HENS AND EGG LAYING

A Melange About the Handling of Barnyard Poultry

How to Tell the Layers—Conditions Necessary for Production—High Egg-Yielding—Distribution of Eggs—More Poultry Points.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Can you tell which hens are laying without the use of trap nests? This is easy to determine if one will go to the trouble of handling each bird suspected of being a loafer. When a hen commences to lay, conditions in the organs concerned in reproduction are quite different from conditions observed during the period of idleness. When the ovary is dormant and no eggs are being produced the distance between the pelvic bones is small. The vent is dry, small, puckered, and, in yellow fleshed chickens, has a band of yellow pigment around the inside. When laying commences the pelvic bones become pliable and spread apart to permit the passage of the egg. The vent becomes large and moist and the ring of yellow pigment disappears. A visit to the poultry house on an early morning evening and a half hour later in going over the hens will be profitable.

Conditions Necessary for Production. The experience of the Ontario Agricultural College Poultry department has been that a hen will not lay if not in good condition. She should be healthy, free from any disease, and show plenty of vigor and activity. The first pullets to lay in the fall have been the early maturing ones. The pullets that have developed slowly in body and feather have been just as slow in starting to lay. The results of liberal feeding and general good care have always been reflected in the pullet flock and a full egg basket during the period of early winter high prices.

High Egg Production. The requirements for high egg production are clean, dry, comfortable houses, that are free from direct draughts over the birds, and that are well lighted. The feeding consists of a variety of grains, green feed, animal feed, grit and shell, which is clean, sweet and wholesome, and is given to the birds regularly, and in such quantities that they have all they want to eat before going to roost at night; that the supply of drinking material is clean and abundant; that the attendant is regular in his or her work, and is interested in the same; that the birds are bred from good laying ancestors, and that they are hatched at the proper season and well reared, and are free from disease.

Distribution of Eggs. A study of the distribution of the egg production is interesting and important from the point of the annual returns from the birds. Egg prices rise and fall with the seasons, and when producing eggs at a season of high prices the year when prices are high. Pullets are the chief source of egg supply. As stated previously, they require usually from six to seven months in which to mature. It is, therefore, possible to regulate their production in the fall months at least to some extent by regulating the time they will hatch in the spring.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

More Poultry Points. Crows are likely to steal the eggs from the late turkey nests if the nests are made at some distance from the buildings.

Be sure that the young growing chicks are well fed to protect them and that they are given liberal range where there is abundance of green feed and also animal feed in the form of insects, worms, etc.

It is poor economy to keep more cockerels than will be needed for next year's breeding operations. If they are sold as soon as they are of broiler or fryer size a loss will be stopped and the pullets will do better without them.

Cold, damp, poorly lighted and ventilated pen quarters favor the spread of such diseases as roup. Such contagious disease as these are difficult and sometimes impossible to control unless given attention in the early stages. Wherever preventive measures fail, separate sick birds from the flock as soon as there is evidence of disease and then obtain expert advice to effect a cure.

If the chickens must be confined on account of bad weather, provide a good straw litter to which their grain feed may be scattered. This will give them exercise and keep them interested and healthy. When chickens that have been accustomed to free range are closely confined this frequently checks their development for the time being unless they are made contented in their new quarters. Provide green feed for them also.

Indian Runner ducks seem to have gone out of fashion, which is a pity, as they are excellent layers, and stand at the head as table fowls. They are easily raised, do not make the disagreeable noises that other ducks do, and eat less than any other breed bred ducks. They thrive on coarse feed, and can be raised cheaply and safely, as a duck hatched usually means one raised to maturity.

When We Plant a Tree. What do we plant when we plant the tree? We plant the houses for you and me. We plant the rafters, the shingles, the floors. We plant the studding, the laths, the doors. The beams and shiding; all parts that be; We plant the house when we plant the tree.

A clean, disinfected stall is the surest preventive of joint ill in colts.

Problems of the Farm

Contributed by Grey County Department of Agriculture

Sale of Cull Hens in Oxford

Last July the farmers of Oxford County through their Agricultural representative, G. R. Green, and Mr. T. A. Benson, Poultry Promoter, Western Ontario, shipped 5655 cull hens from the flocks of that county to New York and Buffalo. All told there were 23,438 pounds of fowl landed at Woodstock. The following are the results:—

Number of culls shipped 5656 hens. Total weight when loaded 23438 pounds.

Total gain in transit 301 pounds, or the total weight when unloaded 23739 pounds.

The price ranged from fifteen to twenty-five cents per pound according to the quality of the birds disposed of. The total selling value was $5511.72. The expenses for feed, commission, duty, exchange, unloading, etc., was $1905.85 which left the sum of $3605.87 to be divided among the consignors.

Next week in Grey county there will be a large number of flocks culled. Quite a number of applicants will be trained for this work. Why not Grey county farmers try this scheme?

Cull hens are cutting down the profits of Grey county poultrymen. Why not cull and by keeping fewer hens get more eggs. This has been done. It can be again.

Sheep Dipping Tanks

During the last two weeks five permanent cement sheep dipping tanks were built in Grey county. Mr. W. J. Howard, Dominion Department of Agriculture, supervised the construction of all the necessary forms are supplied free of charge by the Sheep Division, Ottawa. These can be secured by writing to The Department of Agriculture, Markdale.

A tank requires five sacks of cement, one and a half yards of gravel and a few stones. The dipping platform which is preferably built of lumber requires one hundred feet. It is very inexpensive to build.

