her school at Toronto over the holiday.

At the annual meeting of the Literary Society of Flesherton High School held on November 6th, the following officers were elected: President, Albert Buchanan; Vice President, Kendall Boyd; 2nd Vice President, Malcolm McDonald; Secretary, Miss Viola Thistlethwaite; Treasurer, Miss Cora McFadden; Marshall, Jack Parks; Editor, Avada Wilson; Asst. Editor, Miss Emily Acheson; Pianist, Kendall Boyd.

The first literary meeting was held on Friday afternoon last when the following interesting program was rendered: Opening song, The Maple Leaf, followed by the Chairman's address and a sweetly rendered solo by Miss Avada Wilson. The boys of the First Form gave a play entitled, "King John and the Abbot of Canterbury," which was very interesting. A violin solo by Fred Large accompanied by Kendall Boyd was very pleasing. Perhaps the most interesting number on the program was two papers, one entitled "Astonisher," read by Miss Emily Acheson (girls' paper) and the other "The Corkscrew," (boys' paper) read by Kendall Boyd. Both caused much laughter. The program closed with the National Anthem.

wedding march was played by Miss Hazel Inkster, sister of the bride, and during the signing of the register, Miss Agnes Henderson of Flesherton sang. After the ceremony about thirty guests sat down to the wedding supper, those from a distance being the groom's mother and brother from Toronto. After spending two or three days with the bride's friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jones will motor to their home in Toronto, the bride travelling in a cocoa brown Faconne crepe dress with coat of brown marvella and hat and shoes to match.

The bride, who is a professional nurse, will be greatly missed here. She is one of Flesherton's most popular and highly esteemed young ladies, and her numerous friends here wish her a large measure of wedded bliss. The wedding gifts were beautiful and numerous.

DE FOREST-CROSLEY RADIOPHONES

Now Being Demonstrated Nightly at the Kress Furniture Store, Durham

SINCE their introduction late in September, this Company has been literally deluged with inquiries and orders from every section of Ontario. Four times in rapid succession the entire available stock has been exhausted, and now, with the radio season hardly started, we are oversold on several models. The secret of this phenomenal success lies in the remarkable values offered. From the one-tube model No. 50 at $22.00 to the supreme loop model D 12 at $250.00, every one is a genuine guaranteed long-distance ultra-audion receiver that gets results.

Seventy-seven Stations on a $22.00 Set

An unsolicited letter from the little Model No. 50, at $22.00 states that he got seventy-seven different stations in a few days, including Havana, Cuba, and Los Angeles. Owners of the Trirdyn write that they get results not equalled by sets at double the price. There is yet to be found one DeForest-Crosley owner who is dissatisfied or disappointed. Yet the prices for these sets are lower than any other. Truly the DeForest-Crosley Radiophone may be called

Model No. 50, one tube Ultra-Audion Receiver with which Leonard Weeks, of Minot, North Dakota, kept in almost daily touch with the MacMillan Expedition at the North Pole. Money can not buy better radio value. Price without equipment, $22

Model 3R3, Trirdyn, incorporating radio-frequency amplification, regeneration, reflex and additional audio-frequency amplification, will, with only three tubes, give performance equal to the customary four and five tube set. Will easily tune through local stations to bring in long distance stations on the loud speaker. $100

Model No. 51, which is the little wonder, two-tube, Ultra-Audion set that in just 24 days became the biggest selling radio receiver in the world. Represents wonderful radio value. Price without equipment, $28

Model No. 52, consists of Ultra-Audion Detector and two stages of audio frequency amplification. Gives loud speaker volume on distant stations under practically all conditions. Equals results of sets at twice the price. Price without equipment, $45
