Assessor C. Moore of Glenelg was through this vicinity last week placing his valuation upon the farm property. He is making a rise in the township assessment this year of about 40 per cent., which should enable the Clerk to strike lower rates and should make no difference in the amount of the taxes. Glenelg's assessment has been for years too low and Mr. Moore's action is to be commended.

this case as told in Friday's Owen beresting one, inasmuch as it was the first one of its kind which has been Crown authorities in a long time, and although the sentence imposed is a comparatively light one in view of the seriousness of the crime, all the circumstances in connection with the case were taken into con-at the trial, but the facts in the case as given to the court went to show that on the night of March 12, which was on a Wednesday, Rev. Lewis L.

West, the Methodist clergyman at Holstein drove his horse and cutter into the shed at the rear of his church, and after putting his horse away went into the house. As he drove in he noticed that there was another sleigh in the shed but did not pay much attention to it. but soon after he went into the house he outside and remembering that there had been a number of thefts of robes from cutters and sleighs during the winter months, decided to go out to his own cutter and bring in his own robes and whip. As he was about to leave the shed he heard some person call out to him and make some uncomprimentary remark, but went back into the house and thought no more about the matter. He was, however, greatly surprised a few days later, about March 18, to receive a letter signed by Thomas Mc-Nanney, and written from New Toronto, in which it was stated that the writer had seen the clergyman go out into the shed and take two robes out of the cutter and carry them away, suggesting to him they had been stolen, but telling him that he had no desire to cause him any trouble, but that if he sent the writer the sum of $50,00 he would not give the facts to the press, mentioning the name of Jack Canuck, a Tored several libellous remarks concerning the clergyman, and the latter lost no time in turning it over to
