A short program, con- sisting of mouth organ selections by Miss Mima Hargrave and John Col- linson, songs and recitations by school children and a couple of dia- logues, was very entertaining. A number of the old folks gave brief speeches. Mr. William Weir made an efficient chairman. At the close of the program, Santa Claus made his appearance and lightened the heavy tree. Lunch was served, and all went home happy. All who know Miss Mamie Haley will be delighted to know she is im- proving favorably. Dr. Bessie Mc- Gillivray is in attendance.

Swinton Park. (Our own Correspondent.)

Swinton Park Sunday School en- tertainment and Christmas tree was held in the Church on the 17th inst and was a decided success. A good programme was given by the Sunday School scholars consisting of songs, recitations and dialogues, singing and drills. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Sutherland, ably performed the duties of chairman. Much credit is due our teacher, Miss McHugh, and others who helped so willingly to make the affair such a grand suc- cess. On Friday night a box social and concert was held in No. 12 school, and a large number from here at- tended. They report a large crowd, good order and high-class talent. On the programme Swinton Park Or- chestra supported by an expert vi- olinist from Riverview supplied the music. Mr. F. Knox held a very successful shooting match Monday last and dis- posed of a number of geese and ducks. McMillan on Tues- day and report high prices paid. Mr. H. Watson shipped a sleigh load of fowl from here, and it was of very high quality. The roads around here are becom- ing blocked in some places, and an- other storm will tie up traffic for a while. As there is considerable work, we hope they will improve and allow the people to get out and vote if there happens to be an elec- tion, and elect a man for this divi- sion; also to abolish the old system of statute labor and have a system that will make roads passable in winter as well as summer and not leave all the road breaking for the mail man. The Chronicle, staff and readers have our best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Flesherton (Our own Correspondent.)

The home of Mrs. D. Williams here was the scene of a pleasant gathering of young people one even- ing last week when Mrs. Fred Engles (nee Alice McInyre), married re- cently, and now living at Irish Lake, was presented with half a dozen sil- ver egg cups by the Baptist Merry Maids Class and also with a neatly bound self-pronouncing Bible from the Church. The ladies served re- freshments, and an enjoyable even- ing was spent. We received the brief news we have received of the death in British Guiana of Mrs. Gies Sproule, school- mate in our childhood days, who had travelled far and wide since leaving Flesherton many years ago. Mr. Sproule was brought up here, and when a young man was in the em- ploy of the late Mr. M. K. Richard- son, general merchant. When he left here, the writer succeeded him in his position. The lady teachers of the High School staff have gone for the holi- days, Miss Stewart to Guelph and Miss Dunham and Miss Cameron to Toronto. Principal R. G. Holland of the public school was the recipient of a nice Christmas gift before closing of the school on Friday afternoon last when the pupils of the senior room pre- sented him with a very neat, gold- locked with a masonic emblem en- graved thereon. Needless to say, the token of esteem was appreciated. The visit of Santa Claus on Sat- urday afternoon last was an event of interest to young and old. He was attired in his usual travelling robes and attracted much attention as he paraded the streets and visited the business places, distributing gifts of candies, etc. to the children who were delighted to meet him and bid him welcome here again on Christmas eve. A very pleasant event was that which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stewart, West Backline, on Tuesday evening last week when about thirty-five neigh- bors and friends on the line assem- bled to do them honor before leaving the neighborhood where they were brought up and had spent their mar- ried life so far. Mr. and Mrs. Ste- wart, a very highly respected couple, were presented with a handsome couch accompanied by an appropri- ate address conveying the sincere good wishes of the community. Mr. Earl S. Best made the presenta- tion, and Mr. John T. Parkes read the address to which Mr. Stewart, fittingly replied. Dainty refresh- ments taken by the ladies were served, and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all. Mr. Stewart has rented his farm to Mr. Cephas Hin- dle and will move this week to his residence in this village. Mr. Charles McKechnie had a nar- row escape from serious injury a few days ago. While at work in the bush, the limb of a tree fell and struck him in the face knocking him over and injuring his knee in the fall. Fortunately he was not cut in the face, but was lamed in the knee which is improving. Mrs. J. A. Heard entertained her class of girls in the Methodist Sun- day School at an enjoyable party given at her home on Saturday after- noon last. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Quigg of Har- riston are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cros- sley and other relatives. The services at the churches on Sunday partook of the Christmas spirit in the sermons preached and music rendered. At the Methodist Church the pastor assisted the choir by giving two well rendered solos. At the Presbyterian Church, it was anniversary day in the Sunday School, and the pastor spoke special- ly to the young people. At the Bap- tist Church, one young lady received baptism. Mr. Ernest Russell, a young farmer near Rock Mills, underwent a cri- tical operation for ulcers of the stomach at his home on Saturday last. Drs. Mr. George Brockebury head me- chanic in the McFavish garage, met with a had accident on Monday fore- noon, when he got severely burned about the face, hands, arms and one leg by an explosion of gasoline in a pail which stood near the stove. A piece of iron falling into the liquid caused it to splash on the stove and ignite. Mr. W. Turney was burned some and had a narrow escape in rescuing the victim whose injuries were dressed by Dr. Turnbull. A fire extinguisher saved the shop though some of the woodwork was charred. Mr. Brockebury's friends deeply sym- pathize with him in his mis- fortune. Mr. John Pedlar is now the tenth citizen here to enjoy news from abroad and other entertainment by radio stations to his home. Merry Christmas to The Chronicle Editor and staff.