Every farmer asks the question "Does dipping sheep pay?" At centres where the work has been carried on for at least two years, sheep breeders claim they would not allow their sheep to go undipped if it cost twenty-five cents each. At another centre a farmer who dipped his sheep in 1922 after they were clipped. In 1923 he weighed his wool but unfortunately he did not dip that spring. In 1924 he again weighed his wool and found to his regret that each fleece was one and a half pounds less in weight. With wool ranging from 29 to 40 cents per pound it is an easy matter to calculate the loss sustained. No account has been taken of the improved health of the sheep and thriftiness of the lambs which would surpass the value of gain in wool. Needless to say this farmer will always dip in the future.

Hog Grading Results

During the week ending July 10, we find the following results. That out of a total of 1009 hogs only 546 or 54.2 per cent were select and 463 or 45.8 per cent were thick smooth. This is 38.6 per cent which is too great a percentage. If farmers fully understood that the thick smooth hog is being produced entirely in the United States and that it is that country which they are competing against, a change would quickly be made. No Canadian farmer will ever produce pork as cheaply as the American farmers with their abundance of corn. Why not then at once by more skillful breeding and feeding produce Bacon Hog which is in demand in Britain.

LARGE QUANTITY OF MASH DISCOVERED IN CARRICK

(Hanover Post) Provincial Constables Pellow and Whitesides, of Wingham, raided the farm of Louis Martin, Carrick township, Friday and found two barrels of mash, alleged to have been for the purpose of manufacturing liquor, buried in the woodshed. The mash is said by the officers to have been in a high state of fermentation. There were about fifty gallons.

While officers were searching the house, Martin, who was working in a field, fled.

Some time ago Martin paid three hundred and forty-four dollars at Lucknow, following the seizure at his farm of a quantity of mash and liquor.

If a neutral might risk a suggestion, a fitting lady to nominate for Vice-President of the United States would be Helen Maria Dawes.—Toronto Telegram.

"FLAMING BARRIERS" SCENES FILMED ON HISTORIC LOCATION

Romantic Story Screened on Banks Stanislaus River in California.

Filmed in Sonora, Cal., one of the oldest and most historic of the California gold towns, George Melford's Paramount production "Flaming Barriers" which comes to the Star Theatre next Friday and Saturday nights of this week has for its background a country in which much of the western state's romantic story was developed.

When the Foreign Miners Tax Law of 1850, which forced foreigners to pay thirty dollars a month for the right of mining in California, was passed, the principal opposition to it was manifested by Mexicans located in and around Sonora.

Several of the scenes for "Flaming Barriers" were filmed on the banks of the Stanislaus river where, some seventy years ago, one hundred miners banded together to protect the rights of several Chinamen who had been driven off their claim by three gaunt, long-haired men from Arkansas.

"Flaming Barriers" retains a strong flavor of the old days of the west, although it is a modern story with a gripping, fast moving plot. The little town of Burbridge, where most of the action takes place, is a battle ground on which the things of yesterday and the things of to-day struggle for the mastery. The featured players who appear in this picture are Jacqueline Logan, Antonio Moreno and Walter Hiers.

Written for the screen by Byron Morgan, "Flaming Barriers" is packed with thrills. It is the story of an inventor, Patrick Malone, who mortgages his factory to get money to carry on his experiments on a fast motor fire-truck which he is perfecting. He and his daughter, Jerry Malone, are the only ones in Burbridge who believe in the fire-truck, with one exception—Joseph Pickens, the richest man in the community. Pickens holds the notes which are due against the factory. By their aid he hopes to get possession of the factory, the fire truck and Jerry herself. Under the pretext of helping Malone, he sends to the city for an efficiency expert to come down and superintend the factory. Sam Barton, rich and idle, is literally driven into the country by his father, who hopes that some work will make a man of him.

Pickens explains to Barton what is wanted, but unfortunately for the plan, Barton spoils everything by falling in love with Jerry and bends all his energies towards introducing the fire-truck to the state chiefs. Pickens fights him at every turn and the most thrilling commercial struggle ensues which has been seen in motion pictures for a long time. In the course of the action, the heroine dies across a burning forest in an aeroplane and drives the fire-truck through the forest with burning trees crashing behind her.

"Flaming Barriers" is said to be one of the strongest and most exciting pictures produced this season.

TEN DAYS' OLD BABY LEFT ON DOORSTEP

Lustily Crying Infant Wished on the Grey County Children's Shelter.

Crying lustily, a baby about ten days old, was found on the steps of the Owen Sound Children's Shelter at five minutes to ten Saturday night. Mrs. Miller, the matron, and her assistant, were sitting in the kitchen of the Shelter, when the plaintive cry of a young child was heard. They thought that it was a baby on the street but when inquiries became louder and more insistent they went out to investigate. The baby was lying in a small basket clothed in a long dress with the customary baby clothes, but the clothes were of poor quality, though clean. There was a bottle of milk of just the right temperature for the child in the basket with it, a fact that would seem to show that it had been there only a few minutes. Besides this there was a flat bottle which had contained whiskey, filled with warm water to keep the child comfortable if it should not be found immediately. The baby was taken into the house and the police called. A doctor was also called in as the baby seemed to have a sore mouth. As all the children at the Shelter were in bed and those in charge were in the back part of the house on one, as far as it is known, saw the child being brought to the door and so far the parents have not been traced. The police are investigating the matter.

You can get just the same feeling that a philanthropist enjoys if you fill a ragged boy with ice cream.

MRS. BUDGE SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

River Desert, Que.—"I used to have a severe pain in my side. I would be unable to walk fast and could not stand for any length of time to do my ironing or washing, but I would have to lie down to get relief from the pain. I had this for about two years, then a friend told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had had good results. I certainly got good results from it, too, as the last time I had a sore side was last May and I have not had it since. I am also glad of having good nursing for my baby, and I think it is your medicine that helped me in this way."—Mrs. L. V. BUDGE, River Desert, Quebec.

If you are suffering from the tortures of a displacement, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness, or a pain in the side, you should lose no time in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
