop on which the light shone.

In this community the public is entering those shops on which the light of advertising is falling.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC

Be sure of this: those who are using our columns week after week do not give you poorer goods or service, or have higher prices.