THE CARE OF THE INSANE AND THE MENTALLY DEFICIENT (By Dr. J. G. Shearer.)

The Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene has held its An- nual Meeting in Montreal and has decided to spend $30,000 a year for five years in research work in the field of mental hygiene. The research work will be undertaken with a view to bring about a more humane and scientific method of treatment of the insane, the epileptic and those unfortunate who from birth or an early stage of life are in a serious degree mentally defective. The Lady Byng of Vimy Fund has reached the $200,000 mark, and the Rockefeller Foundation has donated $75,000. The Committee hopes ultimately to raise half a million. To succeed the late Dr. C. K. Clarke, the Committee has appointed Dr. Clarence M. Hincks, Toronto, (formerly assistant medical direc- tor as medical director. Dr. Charles H. Martin, Montreal, is President. The Committee has already made Mental Hygiene surveys in most of the provinces and has drafted or outlined policies based on these sur- veys for the guidance of Provincial Governments in providing care of the mentally abnormal and subnor- mal. It plans, in the coming years, a special study of children in schools, institutions, courts, etc. The Social Service Council of Can- ada is the outstanding national ag- ency co-operating with the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. Through its personal leaders, its provincial and local branches, its church co-operation and support, and its press bureau reaching 4,000-600 readers twice a month, the Council has been doing its part in edu- cating and moulding public opinion, and in encouraging governments to provide adequately in education, treatment and institutional care for their mentally handicapped citizens. One of the chief obstacles to ade- quate action by governments is the cost of maintaining these temporary or permanent wards of society. Al- ready this obstacle is being overcome by successful experiments in utilizing their labor, alike for its thera- peutic and its economic value, and thus enormously reducing the cost of their care. Morons in New York and other states are in large numbers being cared for at one-fifth the cost in institutions by colonizing and parole methods. In New Jersey a colony of imbecile males promises to be wholly or very largely self-supporting. Much also is being accomplished by the special class for subnormals in the regular public schools. There are some hundreds of such classes in operation in Canada under spe- cially trained teachers. The removal of these problem children from among normal children in the schools is a very great advantage to the normal children and their teachers. Nova Scotia has recently provided for the care of her mentally defec- tive girls. Ontario is contemplating the establishment of a new indus- trial training school for higher grade subnormals to demonstrate what can be done toward making that class wholly or largely self-supporting and capable of living in normal so- ciety under supervision. But a large number of the mental- ly deficient can never be safely let- ted fend for themselves in the un- protected atmosphere of what a normal man calls liberty. Under such conditions, they will continue to be as at present a terrific economic cost to our nation and our chief source of crime, prostitution, vice, illegitimacy and venereal disease, working their terrible havoc to society and to coming generations. When a great menace is fully un- derstood, it can generally be brought under control. One of the most serious dangers of our mental deficien- cy problem is the prevailing igno- rance of it in Canada. When the people generally realize the facts, our governments will no longer hesi- tate to face their responsibility fearlessly and fully.

The monthly meeting of the Wom- en's Institute will be held at the home of Miss Annie Weir on Fri- day, January 2. A paper will be given by Mrs. J. H. Harding on "Our Table China." There will be an exhibit of "Something of my Grand- mother's." Mr. C. C. Middlebro' is expected to be present and give a talk on "What Women Ought to Know About Law." Roll Call, "New Year's Resolutions." More widows than widowers re- marry. All winners wish to play another game.

HOSPITAL PATIENT TALKED TO DEATH Relatives Kept Up Continuous Bat- tle of Words To Get Him To Alter His Will. "Talked to Death" has been the fate of a Lethbridge, Alberta, man according to the doctor's statement on a death certificate filed with Don- ald MacKie, provincial registrar and accepted by the provincial author- ities. When the certificate came first to the registrar, there was a laugh, and it was returned to the Lethbridge doctor for a proper "cause of death" to be inserted, but the doctor was adamant. "The man was literally talked to death," he wrote back. "And I refuse to alter my statement as to the contributory cause of death." Investigation revealed the fact that the man, some sixty years of age, had an operation performed on him in a Lethbridge hospital. Al- though seriously ill, the doctors aver he would have recovered if his rela- tives had not kept up a continuous battle of words with him in an effort to get him to alter his will. Authorities refuse to divulge the man's name, claiming it might in- volve the family in publicity where the law could do nothing.
