Americans In Canada.

Q.—How many Americans are there in Canada?

A.—It is estimated that there are approximately one million people in Canada who were born in the United States, or about 12 per cent. of the Dominion population. Most of these are to be found on farms in the Western Provinces. Nearly one hundred million acres of Western Canadian land has been settled by homesteading and citizens of the United States have accounted for 30 per cent. of such settlement, as against 20 per cent. on the part of British. In addition, United States citizens are each year the heaviest purchasers of privately held and improved lands and farms.

A.—A tablet on Glengarry House, put up by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, reads as follows:

"The home of Lieutenant-Colonel John MacDonell (Aberchelder) a gallant and distinguished officer in the Royal Highland Emigrants (84th Regiment), in the war of the American Revolution, 1775-84; a member for the County of Glengarry in the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada, 1792-95; first Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of that Province; Lieutenant-Colonel commanding the Second Battalion and Royal Canadian Volunteers, 1796-1802; Colonel commanding the Glengarry Militia, 1803-08; Lieutenant of the County of Glengarry, 1792-1808.

Priceville

(Our own correspondent.)

We are being favored with some very fine weather this last week, yet sickness seems to be very prevalent throughout the country.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. William Mather has contracted scarlet fever from her little family, all of whom have had this terrible sickness. We hope that they will soon be better and around again.

We hear that Baby Irwin has contracted scarlet fever also, but hope that she will soon be better.

Mr. Norman McIntyre is improving nicely after his severe illness. Mrs. Charles Ferguson, the sister of Mr. McIntyre, had a very close call when she fell to the barn floor from a considerable height. We are glad that the injuries were not as serious as at first expected.

Mr. John Shortreed had an accident while in the woods recently, when the limb of a tree struck him a severe blow on the head and temporarily deafened the left ear.

Mr. Neil Shortreed spent a few days here last week, and returned to Caledonia on Tuesday of this week, to his work with the Standard Bank. Major McGillivray is in the city for the past few days.

Miss Katherine McTaggart has gone to the city for the winter, after having been an employee of Karstedt Bros. for the past considerable time.

We see that Mr. F. J. Pinkerton has opened a skating rink on the mill-pond for those who would enjoy the sport. We hope he may have a good season and receive the patronage of all the lovers of the sport in this locality.

Mr. Joseph Chesney is home after a long period of work with the good roads at Varney and Shelburne.

Mr. H. B. McLean is scaler for logs for the season and expects a big yard this season.

Rev. Mr. Galbraith occupied the Presbyterian pulpit here last Sunday in a very able manner.

We are glad to see Mr. Archie McMillan, former resident of the South Line, Artemesia, back again visiting friends and relatives in the district.

Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., addressed a good house at Durham Road school last week, and was much appreciated.

Stothart & Fook shipped a couple of cars of cattle for early market this week.

Mr. Farquhar McKinnon is having his fine residence wired for electric lighting. Mr. Saunders of Durham is doing the work. Who is the next ratepayer to wire up?

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McLean, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDermid on the arrival of young daughters to the respective families.

We are glad to see Mrs. Archie McLean, Gravel Road, West, out again, after a very long illness.

We are sorry to hear of Mr. P. J. Gardner being ill with a very severe attack of neuralgia. Nurse McKinnon is in attendance.

Swinton Park

(Our own correspondent.)

Election day here was very quiet, and only a small vote was polled at this ward. The same Council and Reeve were elected as last year, and this speaks well for them as there is no one in this district. We likely will have representation from the South.

A very successful dance was held at Mr. R. J. McNulty's on Thursday evening. A good number enjoyed themselves dancing to the music of the McCannel-Wauchob orchestra.

Born.—To Mr. and Mrs. John Plester, on the 11th inst., a son.

Mr. A. Ferguson is engaged with Hardy Brothers cutting wood. They are supplying wood for three schools.

Mrs. H. Watson was on the sick list but, we are glad to say, is able to be around again.

Mr. Sterling White of Toronto is engaged with Mr. R. J. McNulty cutting wood for Mr. William Aldcorn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ferguson have returned home after spending a week visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Rita Bagnel of Owen Sound is visiting with the Misses Kinnell here.

Edge Hill.

(Our own correspondent.)

Mr. John A. McDonald visited over the week-end with his brother, Mr. D. McDonald, near Priceville.

Mr. Albert McNally has been a sufferer for some time from quinsy, but is now able to be around again.

