SHEEP IMPROVEMENT

Present Trend of Progress in Sheep Breeding

Fewer Breeds and Better Breeding—The Down Breeds Becoming More Popular—Relative Standing for Prolificacy.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The world ever clamors for something new. It matters not in what sphere our lot is cast, the call for the production of new materials is always upon us and the man who does not progress loses the race. Perhaps many people still believe that there is room for new breeds of live stock and that Canadian breeders and investigators should be bending every effort to produce them. Perhaps new breeds could be produced to meet certain special conditions better than they are now met, but the writer believes that greater progress for the good of the live stock industry would surely follow a policy of fewer breeds with better breeding. For concentrated effort, for uniformity in output, for competition in world markets, for most profit to the farmer and greatest satisfaction to the consumer we already have too many breeds in some classes of stock. True, there is room for all the breeds, but because we have wide acreage and somewhat diversified conditions is no reason why those acres should be grazed over by, and be growing feed for, anything but the most suitable breeds from the viewpoint of both producer and market man. The day of keeping a breed because our "likes" so dictate should be gone forever, and the breed, whatever it is, should win its place only through its ability to produce, at a profit to the breeder, the highest grade product in demand by the consumer. In short, markets are exerting a greater influence than ever before in breeding work and there is no doubt that such influence must continue.

Fewer Breeds and Better Breeding. Keeping this in mind the progress being made in animal breeding is not so much toward the production of more breeds but rather toward early maturity and improved type in the breeds already in existence. If we had fewer breeds, indications are that certain breeds must gain the ascendancy, and these will be those which are bred to supply what the consumers want and at the same time pay the feeder highest returns for his effort. New breeds may come, as did the Corriedale sheep in New Zealand, to fill a special want, but better individuals and stronger strains in the best breeds we have is the goal of the present day breeder in Canada. New Zealand wanted a sheep that flocked easily. They wanted a bigger sheep than the Merino with a better grade of wool than the Lincoln, so they made a dual-purpose breed by crossing Lincoln rams on Merino ewes and practicing careful selection. The production of Persian lamb in Canada is another case where certain methods are followed to produce a special article. The writer has heard that a certain well-known professor in one of the leading United States Colleges is at present busy in the making of a tall-less breed of sheep to get around the trouble of docking; and by selection, it is said, progress is being made.

The Down Breeds Becoming More Popular. So far as sheep are concerned breeding work is pretty largely confined to selection in our recognized breeds with the idea of meeting the market. Now, that market demands the finer and medium grades of wool and the eighty-four pound lamb, and it would appear that so far as markets for mutton sheep are concerned the Down breeds may get the inside track. Fifty-six per cent. of a lamb carcass is leg and back. Thirty-six per cent is front, and 7 per cent is flank. We are after the biggest possible percentage of leg and back, which sell for just twice as much per pound as front quarter and eight times as much as flank. Progress is only made by keeping weight and type in mind.

So far as fleece is concerned the finer the quality the better. Experimental work in flushing ewes has proved very profitable in increasing prolificacy. Relative Standing for Prolificacy. From a study of 500 yearlings in each breed mentioned, the following conclusions are warranted: 1. The relative standing of the breeds of mutton sheep in Canada with regard to prolificacy is: Dorset Horn, 161.6% increase; Leicester, 154%; Hampshire, 149%; Suffolk, 148.2%; Lincoln, 144.8%; Shropshire, 143.6%; Southdown, 142.2%; Cheviot, 139.8%; Cotswold, 138.0%; Romney Marsh, 113.9%.

2. The average increase for all breeds of mutton sheep in Canada is 144.6%. 3. The average increase for all long wool breeds of mutton sheep in Canada is 138.5%. 4. The average increase for all Medium Wool breeds of mutton sheep in Canada is 148%.—Wade Toole, O. A. College, Guelph, Ont.

We are made for co-operation, like feet, like hands, like eyelids, like the rows of the upper and lower teeth. To act against one another then is contrary to nature, and it is acting against one another to be vexed and to turn away. The boys are certainly helping to bring about a better system of farming. A sow, a cow and some hens with a club boy on the job will get the desired result. I believe in going to the bottom of things and therefore in deep plowing and enough of it.—Henry Ward Beecher. Club work develops the manhood and womanhood of the coming generation.

Regular Cafeteria Pup.

An English resident in China having made a good dinner from a tasty but unrecognized dish, called his cook, Wun Hoo, and congratulated him on the meal. "I hope you didn't kill one of those dogs to provide the soup?" jestingly remarked the daughter, referring, of course, to the pariahs which haunt Chinese streets. Wun Hoo made a solemn gesture of dissent. "No killee dawg, missie," he explained. "Him alleddy dead when I pickee up!"

Changes in Amusement Tax Law

A number of important changes have been made in the provincial amusement tax regulations, designed to increase the revenue from this source. Every patron entering any place of amusement upon a pass must pay the maximum rate of tax levied by the place. If admission tickets are sold by the book or strip for a number of performances at a reduced rate, the income tax payable on each ticket is to be the amount payable upon single tickets without the discount. No price of admission shall be advertised as including the amusement tax and no ticket shall be sold at a price including the amusement tax, unless such tickets have been purchased from the amusement tax branch. Tax tickets sold for use in a certain amusement can be used there only and cannot be loaned, sold or transferred for use anywhere else. If for any reason tax tickets cannot be sold, the tax must be collected in cash and remitted to the department. If owners fail to sell tickets or keep count of attendance they must remit ten per cent. of their gross admission receipts. All owners of theatres, etc., leasing their places for one night or more to other parties must provide the lessees with proper amusement tickets. There are other minor amendments also.

A New One From Lucknow

Another Scotch story comes from the renowned Scotch town of Lucknow, Ontario. An elm tree, a land mark that grew on the roadside a mile or so from Lucknow, was cut down and delivered at a mill to be sawed up. In a crevice near the ground and completely covered by the tree was found a quart bottle three-parts full of Scotch whiskey. The tree must have concealed its secret that it was an imbibor of the whiskey bottle and all for a third of a century or more.

Explained.

A sightseer noticed an aged rustic sitting before his cottage, and inquired: "Have you always lived here?" The peasant was still looking blank when his wife appeared in the cottage door and came to his help. "He means, Silas, did you live here before you was born, or was you born after you moved here?"

Correct, Next!

The teacher was examining her class in what she considered the rudiments of history. "William," she exclaimed, "tell me where Elizabeth was crowned queen." "On the head, ma'am."

Our guess is that vulcanizing was discovered by studying a movie kiss.

WOMANSUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down nervous condition, always tired from the time I got up until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My sister recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it, but it was from my sister's advice that I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger, headaches left me and my appetite came back to me. I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women."—Mrs. LOUIS F. ELSASSER, Hillcrest Farm, Webbwood, Ont.

Another Nervous Woman Finds Relief

Port Huron, Michigan.—"I suffered for two years with pains in my side, and if I worked very much I was nervous and just as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was sleepy all the day and didn't feel like doing anything, and was so nervous I would bite my finger nails. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I soon felt fine."—Mrs. CHARLES BEELER, 501-14th St., Port Huron, Mich.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
