SUSTAINED SHOCK FROM

BLAST AT CRUSHER PLANT Mr. W. R. Watson, one of our local milkmen, was slightly under weather yesterday, the result a shock received when one of blasts went off at the crusher plant. Mr. Watson says he was down in the vicinity of the plant with his delows went off. He remembers the horse jumping, and of his getting out afterwards to fix the whiffletree, but the rest of the day was a complete blank.

He says he can't even remember that yesterday was the big day of the Durham National Exhibition, and that a member of his family had to be sent after him to bring him home. He is, however, feeling himself today, and is inclined to treat the matter as a joke on himself.