Mr. Thomas Ritchie, collector of Ward 1 taxes, has returned his roll to the township Treasurer with every dollar collected. This is a creditable record, not only for the collector, but also for that portion of the township over which he collects the taxes.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Williams have returned home after an enjoyable visit with relatives in Toronto.

Miss Mary Moffat of Durham visited a couple of days with her cousin, Miss Glenny Firth.

Dorothy Ritchie and Archie Greenwood can prove that it is more profitable to keep sheep than dairy cattle, while Armonel Glencross and Christine Anderson think cows pay the best. This week Dan, Firth and Dan Ritchie will attempt to prove that weeds are a greater source of loss to the farmer than insects, while Lena Bell and Blanche McKechnie champion the insects.

Miss Hazel Beaton was the guest of Miss Ethel Anderson over the week-end.

Mrs. William Ritchie and daughters, Misses Lily and Kate, of Durham, spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ritchie.

A literary society has been organized at the school with Herb. Edge as President. The first meeting was held on Friday evening, dealing with the exodus of country young people to the city. ### Welbeck

(Our own correspondent.)

'Twas on the 26th of December. In the year nineteen twenty-three, The clansmen met together To see who would be the stalwart three.

E. R., he acted umpire, A. I. W. undid the wad, To see if all the big accounts Would stand the fiery prod.

But Santa Claus came toyless; Some thought of days of yore, When H. R.'s gifted countenance Did greet him at the door.

While Charlie smoked his shamrock, And Jimmy chewed the wad, The tiny seats did murmur From the ravishment of Bob.

While Bill, he hugged the plum tree, The North men they squat flat, For they know that by the proxy It was their time to bat.

And Jim, he was elected To fill the big man's place; But you must not riddle documents, Nor try pals to disgrace.

'Twas there the meeting ended, And Charlie swept the floor, And by the end of the calendar, We may try and squib once more.

FEEDING THE WEANING FOAL

Young Foals Properly Fed and Cared For Increase in Value and Well Repay the Extra Trouble.

According to N. D. MacKenzie, the superintendent of the Government Experimental Farm at Indian Head, Sask., the most important period of a horse's life is the time from weaning until the foal is a year old. The amount and quality of feed fed during this period will largely determine his future development. Many potential draught horses are so checked and stunted in growth from a lack of proper feed and care as colts that they never attain the size which would raise them from a low-priced, nondescript chunk into a high-priced, profitable draughter.

The first step is to get it feeding regularly on grain before weaning it from the mare. A mixture of oats and bran are the best feeds to use for this purpose. When the foal is feeding regularly it may be weaned without danger of a severe check in growth which will always occur if weaned without being taught to feed first. If two foals can be put together in a roomy, loose-box, they will fret less than if kept by themselves.

The best feeds to use are oats—preferably rolled-bran, a little linseed meal and good clean, well-cured alfalfa hay. The concentrates are readily procurable anywhere but the alfalfa will not be available over as wide a range. It is, however, more valuable than any other roughage and horse breeders would be well advised to make a special effort to grow enough of this feed for their foals and also the brood mares, if possible. Other good quality hays rank next to alfalfa in value as roughage and good results can also be obtained from them.

Feed should be given three times a day at as nearly as possible regular intervals and the foals should be watered before feeding. The foal is easily taught to drink before feeding and once the habit is formed no further trouble will be experienced. Salt should be available at all times. A small block of rock salt in the corner of the manger is the most satisfactory method of supplying it.

The amounts of feed necessary will vary with different animals. A foal will very seldom eat more than it can properly assimilate, differing in this point from older horses.

Regular exercise each day is just as important as plenty of good feed and should be regarded as part of the feeding operations for, without exercise, the feed would not be utilized properly.

Salesmanship.

The Boss.—Did you do as I told you and put up the sign outside, "Two Tires $50. One Tire Free?"

New Salesman.—Sure, and I've had pretty fair luck. I haven't sold any of the $25 ones yet, but I've managed to give all the free ones away.—American Legion Weekly.

Reasonably generous feeding will be amply repaid in the extra growth and development. Good, sound, thirteen-hundred-pound horses flood the market for low prices, while well-built, sound horses of seventeen hundred pounds or over are readily saleable in the same districts at from one hundred and eighty dollars upward in price.

Regular exercise each day is just as important as plenty of good feed and should be regarded as part of the feeding operations for, without exercise, the feed would not be utilized properly.
